CAMP ROBERTS PARADE, CAMP ROBERTS, CALIFORNIA

Thursday, 10 July 1952

IT WAS A HAPPY DAY for everyone concerned as Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, Seventh Armored Division, received his well-earned second star elevating him from the rank of brigadier general to that of major general. Presentation of the coveted two star insignia was made by Mrs. Frank H. Partridge with the able assistance of Colonel Paul G. Hollister, Chief of Staff, before an assemblage which included the assistant chiefs of staff and other friends and associates of the general.

Two Stars Presented To General Partridge Following Senate Confirmation Of New Rank

Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General of Camp Roberts, received the two stars symbolizing his new rank at a brief but impressive ceremony Monday morning.

General Partridge, whose promotion from brigadier general to major general had earlier been recommended by President Harry S. Truman, was notified by wire Saturday that the Senate had confirmed the promotion.

Presentation of the two-star insignia was made by Mrs. Frank H. Partridge and Colonel Paul G. Hollister, Chief of Staff, before an assemblage which included the assistant chiefs of staff and other friends and associates of the general.

With characteristic modesty, General Partridge devoted the first part of the gathering to the presentation of a commendation ribbon with medal pendant to Lt. Jack Frost (see story on this page) for meritorious achievement in conducting the Attack Course demonstrations.

Colonel Hollister then stepped to the front of the gathering and announced the receipt of the telegram from Washington confirming General Partridge's new rank.

In the hush which followed, Mrs. Partridge and the Chief of Staff turned to the General and affixed the stars symbolizing his new rank to his collar.

A two star flag was then presented to General Partridge while in the wall behind him a panel was opened to reveal another two star flag.

General Partridge assumed command of the 7th Armored Division at Camp Roberts in November of 1950, shortly after the huge training center was re-activated.

Considered one of the Army's outstanding training centers, the camp has been inspected recently by General J. Lawton Collins, Chief of Staff; General Mark Clark, Supreme Allied Commander in the Far East; and Mr. Fred Korth, Assistant Secretary of the Army.

Most recent distinguished visitors at Camp Roberts were Mr. Ramon Magsaysay, Secretary of National Defense of the Republic of the Philippines, and Lieutenant General Joseph M. Swing, Commanding General, Sixth Army.

A native of Scranton, and a student of the University of Pennsylvania, Frank H. Partridge was appointed a second lieutenant of Infantry in the Regular Army on 15 August 1917. He has been on active duty since that date.

World War II's outbreak saw General Partridge a lieutenant colonel assigned to G-1 Division of the War Department.

ment General Staff. There followed in rapid succession promotion to colonel and appointment as Chief, Administrative Branch, Military Personnel Division, Headquarters, Services of Supply, Washington, D. C.

After serving as Commanding Officer, 355th Infantry Regiment, and Assistant Division Commander, 97th Infantry Division, General Partridge was promoted to the rank of Brigadier General, temporary. He moved with his division from Texas to Missouri and Louisiana and thence to Camp San Luis Obispo and Camp Cooke, California.

General Partridge and the 97th Division left for Europe in the early part of 1945 and, as part of the Third Army, participated in the final overthrow of Nazi military power.

After the war in Europe ended, the 97th went to Japan as part of the occupation force. General Partridge remained with the division until he was designated Military Government Officer of the First Corps in Japan in March of 1946.

General Partridge returned to the U. S. in July, 1947, reverted to the rank of colonel, and was assigned as Chief, Planning Office, Personnel and Administrative Division, Department of the Army.

Called west three years later, General Partridge came to the Presidio of San Francisco as Assistant Chief of Staff, G-1. In October of 1950, he was again made brigadier general, and, in the following month, came to Camp Roberts to take over command.

Lieutenant Frost Awarded Commendation

Recognition of the outstanding quality of the performance of his duties in conducting the Attack Course phase of training at Camp Roberts came to Lieutenant Jack T. Frost this week when he was awarded a commendation ribbon with medal pendant accompanied by a commendatory message from Mr. Frank Pace, Jr., Secretary of the Army, and Lieutenant General Joseph M. Swing, Commanding General, Sixth Army.

Lieutenant Frost, who will soon leave Camp Roberts for duty in Alaska, received his award Monday morning prior to the ceremonies signaling the promotion of General Frank H. Partridge to the rank of Major General.

The departing lieutenant planned the Attack Course demonstrations of attack by infantry-artillery-tank teams which have been presented before thousands of trainees.

Lieutenant Frost's citation follows:

"First Lieutenant Jack T. Frost, Infantry, United States Army, is awarded the commendation ribbon with medal pendant for meritorious achievement during the period 1 December 1951 to 30 June 1952 in the direction and supervision of the Attack Course phase of the battle indoctrination series at Camp Roberts for more than 12,000 infantry trainees.

"During this period, Lieutenant Frost performed an outstanding service in the demonstration and narration of firing of each of the infantry weapons, of tank capabilities, and of artillery firing over the heads of troops preceding and during an attack by infantrymen on a defended hill.

"The lesson plans, narration of the exercise, and training of the personnel charged with the conduct of the demonstration were prepared under the supervision of Lieutenant Frost with outstanding efficiency and dispatch.

"This assignment would normally be given only to an officer of more senior rank and experience. Despite this, he presented this program with such superior effectiveness that it has been established as a model for other instructors to follow.

"Lieutenant Frost's extreme devotion to duty and outstanding instructional methods are worthy of emulation by all persons engaged in similar duties. The accomplishment of Lieutenant Frost in this instance reflects great credit upon himself and the military service."

Summarizing Lieutenant Frost's accomplishments at Camp Roberts, Lieutenant Colonel Jack L. Weigand, Assistant Chief of Staff, G-3, stated:

"In our great team of instructors, we're not only losing one of our first string men, but a man who is definitely All-America caliber when Lieutenant Frost goes."

Permanent NSLI Holders Warned

If you have permanent plan National Service Life Insurance and, under Public Law 23, chose to waive the "pure insurance risk" portion of the premium, then you should have:

1. Filled out a waiver form.
2. Made no change in your Class N allotment.

The Services have uncovered evidence that men with permanent plan NSLI insurance have waived a portion of their premium but, through misinterpretation, also discontinued their Class N allotment. This would cause the policy to lapse and result in the loss of the cash value of the policy and require a large cash outlay for reinstatement and a physical examination.

If the Class N allotment is discontinued, the permanent policy will lapse when the cash surrender value of the policy, as automatically applied to extended NSLI term insurance, is dissipated. Then the serviceman has lost his NSLI coverage and goes under the gratuitous indemnity insurance.

If the Class N allotment is continued, the VA will reimburse the policy holder with interest each year for the money paid on the waiver portion. Plans are currently underway to outline all procedures whereby those affected will be able to reestablish their Class N allotments.

LT. JACK T. FROST was awarded the commendation ribbon with medal pendant for meritorious achievement during his tour of duty at Camp Roberts by Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, Seventh Armored Division. In addition he was also presented with a commendatory message from Mr. Frank Pace, Jr., Secretary of the Army, and Lieutenant General Joseph M. Swing, Commanding General, Sixth Army. Lt. Frost directed and supervised the Attack Course phase of the battle indoctrination series here for more than 12,000 infantry trainees. The brilliant young lieutenant performed an outstanding service in the demonstration and narration of the firing of each of the infantry weapons, of tank capabilities, and of artillery firing over the heads of troops preceding and during an attack by infantrymen on a defended hill. Present at the ceremonies were Lieutenant Colonel Carl J. Ernst, assistant chief of staff, G-1, (second from right), and Lieutenant Colonel Jack L. Weigand, assistant chief of staff, G-3, (Shannon Photo).

COST CONSCIOUSNESS—Visitors to the 34th Combat Engineer's cost consciousness display at East Garrison saw Corporal Silas Whatley, a cook, show off various kitchen items, including cook's clothing. The display was a reminder to troops that the cost consciousness program is still in effect and that soldiers are taxpayers now, just as they were in civilian life. The 34th Combat Engineers is commanded by Colonel Clement Van Buren Sawin, and the display was under the supervision of Captain Alexander Burnett. Other exhibits showed various types of military vehicles and signal equipment. (Signal Photo).

YOU'RE A TAXPAYER

East Garrison Troops Learn Cost Of Military Equipment

"Welcome Taxpayer." This sign atop East Garrison's Theater No. 4 greeted officers and enlisted men to the 34th Combat Group's cost conscious display recently. The 34th CE Group is commanded by Col. Clement Van Buren Sawin.

The display, under the supervision of Capt. Alexander Burnett, emphasized that troops are taxpayers, just as they were in civilian life.

A sign near the entrance to the theater, where the picture "The Late Company B," was playing, showed in dollars and cents what a GI pays in taxes for the equipment he uses.

Included in the display were kitchen equipment, tools, signal communications, jeeps and other types of military vehicles.

The display brought out the idea of taking care of equipment to insure its lasting the proper amount of time, as authorized by the Army.

Groups attending the display were the 412th Engineer Construction Battalion, 95th Engineer Combat Battalion, Headquarters Co., 34th Combat Engineer Group, and the 303rd Signal Battalion.

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

Freedom For A Purpose

By CHAPLAIN (CAPT.) BENJAMIN M. WEIR

Freedom is an important word in our American vocabulary. Our National Anthem sings of "the land of the free and the home of the brave." As school boys, we have remembered our political freedom every time we have repeated The Pledge to the Flag and said, "One nation, indivisible, with liberty and justice for all." Now that we are in the Army and have given something personal to our country, freedom seems all the more important to us.

Before our time men and women struggled and worked and some even died for liberty. Today many more are making sacrifices for our country. But we ought to stop and ask ourselves, "What is this freedom for?"

We are, first of all, to be a nation. As Abraham Lincoln put it, "A nation—under God—dedicated to justice." As a people we cannot afford to forget that we have a group responsibility before our Creator. Justice, mercy, fair play are more than mere words. They are to characterize our life and nation.

As Americans we are free also to be ourselves as persons. Our schools seek to develop individuals, not robots. Our political system accents the importance of the individual citizen. Our churches provide opportunity for worship according to the dictates of individual conscience. In many different ways we have opportunities to become the persons God has intended us to be.

Our freedom and our faith are inseparably linked together.

Road Readied To Trailer Park

The Post Trailer Park, located on the westside of Highway 101 near the Southern Pacific spur track, will be easy to reach from camp because of an access road now being built.

Without using the highway, personnel living in the park will have ready access to camp facilities, including the commissary, PX, and theaters. The road, three-quarters of a mile long, is surfaced with black top.

Best Army Team On Coast

By virtue of its record of 26 wins in 28 games, the Camp Roberts All Star baseball nine has earned the title of the best team on the Pacific Coast while tuning up for the opening division of the California Semi-Pro tournament which begins tomorrow at San Luis Obispo.

On the day of the All Stars picked up the series with Camp Roberts by dropping one to the San Luis Obispo and sandwiching in between a 2-1 win over hapless Camp Roberts.

Two other pitching duels highlighted the series with Camp San Luis Obispo, Bob Ross, ex-Washington Senator hurler, was stung with the base hits, giving up only three and receiving stellar backing from his team mates while posting a 2-0 win in the series opener.

Camp San Luis bested the All Stars Sunday as Bud Porter connected for four hits. Norm Wielansky gave up only five hits for the losers but was hampered by loose fielding which allowed five errors.

Jack Gruel tossed the 22-1 win played at Windbreak Field. The contest was shortened to six innings.

Gruel also picked up credit for a win in a series played with the San Luis Obispo Blues the previous weekend, winning 7-6. Holding a 3-1 lead going into the eighth, he faltered and allowed five runs to score before getting his third out. Ross relieved him in the ninth and struck out the side. Gruel permitted only four hits.

The Blues won the second game 2-1 in eleven innings. Norm Wielansky started on the mound for Camp Roberts and walked the first four batters, forcing in a run. After settling down, the husky righthander pitched airtight ball for the next ten

CCA Powerhouse Scores 11-5 Win Over 7th QM Nine

CCA maintained its tight hold on first place in the Inter-Regimental league baseball race last week by pounding out a 11-5 win over the 7th Quartermaster entry. Rudy Vargas in pitching the win gave up eight hits, walked two, and recorded five strikeouts. Loser John Tierney also gave up eight hits but allowed nine walks while striking out ten batters.

CCA got off to a good start scoring two runs in the first inning. Hits by Jack Holmquist and Al Mouton plus three walks and a fielder's choice allowed all the runs to cross home plate.

A walk to Gil Dickens followed by a double off the bat of Mouton chalked up a score in the second. In the third, the losers tallied three times with the big blow a home run by shortstop Les Bryant with two on base.

Leading the batting parade was 7th QM's Phillips who had a perfect day at the plate getting three hits in three trips.

Moulton personally accounted without the benefit of a single base hit as five walks were issued to the winners.

All of the loser's runs were scored in the first stanza with Mancuso and Wilson crossing the plate.

Bob Krasneski banged out a homer with the bases empty the second inning for DivTrains.

Again in the fourth inning the winners broke loose and rallied for four more runs. Tillett, Krasneski, Dale Stuckey, and Bill Kuni scored the tallies aided by two walks, Krasneski's double, a single, and an error.

Credit for the win was given to the starting hurler Jennings although he gave way to Stuckey later in the game.

New Records

Long Beach, Calif.—Two new American track records have been established by Service athletes.

T/Sgt. Mal. Whitfield, USAF, shaved 0.6 seconds off the record for the 660-yd. run by winning his specialty in 1:17.3. The old mark was set in 1941.

In the 480-yd. shuttle-hurdle relay, the Armed Forces team of Dick Attlesley (USN), Walt Ashbaugh (USA), Art Bernard (USN), and Billy Anderson (USA) set a mark of 0:37.9. The former record, made in 1940, was 0:38.6.

HOME RUN—Connecting with one of Bob Harrison's fireball pitches, Tony DeFelice, DivArty's catcher, romps home to be greeted by his happy teammates. Johnny Kozowski is the first to shake his hand as he crosses the plate making the score 3-1 in DivArty's favor in the top of the 6th. Unfortunately the homer failed to win the game as Reserve Command forged ahead in the ninth inning to win the tightly played ball game by a score of 6-5, strengthening their league standing.

Wielansky Stars In ResCom Game

A home run by Willie Wielansky with one on in the first half of the tenth inning, broke up a pitchers' duel and gave Reserve Command a 7-3 win over CCB in an Inter-Regimental league game played on Windbreak Field.

Tied up one to one at the end of the regulation seven innings, the game went into overtime and was again knotted up five all as each team broke loose with a four run rally in the ninth.

Wielansky's four bagger came after the first baseman, Jim Grevy had doubled with one away in the bottom of the tenth. CCB threatened in the last half of the same inning when two men got on by walks but the batters were unable to solve the offerings of Bob Harrison.

A triple by CCB's Tate in the first inning started the scoring.

A single by Verne Highfield pushed Tate across for the initial marker.

Danzer tied it up in the third for ResCom, walking and then scoring when the ball hit by Bill Bullock was mishandled in rightfield.

The two teams battled each other to a scoreless draw until the ninth. ResCom was able to touch the pitching of Mike Crossin for only two singles until the big ninth when they connected for five blows. On the other hand, CCB garnered four base knocks in the first eight stanzas.

To open the ninth, Bill Grevy singled, followed by Wielansky's single and Harrison's double. Danzer struck out but Bullock came through with a ringing double and streaked in with the fourth run of the inning when Ray Burtner connected with the horsehide for a hit.

CCB got its first two batters up in the ninth on errors. First sacker Burrows then lofted a tremendous three run homer. A double by Tate and a single by Highfield accounted for CCB's final run.

Winning pitcher Harrison allowed eight hits and the loser Crossin gave up ten.

Top batting honors went to Wielansky with his single and homer in two trips and to Grevy with a double and two singles.

Three singles in six attempts gave the top honors to Highfield for the losers.

WARMIN' THE BENCH

Baseball's rookie gold rush is on once more. In early June the Red Sox signed up four teenage high school players. For one autograph they paid $86,000. Another brought $125,000. White Sox general manager Frank Lane paid a Wisconsin collegian $55,000 to sign with the to hold onto their bonus players or ask waivers on them. Its weaknesses: 1) Under-the-table deals resulted; 2) Bonus players were forced into the majors before they were ready. Vecek and Greenberg think fantastic bonuses undermine the morale of experienced veteran players. Hank proposes a pool of bonus boys from which all the clubs can draw, or a trial period for the youngsters before they're eligible for bonus contracts. Vecek wants the high school rule (it prevents clubs from contacting schoolboys until they graduate) eliminated. The poorer clubs may then be able to beat the money-feeders to the eligibles, he thinks.

Most runs ever made by two big-league clubs was a nine inning game between the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies. The score, Cubs, 26; Phillies, 23.

The bonus rule obligated clubs

ing an injury to Talbot, who is the league's third top batter with a .312 average and also leads in runs scored and triples, would be disastrous to the entire team. Bernier leads the league in base thefts to prove his speed.

Another rivalry is being put aside this month, at least temporarily. It's the one between S'anford's Olympic decathlon champ Bob Mathias and Sim Innes, huge USC discus hurler. Team mates at Tulare high school, the two have conducted a small personal feud against each other in the weight events. Upon graduation they went their separate ways only to meet again on the track field and this time as even bigger rivals. Now both have qualified for the Olympic track team in their favorite events. After the Olympics, they will resume the rivalry this time on the gridiron. Mathias will be in his second year as Stanford's fullback and Innes will squeeze his six foot seven inch, 265 pound frame into a tackle slot for the Trojans. It should prove to be real interesting when the two clash as the teams meet in November.

Looking Around In ... SPORTS

By Sgt. Don Brown

Hats off to Bill Albens of the Los Angeles Athletic Club for one of the finest displays of sportsmanship seen in a long, long time. Sailing along in a secure third place with only one running event left in the Olympic Decathlon trials held last week, Albens voluntarily dropped out of the competition because he felt the wrist injury he suffered earlier during the pole vault event would prevent him from doing his best at Helsinki. Albens also received many thanks from Floyd Simmons who trailed him by a scant margin and moved ahead to qualify for the European trip.

The planned foot race between Hollywood leftfielder Carlos Bernier and Bobby Talbot, flyhanking centerfielder for the Angels, to decide the Pacific Coast league's speediest player has failed to materialize. Bernier refused to run anywhere but in the Star's Gilmore Field and the Angel management, realizing the box office plum, steadfastly maintained that it was their idea and it should be staged in Wrigley Field. Los Angeles finally nixed the entire deal realiz-

ResCom Wins In Ninth After 7th Inning Rally

Rallying for four runs in the bottom half of the seventh inning, Reserve Command tied up DivArty 5-5 and then tallied once in the ninth to win the extra inning contest 6-5.

The win strengthened ResCom's hold on second place in the Inter-Regimental league pennant race. In scoring the victory, they made the most of 11 hits off the slants of Bob Harrison who added the win to his season's record.

DivArty started fast, scoring three times in the initial inning. Singles by Alford, Eugene Grigiski and Patterson; plus a walk to Jackson did the damage.

Danzer led off the first inning for ResCom by walking but was put out on a relay from Grigiski to Ed Goodman at second who put the tag on him. Bill Bullock followed with a single and advanced when Ray Burtner drew a base on balls. A hit by Sandy Oster moved him around for the tally.

DivArty made it 4-1 by scoring one run each in the sixth and seventh innings. A home run by DeFelice accounted for the run in the sixth and an error on Goodman's ball followed by Boggan's hit pushed across one in the seventh.

The game was quickly knotted by ResCom during their turn at bat in the seventh. Burtner collected his second walk of the evening and advanced on a single by Bob Ogle who moved to second on a walk to Sandy Oster. Two runs came across when Dick Linek's fly was mishandled in centerfield. A hit by Jim Grevy pushed across the tying tally.

In the victorious ninth, Oster singled and stole second. Grevy was hit by a pitched ball and Harrison gained first base on an attempted sacrifice which turned into a hit to load the bases. Then Don Mendenhall worked the offerings of Barbara for a base on balls which forced across the clinching run.

Batting honors went to the loser's DeFelice who garnered three hits in four trips, including a homer. Pacing the winners was Oster with two singles in four attempts.

Trophy Standings

With the points tallied up to the end of June, it appears that Reserve Command has a firm hold on the first spot in the race for the Camp Commander's Trophy which is awarded annually to the team accumulating the most points during the year in athletic participation.

The award is designed to stimulate athletic participation between the units on the post and to foster good sportsmanship.

Trailing ResCom and in second place by 75 points is 6100 ASU. The closest race, however, is developing between DivTrains, 7th QM, CCB, and DivArty for the third, fourth, fifth, and sixth spots. Only 12 1/2 points separate the first two from the latter pair.

CCA in seventh place is likely to prove troublesome as they trail the sixth place team by only fifty points and are almost a cinch to win the Inter-Regimental league baseball title and with it a sizeable sum of points.

This could put them in contention for second spot as DivTrains, 7th QM, and 6100 ASU are in the lower half of the baseball league standings.

Reserve Command will maintain its grip on the leaders' position as it is firmly entrenched in second place in the baseball standings.

The standings and point totals:

ResCom	600
6100 ASU	525
DivTrains	450
7th QM	450
CCB	437 1/2
DivArty	437 1/2
CCA	387 1/2
DivFac	50

Reserve Command will maintain its grip on the leaders' position as it is firmly entrenched in second place in the baseball standings.

The umpire should call the runner out. In the absence of a current rule, he may invoke the old one (Rule 49, Section 14) which was unintentionally omitted from the code. It provides that where a base-runner "fails to return to and touch the base he occupied when 'Time' was called" and tags the next base under the circumstances outlined, "the baserunner is out . . ."

In revising the baseball code three years ago, the experts inadvertently omitted several major rules. The practice since then has been to regard these as still in force! Here, in a hypothetical major-league setting is what happens when an unusual stratagem meets an "invisible" rule.

Say the Braves have the Giants, 5 to 1, at the start of the seventh inning at Braves Field. The visitors push across three runs in quick order. With two out, they have the tying run on second base.

Bob Chipman, rushed in by the Braves as relief pitcher, works so slowly that with the count one-and-one, the Giant batter steps out of the box for a moment. The umpire signals "Time."

The Giant runner, who has a long lead from second, moves only a little closer to the base. Chipman notes this. So when "Play" is called, he toes the rub-

BOB BICKLE, 125-lb. all-champion, belts Navy contender Harold Conklin to the canvas with a vicious left hook. Conklin didn't recover from this blow and the referee spared him further trouble by stopping the fight in the third round. Bickle went on to win a berth on the 1952 U. S. Olympic boxing team by winning the division title at the three-day national tournament at Kansas City, Mo.

Gains Acclaim From Audience

TALENTED—Ruth Swanson gained loud acclaim from the audience at Theater One last weekend for her ballet interpretation in a scene called "Gypsy Fire," from the show "Sweet and Lowdown." The lovely dancing star was one of the highlights of the show with her ballet to "Possessed." Two performances of the musical revue appeared here over the holiday weekend. (Signal Photo).

TWO PERFORMANCES "Sweet & Lowdown" Seen By Large Holiday Crowds

The musical "Sweet and Lowdown" played twice over the holiday weekend to capacity crowds at Theater One. From the opening bar of "Fascinatin' Rhythm," to the last chord of the finale, "Get Happy," the show was packed with fast paced entertainment.

DEE WINTER—who appeared here in the show "Sweet and Lowdown" last weekend. Dee's dancing and singing contributed much to the musical which played before capacity crowds at both showings at Theater One. (Signal Photo)

Pretty Ruth Swanson's magnificent ballet interpretation of the new song "Possessed" in the picturesque scene called "Gypsy Fire" evoked thunderous applause from the audience.

The brother and sister tap dancing team of Kenny and Betty Neill did a routine to the tune of "Somebody Loves Me," and Betty came back again to lead the cast in a lively number to the "Basin Street Blues."

Petite Sandra Burke captivated the audience with her own distinctive styling of "Man I Love," and encoored with an equally effective rendition of "Stormy Weather."

Comedy sketches all through the show, ably acted by Frank Milovich, Ken Miller and Jack Lueken, provided a constant bright spot, as did the dancing of Ray Hollingsworth in the scene "No Girl for Me."

The band contributed a fine arrangement of "Lover," featuring instrumental solos.

An appropriate finale was the refrain of "Get Happy," which found the entire cast on stage to render a spirited chorus.

Technical credit for the show goes to Joseph Pinkston, Jesse Tucker, and William Bartz. The scenery and artwork were provided by Connie Crawford and John Carson, while the production staff was headed by Ray Hollingsworth.

PFC. MARTY BRAUNSTEIN dons civilian clothes for his singing performance in the musical "Sweet and Lowdown." Marty soloed on "Birth of the Blues," and came back in the finale to lead the cast in a fine version of "Get Happy." The voice of this young singing star was one of the highlights at both performances of the show. (Signal Photo).

Work Finished On New Bayonet Training Course

Camp Roberts' newest bayonet training course, located near DivArty, is now finished and is being used as a model for similar courses in Army camps throughout the country.

Two parts of the course which make it a model bayonet course are the thrusting target and the parry stick. The parry stick is constructed in such a manner that it forces the trainee to parry correctly.

Work on the course was supervised by Bayonet Group Chief Lieutenant Leon Ball, assisted by Lieutenant Donald Doll, Assistant Bayonet Group Chief.

Enlisted men who worked on the course include Sergeant Robert Peterson, PFC Charley Manchuso, and PFC Frankie Manchuso members of the Bayonet Team. The course was completed 15 June.

Record Review

By Pvt. Jerry Littman
Service Club No. 1 now has two music rooms available for your listening pleasure. There are about 100 albums and 100 single records, including popular, western, jazz, pop, classical, and semi-classical.

These records may be checked out and listened to at the Service Club. One music room has a machine which plays only 45 RPM records, and the other room has a three speed machine.

COMMENT—Four records recently received by the Service Club:
"Walking My Baby Back Home" and "Give Me Time" (Columbia) sung by Johnny Ray. He's done better.
"Ladies Man" and "Married By The Bible" (RCA) sung by Hank Snow. Both westerns. Snow gets philosophical about marriage and divorce in the latter record.
"Just One More Chance" and "Jazz Me Blues" (Capitol). Another terrific Mary Ford-Les Paul rendition.
"Delicado" and "Festival" (Columbia) with Percy Faith's fine orchestra. "Festival" is unusual for Faith because it's a little faster paced than many of his recordings.

CLASSICAL HOUR—Every Sunday starting at 1400 hours, the Service Club holds a classical music hour. At this time only classical records may be played.

"Basic Ballyhoo" To Play At USO

The Camp Roberts' musical show, "Basic Ballyhoo," is scheduled for presentation at the Paso Robles USO on Wednesday July 16, at 1930 hours.

The hilarious satire on the life and times of a Camp Roberts' trainee had its debut here a month, and since that time has given several repeat performances due to the tremendous success it scored in the opening show.

The all-soldier production written and produced by Ken Miller, and features comedy skill and music.

Civilians are invited to the Paso Robles showing, and refreshments will be served during the intermission.

Friends Graduate As Top Wire School Men

Honor student awards at Wire School graduation recently went to two men who were friends in high school. Privates John Damon and Frank K. Van Dam were inducted on the same day in Milwaukee.

Damon went to Camp Chaffee, Arkansas, for training and Van Dam came to Camp Roberts. They met again when both entered the eight week Wire School course.

Div. Faculty Men Go To Officers School

Seven members of the Division Faculty General Subjects Committee left Camp Roberts last week to attend Officers Candidate School in various parts of the country.

The men are Sgt. Kenneth Spence, Cpl. Arthur Spencer, and Privates First Class Clair Anderson, Harold Anderson, Charles Elington, Scott Lyman, and John McCracken.

Remember: 25 MPH Maximum Speed Limit

The Office of The Post Safety Director reminds all personnel that the maximum speed limit in the central area of Camp Roberts is 25 miles per hour.

On the range roads and other roads away from the center of the camp the speed limit is a maximum of 35 miles per hour. In certain areas on-Post the speed limit is 5 miles per hour. This limit is usually between barracks.

A bad habit that should be corrected, the safety director says, is that of not stopping at intersections where there is a "Stop" sign. Drivers who do not stop their vehicles confuse other drivers, it was pointed out.

Rosecrans Unit To Train Here

Forty-eight officers and one enlisted man of the 6215th Station Complement from Fort Rosecrans, California will arrive at Camp Roberts this Sunday for a two week tour of active duty.

The group plans to devote much of its training period to marksmanship training and firing. Several types of weapons will be used in the group refresher course.

The remainder of the unit's two week stay will be devoted to on-the-job training, by observing the operations of the offices that operate Camp Roberts.

Lieutenant Colonel Jerome Niederman is commanding officer of the group.

Draftee Graduates, Gets College Degree

In the middle of his senior year at the University of California, Private Edward J. Jurkanin, Company B, 23rd AIB, received his draft notice.

Wanting to complete his college education and to graduate with his class, Jurkanin signed up for a correspondence course. He completed the course during basic training, took his final exam at the CCA TI&E center and received the needed credit hours from the university.

Then he bagged his first sergeant for a weekend pass. Why the pass? He needed it to get to Berkeley, where he joined his former classmates to take part in the graduation exercises.

New Ordnance Chief Visits Camp Roberts

Sixth Army's newly appointed ordnance officer, Col. Carrol Hudson, made his first inspection visit of the Post Ordnance Section last week.

A native of California and a graduate of Stanford University, Col. Hudson commanded the Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Alabama, for eight years.

He is credited with making that arsenal one of the nation's foremost research and developing centers for guided missiles and rockets.

Big Steel Need Told By Lovett

How important steel production is to the Armed Forces is revealed in a recent statement by Secretary of Defense Robert A. Lovett.

Secretary Lovett said that military production requires the following amounts of national steel output: 13.5 per cent of carbon steel, 36.6 per cent of alloy steel, 32.4 per cent of stainless steel, and 34 per cent of superalloy steel.

The cabinet member reported that the fire power of an infantry division has been increased 50 per cent since World War II. He added, "We have authorized an increase in consumption rates per gun to the extent of 60 per cent over World War II in certain all-important weapons."

Traffic Tie-Ups Cut By New Road

An access road to Camp Roberts is helping cut down traffic congestion between the camp and points south during the rush-hour periods.

Beginning at the Post Motor Pool and ending south of San Miguel Mission, the road traverses the southern part of the camp, meeting Route 101 at Gate No. 9.

At present, traffic is relatively light on the new road, so the allowable speed of 35 miles per hour is usually maintained. The road is open to north-bound traffic from 0715 to 0815 hours, and open to south-bound traffic from 1645 to 1845 hours.

In a recent check comparing the amount of time it takes to travel from Camp Roberts to the San Miguel Mission during the rush-hour period, it was found that this new access road is ten minutes faster than Route 101.

Looks At Books

Looking for a good novel? Here are some to suit every taste.

If sea stories take your fancy, don't miss "LIEUTENANT HORNBLLOWER" by C. S. Forester. This is the seventh novel in the saga of Horatio Hornblower, in which the central character emerges from his apprenticeship as midshipman to assume the responsibility thrust upon him by the fortunes of war between Napoleon and Spain. It follows the career of the young lieutenant from his arrival aboard H.M.S. Espadon to his promotion to captain.

Medical stories interest you? Then read "WINDOM'S WAY" by James Ullman which deals with a man's struggle with himself and with the war of idea being waged so bitterly today. It is the story of an American doctor serving in a remote and tropical part of Southern Asia. Without any specific intention on his part he is caught up in the revolutionary tensions of the time and region, and finds himself championing humanity and the simple native population against the reactionary national government and a white planter on one side and communist attacks on the other.

If you enjoy stories of life in America, don't miss "TAKAWAY THE SPRING" by Richard Hazopian. This is a story about the family of Setrak Dinyan. Setrak was a small American with two tired eyes, an ample nose, and a brave mustache. He lived with his wife and their four children, in a Chelsea, Massachusetts, tenement, and though their world was physically near extreme poverty, it was abundant in love and affection. Whatever your reading taste, you'll find it at your libraries.
