FOR BETTER TRAINING

Bayonet Assault Course Adds Many New Features

Construction of 30-foot swings across a creek bed on the Bayonet Assault Course was recently completed by the Bayonet Group under the direction of Lt. Leon Ball of Div. Faculty, Group Chief. The rope swings furnish another obstacle in the course and also provide all-weather crossing of the stream during the rainy season. The Bayonet Group did all the construction work, both securing material and installing it. Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, approved the course by personal visit when he swung across the creek over the newly installed ropes.

The Bayonet Group has also installed new steel frames for targets and has developed and built parry sticks and horizontal and vertical butt stroke targets. These are all of metal construction instead of the usual rubber covered wood.

Accompanying General Partridge on the inspection were: Lt. Col. Jack L. Weigand, G-3; Lt. Col. Harry Braze, Chief of Faculty; and Capt. William E. Scanlon, Training Officer of the G-3 Section. In addition to the rope swings, Lt. Ball was instrumental in carrying out the construction project and is known to his group as "Mr. Bayonet." Other members of the group were Lt. L. A. Smith, Lt. Arthur Voerg, M/Sgt. Jack (Spider) Widdoss, Sgt. Louis Olsen, Sgt. Robert C. Howard, PFC Richard R. Frazier, PFC James Holland, PFC Charles Mancuso, and PFC Frank Mancuso.

Hunter Liggett Tests Started By III Corps

Army training tests start today and will continue tomorrow at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation for Camp Roberts units by a III Corps testing team. Units to be tested are the Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 26th Transportation Truck Battalion; 23rd Transportation Truck Company; and the 31st Transportation Truck Company.

Col. Austin D. Higgins, III Corps Transportation officer, will be Chief Test Officer. The Assistant Chief Test and Administrative Officer is Maj. G. H. Mozier, also from III Corps Transportation Section. Other members from III Corps are Warrant Officer C. E. Eads, Ordnance, and Capt. H. S. Iida, G2. Six additional test officers from Army wide sources will attend the training tests.

The purpose of these training tests is to obtain information on the state of training of Army units as measured by their demonstrated ability to perform their assigned missions in the field under simulated combat conditions. In general, the tests will cover tactical, administrative, and logistical situations.

The III Corps, has the responsibility of supervising and coordinating the training of all General Reserve Units and training divisions in the Sixth Army Area.

Seven-Week Food Course Ends

A 7-week course for command or comparable organization food advisors, mess officers, and mess stewards was concluded recently.

The instructors were Capt. W. Wooten, Post Food Advisor, SFC John J. Bongiovanni, Food Service specialist assigned as assistant to the Post Food Advisor, SFC Vincent J. Santacrose, instructor at the Food Service-Sub School, and 1st Lt. Vincent C. Nibali, instructor at the Food Service-Sub School.

This course covered all of the mess records kept by mess stewards each month. The students were shown how to prepare each form and how, through cross reference, one form may be checked against another.

The final class was devoted to a display of all training aids on food service forms and the class was shown how these records may be kept in an accordion-type folder. By following this method an inspector may easily inspect the records through a cross-reference system.

Ex-POW's Get Claims Forms

Washington (AFPS) — New claims forms have been mailed to 132,000 ex-POW's of WWII who are eligible for the benefits under Public Law 303. The final date for filing these claims has been set for April 9, 1953, according to the War Claims Commission.

In case of a recent change of address, claimants may obtain forms from regional offices of the Veterans Administration, the American Red Cross, State Departments of Veterans Affairs or through recognized veterans organizations.

A separate claims form has been issued for survivors of deceased ex-POW's. The War Claims Commission also stated that veterans of the Korean campaign are not eligible for the benefits under this law.

EFFICIENCY PROGRAM

Stepped-Up Plan Brings Varied Awards For Ideas

A stepped-up Efficiency Awards Program, providing both cash awards and commendations to civilian and military personnel who suggest practical money-saving improvements in methods or equipment, has been launched here.

The new program incorporates personnel changes in the supervisory committee and, for the first time, provides cash awards for military personnel. Last year annual savings resulting from the program approximated $10,000.

As reconstituted, the implementing committee consists of Lieutenant Colonel Frank L. Denise, comptroller, as chairman; Lieutenant Colonel Carl J. Ernst, G1; Lieutenant Colonel Jack L. Weigand, G3; Lieutenant Colonel Byron F. Jolly, G4; and C. J. Deacon, civilian personnel officer.

Mrs. George H. Horsfall has been appointed special secretary to the comptroller and will devote her full time to the program.

Rewards may consist of cash, medals, citations, commendations, pay-step increases, three-day passes, or some other suitable award commensurate with the value of the suggested improvement and conforming with regulatory limitations.

Cash awards, from non-appropriated funds, will be presented to military personnel for the three best suggestions improving the morale and welfare of enlisted men.

First, second and third place winners receive $15, $10 and $5, respectively, during each quarter of the fiscal year constituting a contest period.

Awards will be granted only after the proposal has been put into effect and its benefits have been determined. Because of this stipulation, first presentations for the current quarter of the fiscal year probably will not be made until December.

Start Cadre School For Div Arty NCO's

Cadre School at Div Arty started last week for approximately 110 men. Commandant of the school is Major Niles Ugland.

The purpose of the school is to raise the standards of instruction by cadremen. Cadremen give instruction to basic training outfits on the company level and during concurrent training.

Instruction at the school is given by officers.

Private Pratt Top Radio School Man

Private Owen L. Pratt was designated the honor student of Class No. 32 at Radio Operators' School graduation last week. He received a wallet in recognition of the outstanding record he achieved while at school.

Camp Still Leads Army Area In Blood Program

Camp Roberts placed third during the month of July, but still leads the Sixth Army in the ten-month old Armed Forces Blood Donor Program.

Personnel donated 680 pints of blood in July, while Camp Stoneman recorded 1096 and Fort Ord recorded 731. The camp's total is now 12,621 pints. Fort Lewis, Washington, is second with 11,919 and Camp Stoneman a close third with 11,355.

Although overall blood collections during July showed a slight improvement over the June collections, the amount collected was only approximately two-thirds of the amount necessary in order to attain the Sixth Army goal of one pint of blood per year from all individuals, both military and civilian on duty or employed at Army installations.

The need for blood was further emphasized by a press bulletin from FECOM headquarters. The communique read, "Gen. Clark says American troops in Korea have almost everything money can buy, but there is one thing they need. In a letter to the mayor of San Francisco, the general said 'Whole blood is one of our most pressing requirements.'"

Colonel Kimpton New Div Trains CO

Colonel Theodore R. Kimpton has been assigned here as commanding officer of Div Trains. Previously he was with the 92nd Division.

A graduate of the U. S. Military Academy, Col. Kimpton received his commission and a Bachelor of Science degree in 1930. During the second World War, he served mostly in the Italian theater.

His decorations include the Bronze Star, Purple Heart with one cluster, Commendation ribbon and the Merit for War (Italian).

Both in civilian communities and Army posts, he has been active in amateur theatricals.

Captain B. W. Carter Awarded Certificate

In a surprise ceremony in the commanding general's office, Captain Booker W. Carter, departing officer in charge of the Officer's Mess, was awarded the 7th Armored Division's Certificate of Achievement. Major General Frank H. Partridge, commanding general, made the award.

Capt. Carter who came to Camp Roberts as part of the advance party in November, 1950, was cited for his excellent handling of the mess. During his tour of duty no complaints on the service, quality or functioning of the club were made, the general said.

RESERVE OFFICERS

Sixth Army Memo Starts Screening For Promotion

Promotions for reserve officers are currently being processed at Camp Roberts and throughout the Sixth Army Area on the basis of a memorandum recently received from Sixth Army Headquarters at the Presidio of San Francisco.

Records at Camp Roberts are being screened for eligibles. Commanders have been notified and will provide recommendations as indicated in the Sixth Army Memorandum.

Excerpts from the Sixth Army Memorandum Number 440 include the following:

"Reserve officers, including SCARWAF personnel, on extended active duty in the Army of the United States under the administrative jurisdiction of this command, who fulfill the time-in-grade and training requirements prescribed in SR 140-155-1, are eligible for promotion consideration to fill vacancies listed below.

"Reserve officers assigned to Class II installation and activities who are under the administrative jurisdiction of Chiefs Administrative and Technical Services, are not eligible for promotion to fill the position vacancies listed below.

"The position vacancies for the Sixth Army Area are as follows:

QM Clothing Store Lists New Hours

New hours of operation at the Quartermaster Clothing Store, Bldg. 913, are weekdays 0800 to 1200 hours and 1300 hours to 1630 hours.

The store is open the first Tuesday and the first Thursday of each month from 1900 to 2100 hours. It is closed on Saturdays. Captain T. R. Pudene is clothing sales officer.

Companies Install Communications Lieutenant Burke Back From OCS

Teletype communications were set up last week between III Corps Headquarters at Hunter-Liggett Military Reservation and the Camp Roberts Post Signal Office.

Members of Companies A and C of the 303rd Signal Service Battalion on temporary duty at the nearby military reservation installed and now operate the communications system. First Lieutenant George W. Stoddard, 303rd Signal Service Battalion, is in charge of the men at Hunter-Liggett.

The first message on the communications system was sent from Hunter-Liggett and received at the Post Signal Office late Wednesday evening. PFC Arthur W. Brown, Company A, 303rd Signal Service Battalion, was on duty at the time.

Another man who took basic training here, attended Leaders' Course and then went to Officers' Candidate School at Fort Benning, Georgia, has returned to the post as a Second Lieutenant.

Lt. Jack C. Burke recently returned from the post, after graduating from the six-month long OCS course. He is now attached to Div Faculty doing administrative work for the attack course.

Speaking of OCS, the new lieutenant remarked that it was harder than basic or Leaders' Course, but "at OCS they teach you to be a platoon leader," which they do not do in basic.

Classes at OCS are given by officers, mostly with battle experience, in offensive and defensive tactics, first aid, company administration, logistics and regimental organization.

Division Band Marches In Los Angeles During Parade Of Foreign War Veterans

received the crowd's applause upon entering the stadium. The Los Angeles Times, which supplied this photograph, characterized the band "as one of the outstanding military units that participated in the VFW parade."

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

"Closer To God"

By CHAPLAIN (1ST LT.) ALPHA A. FARROW

Beyond any doubt, the Army builds stronger men of God than any other organization. To many soldiers this may seem a ridiculous statement. I believe the above statement to be absolutely true. I know there are institutions which produce more Christians; but not better Christians. The very fact that it is hard to live a consecrated life while in the Army, brings about the testing which makes great men of God. The song which says "Yield not to temptation, for yielding is sin, Each victory will help you some other to win," has good theology in it.

Was not the faith of Abraham tested by being asked to offer his son, Isaac?

I have attended college and seminary with veterans of World War II. Many of them had been enlisted men. They heard and saw worse things than most of you will ever endure. Things which would indicate that all Army men were wicked and evil in every thought, word, and deed.

These men came through these experiences with a stronger faith in God and higher moral ideals than when they were drafted. These men have dedicated their lives as ministers of the Gospel. Every man was thankful for the testing. They were drawn closer to God in the service than they had ever been as a civilian. I believe the Army builds great men of God.

Former Trainee Is New Chaplain

A former trainee has returned here as Camp Roberts' most recently assigned chaplain.

He is Chaplain (1st Lt.) Alda A. Farrow who took basic training here after entering the Army in 1943.

It amounted to $139. He was taking agricultural courses from Iowa State College.

Company C, 17th MTB, started basic training last week, under the command of Lt. James Manning. The men are mostly from Minnesota, Illinois, Wisconsin, and the Dakotas.

PFC Bob Lagle, A&R noncom, left the post to attend the Physical Training School at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. The course lasts seven weeks. Two other noncoms are now attending the school from CCA-SFC

Ralph Granados, Company C, 17th MTB, and Cpl. Karl Hollier, Company C, 38th AIB.

Two new officers have joined the regiment. Lt. Nicholas Masciantonio has been assigned to Company C, 17th MTB, and Lt. Thomas Jenkins has been assigned to Company B, 23rd AIB. —PFC R. P. Larsen.

303rd SIGNAL SV. BN.

Five men in the battalion recently volunteered for overseas duty: PFC Benjamin Kaai, Cpl. John Bishop, PFC Billy Culp, PFC Jimmy Hooper, and Pvt. Robert Oliver.

After completing the discussion leaders' course at the West Garrison, three men from the battalion graduated in the top six of the class. Cpl. Joseph A. Stack, Company A, received the rating of superior and was third in the class. PFC Leo Doyle and Cpl. Jules Bernard, Company C, received excellent ratings and finished fifth and sixth respectively. —Sgt. Peter Bartolomeo.

ANSWERING INQUIRIES

Guard, Reserve Service

Obligations Clarified

(Reprinted from STAR PRESIDIAN)

Clarification of the eight-year service obligation for enlisted members of the National Guard and Organized Reserve Corps under the National Military Training and Service Act has been made by Headquarters Sixth Army in answer to the numerous inquiries received from persons and incur the obligation effective from the date of their induction or enlistment in the Regular Army. Prior service may not be credited toward completion of their obligation.

An individual who once incurs a service obligation under the Universal Military Training and Service Act does not incur a new eight-year obligation by reason of any subsequent enlistment, re-enlistment, induction, or appointment.

A member of the National Guard does not have to serve the eight years of obligated service if he is called to active duty either as a member of a National Guard unit or as an individual.

If a Guardsman is inducted or if he enlisted in the Regular Army before the age of 26 and on or after 19 June 1951, the date of the UMT&S Act, he loses his National Guard status and does incur the eight-year service obligation. This obligation will be effective from the date of his enlistment or induction and no prior service will be credited toward the completion of the obligation service.

Both National Guard and Enlisted Reserve Corps Commanders are required to report to the State Director of Selective Service the names of men who do not attend at least 90 per cent of their drills. These men are immediately ordered for pre-induction physicals, and are inducted into the Army within a minimum of 21 days and a maximum of 120 days.

Individuals who enlisted in the Enlisted Reserve Corps on or after 19 June 1951 and before the age of 26 do incur the eight years of obligated service. If they are inducted after their enlistment in the ERC, or if they enlist in the Regular Army, all service from date of their enlistment in the ERC will be credited towards the eight years.

Members of the ERC who enlisted in the reserves before 19 June 1951 and who have since been ordered to active duty, voluntarily or involuntarily, will not incur the obligation by virtue of their active duty.

Those of the ERC who enlisted or re-enlisted prior to 19 June 1951 and have since been inducted through Selective Service or have enlisted in the Regular Army before their 30th birthday lose their ERC identity

CCB

SFC Lloyd Hailey, Company A, 31st MTB, was selected last week as the outstanding cadman in the regiment. The selection is based on appearance, leadership and efficiency. He received a three-day pass and a case of beer donated by the CCB NCO Mess.

Every week two outstanding trainees in the regiment are selected. Last week, Pvt. Joe E. Sullivan, Company A, 94th MTB, and Pvt. Norbert D. Devalcar, Company A, 31st MTB, were selected. They were picked for their appearance, weapons proficiency, and inspection.

The CCB Open Mess monthly party was held last Friday at Cuesta Park, near San Luis Obispo. This is a free affair, in charge of M/Sgt. La Claire Colling, the Open Mess custodian. —Sgt. Alan Casty.

The battalion left the post Thursday in a motor march for Hunter-Liggett, where they spent an overnight bivouac and set up a security perimeter. —Sgt. J. Hollingsworth.

Civilians Voting For 9 Member Welfare Council

Civilian employees are voting this week for council members to administer their new organization, a Civilian Welfare Activity Program, recently announced by C. J. Deacon, civilian personnel officer.

Approved by Major General Frank H. Partridge, commanding general, the program will be financed by funds derived from operation of the camp's civilian restaurant.

Civilian welfare activities at Army installations may include recreation facilities, intra-installation athletics and sports, employee publications, group activities, contests for awards and prizes, emergency loans, sending of flowers or similar condolences in case of illness or death, and social activities.

Which of these activities will be organized here will be determined by the nine-member council now being selected. Election results are to be announced shortly.

Logistics Topic For Coming TIC

Next week's TIC schedule calls for a discussion of logistics, titled "How Does It Get To You?"

The science of logistics, which deals with all military activities not included in the term strategy and tactics, has become extremely important due to the tremendous increase of cost and complexity of modern warfare and because of the global nature of our military commitments.

In many minds logistics means supply. This is essentially correct. Even a crack unit with a brilliant commander is doomed to eventual defeat if replacement personnel and material are not made available and transported to it by those whose job is logistics—getting the right stuff to the right guy at the right time and place.

Major Padrick Is T&E Officer

Major Walter R. Padrick recently took over duties as Post Troop Information and Education Officer, following a tour of duty at the Elmendorf Air Force Base, Alaska.

The new T&E officer taught at the Hood River Senior High School from 1929 to 1942, when he entered the Army at Camp San Luis Obispo and served with the 45th M.P. Battalion.

His previous duty stations include Camp Adair, Oregon, where he served with the Military Police; Santa Barbara, where he commanded the headquarters company for returning WWII vets; Atsugi, Japan; and the U. S. Disciplinary Barracks, Camp Cooke.

DISCUSSING THE Grandview Apartment project, located in the southern end of Paso Robles, are Harold Saltz, superintendent, and a construction worker. A private housing venture, 1, 2 and 3 bedroom homes will be available about 1 January for the exclusive use of Camp Roberts military personnel. Rentals range from $72.50 to $94.25 per month. Further information on rentals will be printed in Parade in the near future. (Signal Photo).

HOUSING SURVEY

Almond Acres Occupied, New Projects Planned

A survey of local off-Post housing reveals that nearly all the homes in the Almond Acres housing site in San Miguel are occupied, that a private construction firm is building 54 apartments in Paso Robles, and that another private concern is offering homes for sale in an area three miles east of Paso Robles.

Major James P. Westerfield, the Post Housing Director, told Parade that almost every home in Almond Acres is occupied. However his office still accepts applications as people are continually moving in and out when individual servicemen receive their discharges.

One bedroom homes rent for $51 per month and the two-bedroom homes rent for $56. This includes electricity, water and pick-up of garbage. There is a laundry room on the site with 12 automatic washing machines. Plans are underway for additional washing machines plus two dryers. The secretary in the housing of-room apartments, eight 1-bedroom apartments and 42 2-bedroom apartments. The larger apartments will rent for approximately $94.25 per month, while the rental for the two-bedroom apartments is $85 and the 1-bedroom apartments $72.50.

These prices include garage, combination refrigerator-stove-sink and a garbage disposal.

Still another project, but so far only a proposed one, is Capitol Hill, located about one mile east of Paso Robles. This will be another rental project for military personnel only. Private interests are considering building 96 apartments here.

MRS. CARTER WILLIAMS, wife of Cpl. Carter Williams, M. P., works in the kitchen of her Almond Acres home. The young couple spent approximately $15 on their home, investing the money in paint, curtains, drapes and linoleum. Mrs. Williams covered a living room chair and made the curtains, while Cpl. Williams did the painting and varnished the floors, making a very attractive home. The couple have been married one year. (Signal Photo).

rice at Almond Acres is Mrs. Jeanne Bayer, who represents the owners of the project.

In the south end of Paso Robles, near the city limits, the Moss Construction Company of Beverly Hills, is constructing 54 apartments in six buildings, for military use only, known as Grandview Apartments.

According to the project superintendent, Harold Saltz, the approximate date of occupancy is about the first of the year. Applications for rental will not be accepted until a future date. There will be four three-bed-

For those interested in purchasing a home, Sherwood Acres, 3 miles east of Paso Robles on the Creston Road, offers two and three bedroom homes.

The three bedroom homes sell for $8100 with a down payment for veterans of $400. The two bedroom homes sell for $7500 with a down payment of $250 for veterans. The monthly rate for the three bedroom homes is $52 including tax, insurance and interest, while the two bedroom home monthly rate is $49 including insurance, tax and interest.

Lt. Harris Takes Over PIO Work

First Lieutenant Malcolm B. Harris has been assigned as post Public Information Officer. Prior to this he was assigned to Div Facility.

He entered the Army in November, 1942. He was commissioned, after attending OCS, in 1945. Lt. Harris was released from the Army in 1946, after serving in two European campaigns.

In 1951 he was recalled and served as troop orientation officer at Camp Stenceman before going to Korea in late 1951. In 1952, he was reassigned to Camp Roberts.

Jingles Make Appearance Here

A series of small signs bearing crisp little jingles now make their appearance at strategic points along Camp roads.

One jingle, for example, reads "Feet hurt?, back sore?, maintain vehicles, ride more!" Lt. Robert L. Williams, Post Comptroller's Officer, who originated the idea, wrote the set of jingles.

"Hear about the Chief? He went blind from drinking coffee?"

"Really? How did it happen?" "He left his spoon in the cup."

ROBERTS GOLFERS TAKE SIXTH ARMY TITLE

San Luis Bouts Thrill Big Crowd

LaCross And Draper Battle To A Draw, Bolden Named Outstanding Fighter

Camp Roberts scrappers came out of their corners fighting last Thursday night and mowed down Fort Ord and Camp San Luis Obispo on a six event card at San Luis Obispo.

The feature event of the evening was the bout between Sammy LaCross, 139, Camp Roberts, and Harry Draper, 139, of Camp San Luis Obispo.

LaCross fought Draper to a draw, and it was a match chock full of leather swinging. The short, muscular LaCross knocked Draper down in the first round with a powerful left hook to the head. However, Draper was not back in the thick of it with no count being taken.

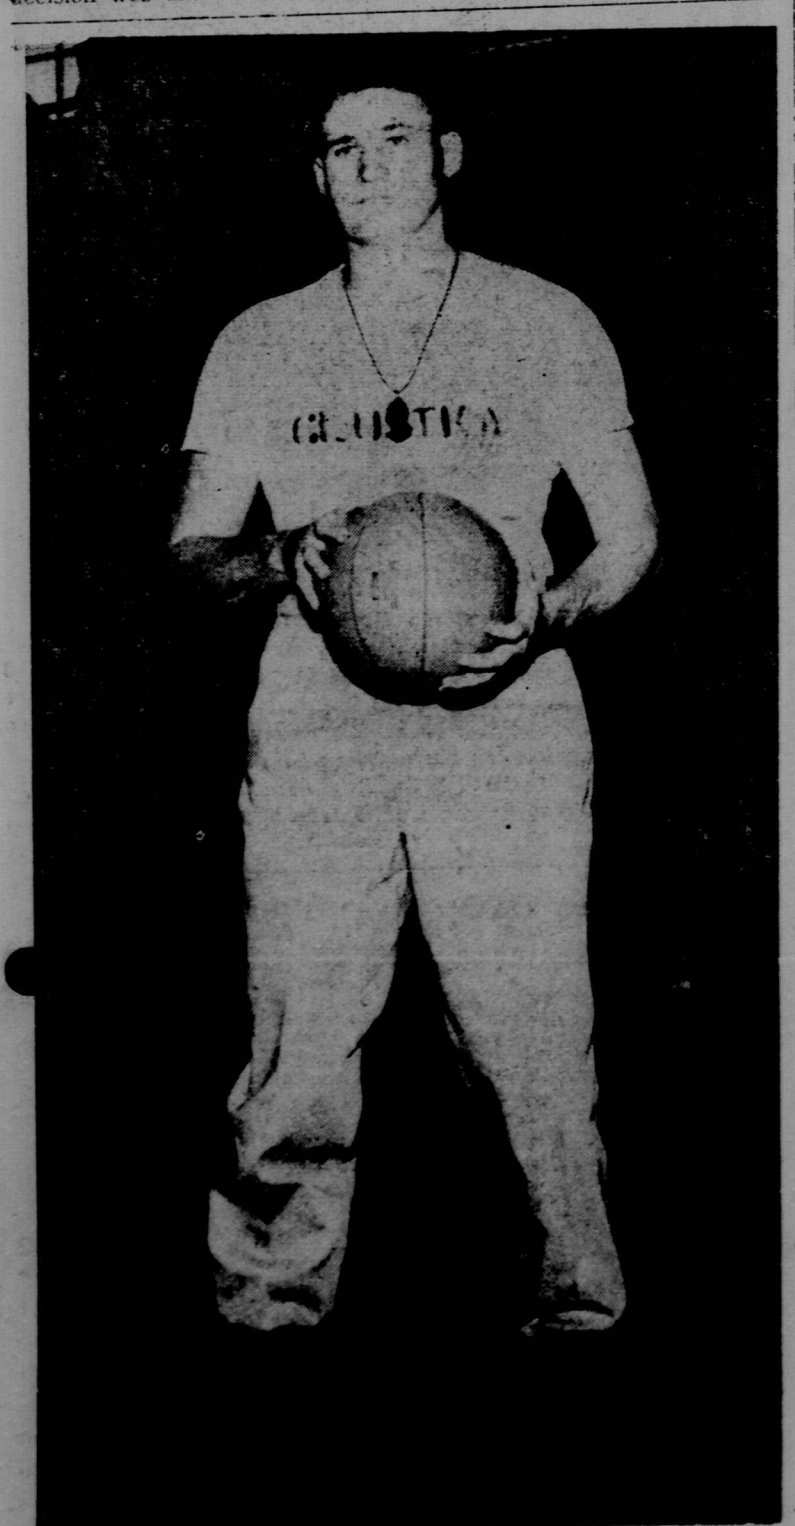

Sammy probably would have made a lot more points in the bout at San Luis Obispo, if Draper had stopped tving him up in the clinch during the last round.

The scheduled go between Lucious Tate, San Francisco Golden Gloves Champ in 1951, and Bob Stacey, Camp Roberts heavy-weight, failed to materialize. The reason was simple, Tate's enlistment was up, and he was on his way to civilian life.

"Boom Boom" Bolden, 153, Camp Roberts, was acclaimed the best fighter of the evening by the capacity crowd of over 1,000. Bolden was awarded an individual trophy as the "most valuable boxer" on the card by Brigadier General Harry Riechelderfer, commanding general of the Southwestern Signal Corps training center. The trophy was donated by Sgt. Tony Italiano, boxing coach and referee for the bouts.

It was Bolden's fight all the way, as he outclassed the 148-pound Gayus Outhouse, of Fort Ord.

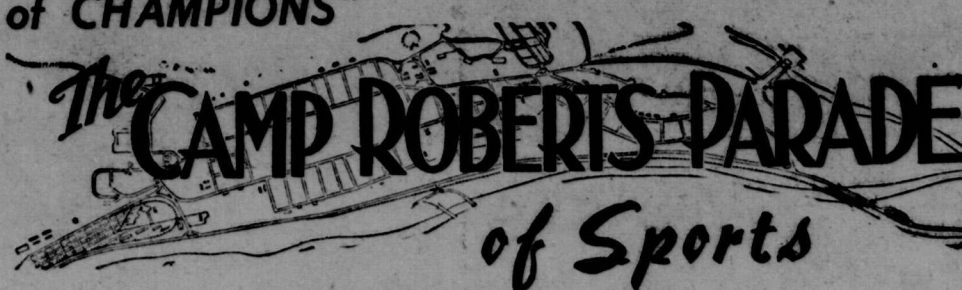

Bolden connected with a couple of solid rights to the head in the third round, knocking Outhouse down twice. However, Outhouse was up and slugging away before a count was started. The decision was unanimously awarded to Bolden.

DETERMINED to have another World Wide All Army championship basketball team, player-coach Lt. Chuck Clustka started the tedious process of wading through scores of hopefuls this week in an effort to find the successful combination to victory. With a good percentage of his old varsity returning, Clustka will have the nucleus of a top flight outfit. However all positions on the team are wide open, and the opportunity is there for anyone with anything on the ball. (Signal Photo).

"POST of CHAMPIONS"

WORLD WIDE ALL ARMY BASKETBALL CHAMPS

LaCross - Draper Feature Go Results In Draw

LOOK OUT—Sammy LaCross ducked this one just in time, as Harry Draper let fly with a potent right during the fights at Camp San Luis Obispo's Sports Arena last week. Rivals ever since the Sixth Army championships when LaCross copped a split decision, the two scrappers met later in the Army Emergency Relief bouts where Draper took a close decision. In the bouts last week the rivalry was still dominant, but neither fighter outpointed the other, and the match ended in a draw.

Sports Basket

The Sports Arena was the scene of plenty of action, sweat, and hard work Tuesday night as player-coach Lt. Chuck Clustka started on the uphill grade to whip another World Wide championship basketball club into shape.

With approximately 75 tall, short, medium-sized hopefuls turning out for the first night's practice, Coach Clustka has his work cut out for him.

There were quite a few familiar faces among the enthusiastic and energetic basketballers, including returning veterans, Lou Joseph, Ken Curtis, Frankie Kuzarn, Ed Hale, Dale Stuckey, Bob Seymour, and Jim Walsh.

Putting them through preliminary drills with emphasis on the fast breaking technique which brought fame and world wide glory to last year's championship team, Coach Clustka started the ball rolling and the sweat flying for a good two hours.

With the first game tentatively scheduled for the early part of November, Clustka has only sixteen days to pick a team of fifteen men. That means a lot of work for coach and prospects alike in order to be in top shape for the starter.

Among the new prospects will be Jerry Romney, a three year guard for BYU and National Invitational in New York, who should have a lot on the ball and a good chance for a key spot on the team.

Veteran hoopers are not guaranteed positions on the varsity team, as the competition is wide open and new blood can be added if the skill, will and zest for hard work is predominant.

Tryouts will continue until the 20th of September, and any man other than a trainee, who indicates his desire to shoot for the team, will be excused by his unit commander.

Smoker Tonight

Special Services has announced that there will be a smoker tonight at the Sports Arena. Eight bouts are scheduled for the card which will begin at 2000 hours.

Special Troops Drop 3-2 Game, Take 2d Place

Camp Roberts Special Troops dropped a close 3-2 decision to the undefeated Camp Cooke Medics in the Southern Division Sixth Army Softball championship game Saturday to take second place in the tourney.

The 6100 team will go with the champion Medics to the Sixth Army meet at the Presidio of San Francisco, September 8-13.

Special Troops lost to the Medics, 7-3 on Friday, but they bounced back into the finals by defeating the 7th Armored Division champions from the 95th Heavy Tank Battalion, Reserve Command, 12-3, in Saturday's semi-final tilt.

The Camp Roberts Post champions, Reserve Command, finished in third place after reaching the semi-finals by downing Camp San Luis Obispo, 3-2. They lost to the Medics after a rugged 1-0 score in two innings of play.

In the opening game of the tourney, Special Troops defeated the Dugway Proving Grounds team by a score of 2-1, in an eight inning thriller.

Special Troops collected five hits off from Kemner, while Lars Mooney gave up three. The winning run was knocked in by rightfielder, Wahrer.

Moving into the second contest, the 6100 softballers mowed down the Yuma Test Station, 10-2. They collected two hits off from Yuma's Ferro, while Matras allowed five.

With these victories under their belts, the Troops met Camp Stoneman and downed them, 7-1. Mooney allowed three hits, and the Special Troops collected thirteen from Loyell and Yebera.

There were only two undefeated teams at this point, Special Troops and the Camp Cooke Medics.

The Medics came out on top, 7-3. Special Troops connected for four hits from Peel, and the Medics garnered four from Matras and three from Mooney who replaced the former in the fourth inning.

This was the 6100 teams first loss, and it left only one undefeated team in the running.

Meeting Reserve Command in the semi-finals and defeating them, 12-3, the Troops remained as the only contender from Roberts.

Coming into the finals, the Medics racked up a 3-2 win over 6100, with losing pitcher Ed Matras giving up four hits, and striking out nine batters.

Winning the Southern Division championship gives the victors a shot at the Sixth Army Northern contenders for the title of Sixth Army and a go at the All Army meet at Fort Dix, N. J. if they are still victorious.

The world famous Helms Athletic Foundations was launched in Los Angeles on October 13, 1936 by Bill Schroeder.

CCA Ready For Sixth Army Tilt Try At Stoneman

Combat Command A, the post champions in baseball, will represent Camp Roberts in the Sixth Army tournament September 7-13 at Camp Stoneman Calif.

The star team left early this week for the title try, and they should be able to get in some warmup practice prior to the playoffs.

CCA made up the bulk of players on the Roberts All Star team which took third in the Southern California semi-pro meet at San Luis Obispo recent ly.

Bob Ross, star hurler for the powerhouse nine, will be on hand to handle the pitching honors. The adept left hander has just returned from the national tournament in Wichita Kansas where he turned in a good showing for the Ord Warriors.

Voted the "most valuable player" on the All Star team, the lanky left-hander was formerly with the Washington Senators.

Gil Dickens, picked as the "leading outfielder" will be doing his best to swamp the opposing team.

Considerably strengthened since the semi-pro tournament the Combat Command A team is expected to be right up in the front lines with more than an even chance to cop all honors for the post of champions.

Ronnie Lee, is a welcome addition to the combat staff. Holder of a 14-4 won-lost record with Montreal of the Brooklyn Dodger chain, he has been earning his share of glory for a pitching job well done.

Whitt Ulrich, from the Pioneer League, and Johnny Payne, from Tri-city of the Evangeline League with a 7-1 record are holding down the remainder of the pitching roster.

Taking over the duties at shortstop is Bob Winkles, a former highly rated White Sox prospect. Dick Neal, a Wichita Falls player, will be bolstering the command's heavy artillery.

Swing Artists Outplay Madigan Opposition

Post Of Champions Adds Another Title To Its List

The Post of Champions has done it again! This time it's the Roberts golf team which carried home top honors from Fort Lewis, Washington, with a total score for the 72-hole tournament of 1,495. Madigan Army Hospital trailed with a 1,633.

Sgt. Charley Malchaski fired a 73 for a 290 capturing the individual championship. He was closely followed by Cpl. Tommy Williams who fired a 75 for a 294.

In the senior division, Colonel Augustus Regnier, commanding officer of 6100 ASU, was top man firing a 73 for a score of 210. Right behind him was Colonel George Horsfall, Post Surgeon, with an 83 for a 340 card. The division score was 650 for Roberts, and 766 for Madigan.

The champ swingers took a strong first-round lead over Madigan Army Hospital Tuesday. With Tommy Williams firing an even par 72, the Roberts team posted a five-man total of 377. Madigan had 403.

Pvt. Hal Freer, fired a 76 for a

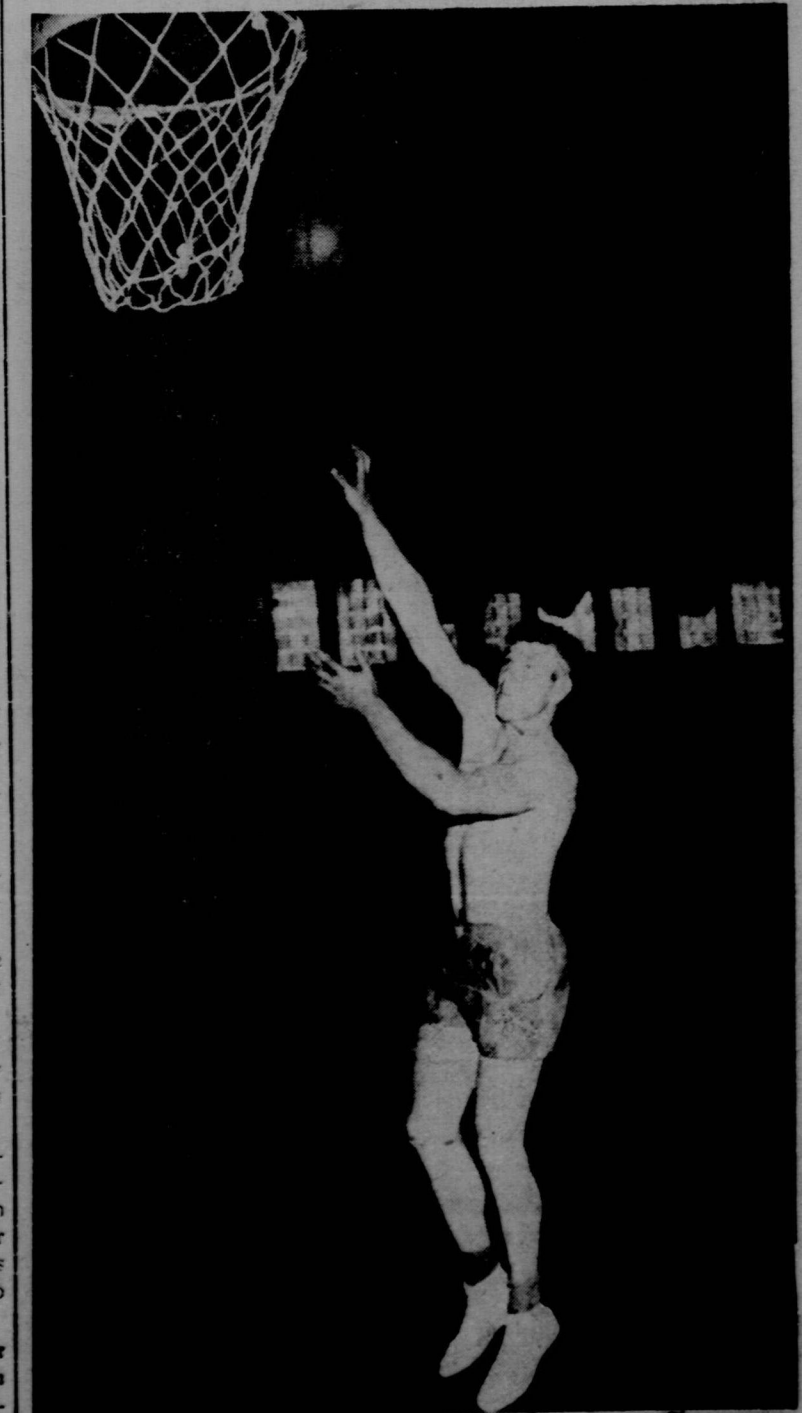

Wednesday saw Malchaski joining teammate Williams in the par golfing ranks, and the soon-to-be champions increased their lead over Madigan to 80 strokes as the links tournament reached the half-way mark.

Malchaski's 72 over the tough Fort Lewis layout tied him for the individual scoring lead at 145 with Williams, who "blew" to 73 in the second round after matching par Tuesday.

Entering the third round of play on Thursday, the Roberts team practically had the title in its pocket, with a 1,118 total and was trailed by Madigan with a 1,235. Chuck Hunt came into his glory on this day, with a one-under-par 71, breaking the course record.

Senior division men, Colonel Regnier and Colonel Horsfall, were way ahead with 237 and 257 respectively.

Down the home stretch and into the finals, the Roberts team came through in true champion style for the Sixth Army Championship.

ANOTHER TWO POINTS—as big Jim Loscutoff utilizes his six foot six inch height to an advantage during the post basketball tryouts in the Sports Arena. Jim played forward and center for the University of Oregon in 1950-51 and for the Oakland Blue and Gold AAU stars in 1951-52. He'll be a top contender for a key position on the Camp Roberts basketball team as the ball starts rolling this week towards another World Wide All Army title. (Signal Photo).

★ TWO STAGE SHOWS HIGHLIGHT HOLIDAY WEEKEND ★

Horace Heidt Show Sparkles On Stage

The Horace Heidt Show hit the stage of the Sports Arena last Monday evening, with an outstanding and entertaining holiday musical review. The large soldier audience witnessed a show that was versatile from start to finish.

All of the performers presented a polished, entertaining group of acts. Getting the show off to a tremendous start was a young man who is featured on Heidt's TV show, John Stanley, who presented recitations.

For those who like tap dancing, it was Russ Budd. He tapped out the rhythm to "Ballin' the Jack." "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," sung by the star of the show, Ralph Sigwald, became a reality as eight beautiful girls danced their way through this production number.

The show, incidentally, was sponsored by Mr. Heidt, Westinghouse Electric, and Golden State Dairies.

Another highlight of the show was lovely Lila Jackson, who ably rendered two songs, "Make Believe" and "Vienna, City of My Dreams." She returned later to sing with Ralph Sigwald a beautiful arrangement of "Indian Love Call."

Versatile little Liz Lynch delighted the audience with her singing and dancing. The piano artist of Conley Graves received an ovation as he played such hits as "Zing Went the Strings of My Heart." The Heidt Steppers brought down the house with their dancing numbers of "Country Style" and Varsity Drag.

To climax this wonderful show, Ralph Sigwald was brought back on stage. Truly a great entertainer and vocalist, he was discovered on one of Heidt's radio shows.

Living up to his name, "The Caruso of the South" opened by singing a stirring arrangement of "Old Man River," "The Lord's Prayer" and "With a Song In My Heart."

"The American Way" brought the entire cast on stage for the grand finale, a great ending for a great show.

Appearing as guests on the show were two Camp Roberts entertainers. Earl Preston nearly brought the house down with his singing of "I Hear a Rhapsody," and came back with the popular hit "I'm Yours." The tapping toes of Ray Hollingsworth were enjoyed by all present as he did a tap routine to "Steppin' Out With My Baby."

HIGH STEPPING GIRLS at the recent Horace Heidt show are shown above. They performed at Theater No. 1 before a large audience in an entertainment-packed show. The girls have appeared on stages throughout the country, in addition to television. They are part of Heidt's large group of young entertainers. Others in the huge show included singer Ralph Sigwald, who doubled as master of ceremonies. Several post personnel also took part. (Signal Photo).

Hank McCune Show Again Brings Top Flight Group

Hank McCune, the versatile entertainer, brought another top flight show from Hollywood to the Post last Saturday evening. He acted as emcee and spokesman for the young group.

The show started off with a bang as McCune brought to life many of the favorite situations that exist in show biz with his glib tongue and fast tempo.

The initial act of the show was performed by a Hollywoodite by the name of Russ Bender. This young singer brought forth many of the past favorite tunes such as "I Don't Want To Set The World On Fire," "It Had To Be You" and "Hard Hearted Hanna." He then obliged with an encore to the tempo of "The Preacher and the Bear."

One of the highlights of the evening's entertainment was lovely little Barbara Dana, who stepped on the stage dressed in a beautiful red evening gown to give out with "With A Song In My Heart," "Blue Horizon" and "Siboney." The talented young singer returned to answer the loud applause to render "Make Believe." Curvaceous Diana Koons, exotic acrobatic dancer, was next to step into the spotlight to do her very different interpretation of "Begin the Beguine."

Comedian McCune took over for a while as he presented his impression of how the average soldier at Camp Roberts treats his date. Selecting WAC Cpl. Connie Crawford from the audience he proceeded to show the various ways soldiers escort their dates. Cpl. Crawford ended the act by carrying McCune off the stage on her back.

Ruth Swanson received an ovation as she entered to do her rendition of "Jazz Pizzicato" in the best ballet manner. Guesting on the show was Raymond Hollingsworth, who showed some fancy footwork to the tempo of "I'll See You In My Dreams."

"Basic Ballyhoo" Cast Knocked Out

The time worn cliché, "We really knocked ourselves out," took on a new meaning to the cast of "Basic Ballyhoo," the soldier show from Camp Roberts, which was presented at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation last week.

In an attempt to save a falling floodlight, PFC John Prewitt was struck on the head by the heavy piece of equipment. Although badly shaken, Prewitt was able to go on with the show in the age old tradition of the theater.

A few minutes later, disaster struck again when PFC Jan Fugate, a member on the WAC detachment at Camp Roberts, fell from the stage. Realizing the "show must go on," Jan returned to complete the act.

"Basic Ballyhoo" moves to Fort Ord this weekend for two performances. Ken Miller is director of the show and John Prewitt is in charge of production.

Record Review

By PVT. JERRY LITTMAN

Hill-billy and Western music seem to be getting more popular all the time. So here's a list of some of the newer tunes.

"Current Country Hits" (Columbia): This is an anthology featuring Carl Smith, a young Texas hill-billy, who plays and sings "Don't Just Stand There" and "It's a Lovely, Lovely World." Other country hits are sung by Ray Price, Neal Burris and Lefty Frizzell.

"Country Classics" (RCA Victor): Eddy Arnold, "The Tennessee Plowboy," sings "That's How Much I Love You," "Texarkana Baby" and "I'll Hold You In My Heart."

BALLET MUSIC - Columbia LP records have come out with "Fancy Free," the satirical dance from "On the Town" and the Sadler's Wells Ballet Company's "Facade." Directing the Philadelphia "Pops" Orchestra is Alexander Hilsberg. This is the orchestra's debut on records.

SINGLES - "Mine" and "You've Got Me Where You Want Me" (Decca): Bing Crosby and Judy Garland. Need more be said? "More or Less" and "Break the Bands That Bind Me" (RCA Victor): Tony Bavaar does an excellent job of singing these two.

Comedian Shows Date Technique

FAMILIAR TO MANY Camp Roberts personnel is comedian Hank McCune, who has brought many shows here from Hollywood. His latest show was presented in Theater No. 1 on Saturday evening. McCune gave his impression of how the average Camp Roberts soldier treats his date. He selected WAC Cpl. Connie Crawford as his assistant in this act. Other performers included Diana Koons, Russ Bender, Barbara Dana, Raymond Hollingsworth and Ruth Swanson, a charming dancer. (Signal Photo).

Singer Stars In Holiday Show

TOP FLIGHT SINGER Ralph Sigwald performed at Monday's gala holiday show at Theater No. 1, sponsored by band leader Horace Heidt. Sigwald was discovered by Heidt on a radio show and skyrocketed to fame in a short time. He is known as "the Caruso of the south." He sang a stirring arrangement of "Old Man River," "The Lord's Prayer" and "With A Song In My Heart." (Signal Photo).

Show Biz

NEW SNIFFER—

Jan Sterling has a new nose. The striking blonde actress underwent plastic surgery after returning from an entertainment tour of Korea. It used to be a straight, simple breathing apparatus that wasn't as photographic as she desired. "So I had the bridge lowered a bit," she said. "It was purely a business matter. I'm in a position where I have to sell myself to audiences, so why shouldn't look my best? People have their hair dyed, braces put on their teeth and lifts added to their shoes. So why should they have a false sense of shame about plastic surgery?" Miss Sterling now has a cute turned-up proboscis. "Don't you think they did a swell job redecorating?" she asked.

A new record for overseas productions by Hollywood film companies is being established this year. At least 50 pictures will be filmed wholly or partially beyond U. S. borders. England leads with 10; Africa will be the scene of six; India, five; Austria, four; France, four; Alaska, three; Ceylon, two; and one apiece for New Zealand, Scotland, Peru, Burma, Sweden, Spain, Guatemala, Honduras, Japan, Trinidad, Canada, Italy, Argentina and the South Seas.

A train wreck in the movie "Denver and Rio Grande" cost approximately $165,000. The sequence runs 40 seconds and adds up to $4,100 a second. . . . The initial investment on the Broadway show "South Pacific" was $225,000. Profits to date total $2,795,000.

Dancer To Be Here Saturday

EXOTIC DANCER Ruth Swanson will perform here Saturday in Theater No. 1 at 1930 hours in a stage show presented by Special Services. Producer-director is Raymond Hollingsworth. Others in the cast of "Stars At Midnight" include comedian Jack Louken, Earl Preston and Mickey Parvin. There is no charge. (Signal Photo).

Post Quartet Sings At Church

Four men from Company C, 95th EC Battalion sang spirituals at the Sunday service of the Second Baptist Church, Paso Robles, recently.

The four men are Cpl. Henry Hudson, Cpl. Walter Chaevois, PFC Ulysses Blackman and Pvt. William P. Smith. They call themselves the Company C Harmonizers and are managed by PFC Kenneth McCarther.

These men have made other appearances, in Service Club One, Paso Robles and San Luis Obispo.

Looks At Books

Interested in benefiting yourself? Here are books which will not only help you to advance in the Army but will also increase your knowledge of the outside world.

"HANDBOOK AND MANUAL FOR THE NON-COMMISSIONED OFFICER" furnishes down to earth, practical information which every non-com needs to know. It is written from the soldier's point of view, and covers such subjects as leadership, duties, and responsibilities, social conduct, promotions and reductions; how to study and teach, and military justice.

Interested in space travel? Then read "THE EXPLORATION OF SPACE" by Arthur Clarke. It is written in non-technical language and its pictures give a vivid impression of the way in which space travel may be achieved. The many engineering, medical, and similar problems are fully discussed. The planets that may be explored during the next century are described together with the methods that could be used to colonize them despite alien conditions.
