This dental chart is very important and should be filled in with great care. There are 32 teeth to be accounted for, as shown by the numbers on the chart. Beginning at the middle line in both upper and lower jaws, the teeth are arranged symmetrically on either side and classed as incisors (cutting teeth), cuspids or canines (tearing teeth), bicuspids (chewing teeth), and molars (principal chewing teeth). An examination should be made and findings charted to cover the following basic conditions: Lost teeth, crowned teeth, bridge work, fillings, caries (cavities of decay), dentures (plates), and any deformity of jaws found. See reverse side for illustrations.

No complete tooth present.
Maxillary and mandibular bones are severely burned.

NARRATIVE OF INVESTIGATION

I. AUTHORITY:

In compliance with the instructions contained in Investigation Directive # 902, dated 4 December 1951, an investigation was conducted at Bennwihr, Haut Rhin, France, in order to recover the remains of an American deceased reported discovered in this town.

II. FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES:

Previous investigation was made by Mr. Harold E. Warner, investigator, in the vicinity of Bennwihr.

Mr. Harold E. Warner, while engaged in investigating I.D. # 819 at Bennwihr, Haut Rhin, France, was informed of the supposed isolated burial of an American soldier by a Mr. Jules Amann of this community.

According to information furnished by Mr. Amann, this soldier was killed on 5-6 December 1944, in the loft of a barn belonging to Mr. Amann. Sometime later, this barn was struck by shell fire and partially burned.

On his return to the area in May 1945, Mr. Amann removed the remains and buried them in a garden to the rear of the barn.

He stated that the soldier had an identification tag's chain around his neck but that he could not find any tag.

The deceased also had a bridge containing four or five teeth in the maxilla.

In the company of Mr. Amann, a visit was made to the area and several test-holes were dug with negative results.

The area has become completely overgrown with brush and weeds and he could not recall the exact location.

Due to the size of the area to be covered, approximately 50 x 75 feet, and the shortage of time, the search was abandoned.

On his return, Mr. Harold E. Warner recommended that further investigation be made in this case.

Exchange of correspondence was made by Operations Branch to the town hall of Bennwihr, requesting that Mr. Jules Amann be given all possible help in order to locate the exact place of burial.

Letter received from the town hall of Bennwihr, dated 28 November 1951, indicated that Mr. Jules Amann had made the recommended search and that he was in a position to indicate the exact grave location.

Investigation was then decided.

The purpose of this investigation was to recover the remains and ascertain the facts pertaining to circumstances surrounding the new discovery.

III. FINDINGS:

A visit was first made to the town hall of Bennwihr. Contact was made with the secretary of the town hall. He furnished the information that Mr. Amann had found the exact location, where the remains were buried.

Mr. Amann was then contacted. He reported the information given by the secretary of the town hall. A statement concerning the findings and disposal of remains was also given by Mr. Jules Amann. (See Incls 1 and 2).

He then conducted present investigator to the location where remains were buried. Remains were exhumed and checked. This exhumation revealed that the remains were partially charred and fragmented; the upper part of skull is fractured and fragmented, teeth were also found loose. Mr. Amann explains that fragmentation and fracture could have occurred, due to the fact that catruges were present with remains at first discovery in the barn and that the fire that caused destruction of the barn might have blown up catruges present at the time. No identification tag was present.

A canteen and a canteen cup were found bearing engraved letters "WMC" a charred butt-end of American rifle plus rifle cleaning kit, first aid package, little pieces of underwear etc.

The absence of the bridge is explained by the following manner: the bridge was found near the remains, no teeth were present on it when he (Mr. Amann) took it as a souvenir, then when they evacuated to Wettelsheim, he remember that he took it along and declares he lost it during same evacuation.

Narrative of Investigation

6 December 1951

The remains were evacuated to Headquarters, 7887 Graves Registration Detachment, Liege, Belgium, under S.R. # 696. Notice of Disinterment was left at the town hall of Bennwihr.

IV. CONCLUSION:

The remains recovered as a result of this investigation are BTB those of an American soldier, due to statements, circumstances and equipments found.

Place of recovery is ten (10) kilometers north of Colmar in village called Bennwihr, Haut Rhin, France.

V. RECOMMENDATION:

That the remains be processed by CIL in an attempt to establish the identity of present remains.

STATEMENT

I the undersigned Amann Jules, viniculturist at Bennwihr, declare hereby that the remains exhumed today, 6 December 1951, by a team of the American Army, are the ones of an American soldier interred in a garden behind my house, during the month of May 1945.

These remains were laying in a barn, around the 5th or 6th December 1944.

I had notified the presence of present remains to two (2) American soldiers, which declared to me they knew about it.

Until the 14 December 1944, the remains layed in the barn, but at the same date, we were evacuated to Wettolsheim and came back around the 3rd February 1945.

As we came back from evacuation, we noticed that the barn had burned out. During the clearing of it we found the remains of this American soldier that we had left in the barn.

I then dug a hole in the garden and placed these remains in it.

I am positive of the nationality of this soldier. I can certify he was a member of the American Army.

REPORT OF ISOLATED BURIAL

While engaged in investigating ID # 819 at BENNWILHR, HAUT RHIN, France, this investigator was informed of the supposed isolated burial of an American soldier by a Mr. Jules ARMANN of this community.

According to information furnished by Mr. Armann, this soldier was killed on 5-6-December 1944, in the loft of a barn belonging to Mr. Armann. Sometime later, this barn was struck by shell fire and partially burned.

On his return to the area in May 1946, Mr. Armann removed the remains and buried them in a garden to the rear of the barn.

He stated that the soldier had an identification tag chain around his neck but that he could not find any tag. The deceased also had a bridge containing four or five teeth in the maxilla.

In the company of Mr. Armann a visit was made to the area and several test holes were dug with negative results. The area has become completely overgrown with brush and weeds and he could not recall the exact location.

Due to the size of the area to be covered, approx. 50 x 75 feet, and the shortage of time, the search was abandoned.

It is suggested that records on file at this headquarters be checked in an effort to determine if they reveal a casualty in this area on or about 5-6 December 1944, whose dental characteristics resemble the description as furnished by Mr. Armann, and that if so, the necessary steps be taken to make further investigation in this case.
