This Week Marks 41st Anniversary Of Army Dentists

The Army Dental Corps celebrated its 41st anniversary this week and the Camp Roberts Dental Section has ample cause to be proud of its own accomplishments on this occasion.

Under the supervision of Col. Clarence T. Richardson, the post's four clinics have provided all types of dentistry in carrying out the primary duty of the corps—the maintenance of the dental health of the troops.

In the past twelve months, Roberts' dental staff have the following to prove that it is upholding its responsibilities: fillings—80,098; teeth replacements—28,613; dentures—4,256; extractions—38,474; cleanings—7,401; and patients examined—44,720.

Working with the best modern equipment available and expertly trained staffs, the Corps maintains clinics all over the world. In addition to its regular work, it conducts frequent dental inspections, promotes programs of oral hygiene and conducts investigations as to the causes of dental diseases.

All this is just a part of the Army Dental Corps job as guardians of the teeth of the Army.

New Range Combines Efficiency, Economy

The Defense Department's cost consciousness program was exemplified at its best by the recent opening of the new 75mm. recoilless rifle, sub-calibre, 1000 inch firing range. Under the direction of Lt. Col. Jack L. Wiegand, Ass't. Chief of Staff, the combined efforts of G-3 section, Range Central, Post Engineers and Division Faculty, headed by Major John B. McClure, resulted in the savings of $6,078.13 on construction costs alone.

The lowest private bid for rehabilitation of the range received was for $9,683. It was decided that military agencies on the post could do the construction work themselves quicker and at a lower cost. This faith was borne out when the total bill of $3,604.87 was presented after the range had been completely rehabilitated. Lt. Col. H. K. Howell's Post Engineers handled the construction.

Lt. Robert T. Wilkens, Range Officer, broke down the expenses covering earth fill for the firing line, civilian labor and material. The work was completed within 10 days and firing has been conducted on the range for the past two weeks. The range consists of twelve firing points, moving target equipment, control tower and storage shed.

The very nature of this firing range results in a tremendous dollar saving for the government, figured at approximately $272 round. Each recoilless rifle is equipped with a sub-calibre firing device, manufactured in Post Ordnance weapons shops and enables the training program to use .30 cal. ball ammunition, at an cost of four cents a round, in place of the many times more costly 75 mm. rounds.

However, the economy measure does in no way curtail the quality and value of training. The trainee goes through every motion of loading, sighting, tracking and firing as if he were using the standard ammunition. In fact, the use of sub-calibre ammunition, a procedure first developed in Ft. Benning, Ga., enables Faculty to allot more time on this weapon to the training company and permits a greater amount of firing.

Under the old training setup, only companies receiving heavy weapons basic received training on this weapon. Now, all com-

SPORTS FLASH!

Camp Roberts own Raiders flexed their muscles and powered their way into the quarter-finals of the National AAU tourney by coming from behind to gain a 62-55 revenge victory over the YMI Varsity, Tuesday night in the Kezar Pavilion in San Francisco.

The Raiders will meet their biggest block to the championship in their next game when they tackle the mighty Stewart Chevrolets—two time victors over the Phillips Oilers—this Sunday evening. Victory would advance the Raiders to the semi-finals, defeat would eliminate them.

In the stirring win over YMI, which saw the Robertsmen come from a 35-32 half time deficit, a combination of Frank Kuzara and Ed Hale's scoring and the rebound work of big Les Faulkner and little Scottie Steagall turned the trick. In his first appearance in a Raider uniform, Kuzara dented the net for 14. Hale was second for Roberts with 13, but top scoring honors went to YMI's Bill Burke who netted 19.

The game rocked back and forth on a fairly even keel until the third period when Roberts' tight defense held their foes to 8 points for the stanza. From then on it was the defensive work that barred the gate and insured this all-important victory for the soldier quintet.

Cost Consciousness!

General Sounds Keynote At Civilian Economy Meeting

The SRO signs were hanging at Theatre One last Thursday, as more than twelve hundred civilian employees of Camp Roberts heard the Commanding General, Brig. Gen. Frank H. Partridge, fire the opening gun in an all out drive to implement cost consciousness.

In his opening address, the soldier's general scored the national importance of economy in government if we are to win, at the grass roots, the continuing struggle against communism. "Unfortunately, extravagance and wastefulness is rooted in the American character and our present mode of life," said the general, "Because our national government in Washington seldom talks in sums of less than a billion, we are inclined to assume that money, materials and resources will always be available in unlimited amounts. Many of our imminent economists predict that such a feeling of unlimited wealth can do more than armed conflict to undermine our cause and further the interest of our enemies. Therefore, the prevention of waste in every way is a prime obligation of each and every one of us."

Roberts Trainees To Fill Vacancies In 44th Division

It was revealed early this week, by Col. Paul G. Hollister, 7th Armored Division Chief of Staff, that approximately 1500 trainees will be sent to Camp Cooke during this month where they will be assigned to the 44th Infantry Division, an Illinois National Guard unit that was recently federalized. All the men sent will have completed eight weeks of basic training here prior to their departure.

The transfer will help build the strength of the 44th from National Guard size to the regular Army divisional strength. Ft. Ord's Sixth Infantry Division is also sending a number of troops from same purpose. The entire transfer will be completed in the month of March.

At the same time, it was also revealed that the vacancies created by this movement will be utilized in training SCARWAF troops from Ft. Huachuca. These men will receive an eight week cycle of basic training and then return to their original units in the Arizona post.

CG Gives Red Cross A Well Done

The American Red Cross Fund Campaign will be held during the period 28 February 1952 to 5 April 1952. Events in Korea and elsewhere throughout the world, have resulted in additional commitments and increased demands on the American Red Cross. These events which are so well known to all of us make it more desirable than ever that all personnel, military and civilian, stationed at Camp Roberts, be afforded an opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause.

I am personally interested that the 1952 Red Cross Fund Drive here at Camp Roberts be a success. It is needless for me to restate the thousand and one activities in which the American Red Cross is engaged to assist our Armed Forces and our people, not only here at home, but overseas and in foreign lands as well. As a matter of fact, during the past year the Red Cross has rendered help gratuitously to some 11,750 persons of Camp Roberts.

During the period 28 February 1952 to 5 April 1952, each of us will have an opportunity to invest in an activity dedicated to aiding all of us when needed. Let us give that others may be helped to live!

On-Post Trailer Site Started Engineers Save Over $41,000

Construction finally got underway here this week on the proposed 144 unit trailer court being built on-post in a move to relieve the tremendous housing shortage in the area. The project will be completed within two months, according to Post Engineer, Lt. Col. C. K. Howell.

The trailer court will be located just south of the warehouse area within easy reach of the commissary and shopping facilities. Sites will be available to all persons authorized on-post housing, and the actual supervision will be at the discretion of the commanding general.

A low standard fee will be charged in order to cover basic utility costs.

On Post Housing

Post Engineer, Lt. Col. C. K. Howell, announced here this week that thirty house trailers had been acquired from other installations for rental to post personnel.

The trailers will be completely renovated by the Engineers and made available to authorized families with the completion of the on-post trailer court.

Utilities will include hot and cold running water, electricity, gas, and sewage to each trailer. Heat, modern utility houses supply latrine, laundry, shower and bath, and telephone services to the occupants. The houses will be built to the ratio of one for each twelve trailers.

ANSWER TO HOUSING

A special gate will be constructed between the trailer court and the highway in order to cope with the contemplated traffic problem.

The trailer court is the Army's answer to the serious housing shortage that has plagued the

In keeping with the present drive for cost consciousness and economy within the services, more than $41,000 has been saved for the Army on the proposed trailer court presently under construction here, according to figures released this week by Post Engineer, Lt. Col. C. K. Howell.

The savings was effected through submitting the project for bid on a "single item" as well as a "whole job" basis. Lowest bid submitted on the "whole job" was $199,000. By a careful study of the project on the individual job basis that figure has been whittled down to less than the $149,000 allotted for the 144 unit project.

The original plan was drafted in July of last year, and called for a 150 unit court to be built at the approximate cost of $270,000. An authorization of $50,000 was received, so Post Engineers proceeded with plans calling for a 35-unit trailer court.

In September an additional $99,000 was allotted and the original plans were revised to the present 144 units.

70-PAGE PLAN

The plans covering more than 70 pages of general and technical specifications as well as detailed blueprints of the project were drafted by Post Engineer and forwarded to Sixth Army and Washington for final approval. Final negotiations on the plans were completed late in November and the project was submitted to Purchasing and Contracting to be placed open for competitive bid by interested contractors for the specified thirty day period.

The report was further prepared and published by the Purchasing and Contracting office under the direction of Mr. Herbert B. Thorpe, and the project was officially opened for bid on January 10 of this year.

Saturday Heros!

Leaders Course Has Big Plans For First Anniversary Fete

The 7th Armored Division's Leaders' Course, one of the Army's top courses in the development of potential leaders, will celebrate its first anniversary on Saturday, 8 March with a gala open house.

Organized under direction of the 87th Reconnaissance Battalion, and commanded by Major James R. Pendergrast, the "little West Point" of Camp Roberts has graduated thirteen hundred leaders in the last year. Forty-seven of those graduates have advanced to sergeant, most of them in the shortest possible time allowance. Some three hundred have remained at Camp Roberts as cadre.

Plans for activation day call for a review followed by a series of demonstrations to be given by cadre and students. The Leaders' Course drill team will give colorful demonstrations in bayonet training, dismounted drill, physical training and hand to hand combat. Exhibits will cover the various phases of training offered at the school.

Boasting officers, many of whom are veterans of both World War and the Korean "police action", Leaders' Course is turning young ambitious civilians into the quality of leaders that is demanded by today's progressive and vastly technical Army.

The Leaders' Course extends a cordial welcome to all of those who would enjoy seeing a portion of the diversified training that is turning out some of the best combat leaders in the world. Ceremonies will get underway at 0945.

Sixth Army AG Visits

Col. Morris H. Marcus recently appointed Sixth Army Adjutant General visited here early this week on a tour of the installations of this area.

Primary purpose of the visit was to establish personal contact and promote closer liaison between the camp and area level offices, according to the Post Adjutant General, Lt. Col. F. R. Shinn Jr.

During his short stay here, Col. Marcus inspected all AG activities.

Comptroller to Inaugurate Plan For Work Saving

The Post Comptroller, Lt. Col. Frank Denise, announced this week the inauguration at Camp Roberts of the Work Simplification Program. An Army wide project designed to promote better utilization of all available civilian manpower, the primary purpose of the program will be to familiarize all supervisors with advanced work simplification techniques and, where necessary, help them in applying these new lessons to their particular jobs.

In planning the program locally, the Comptroller has prepared a series of three lectures of an hour and one-half duration, and three lab sessions of equal length. Mr. Arthur K. Anderson and 1st Lt. George J. Kaufman, of the Comptroller's office, have been assigned to head the program. Capt. Horace V. Carlock, a recent returnee from Korea, has also been assigned to the program.

The first lecture got underway last week, and was titled Introduction of Program Work and Distribution Chart. This lecture was followed by a lab session this week.

Those who complete the six training sessions and submit at least one work improvement report, will be awarded a certificate of training.

CIVILIAN HAVE TWOFOLD DUTY

Mr. C. J. Deacon, Civilian Personnel Officer, the program's third and last speaker, provided a challenging climax to the informative program. He stated that one fourth of the defense team is comprised of civilians, civilians who, since they are not engaged in the actual giving of their lives to accomplish the destruction of the enemy, should be extra diligent in their home front fight against inflation. "As civilian employees let us concentrate on self-improvement. Let us prove to our boss, the citizen tax-payer, that the Federal Employee is an honest, hard working and cost conscious citizen."

The entire program was under the direction of Lt. Col. Carl J. Ernst, assistant chief of staff (G-1). The 7th Armored Division Band under the direction of WO Robert L. Horton entertained briefly before and after the program.

Forty-Five Slated For MAG On Formosa

Camp Roberts received a levy last week requesting forty-five men in thirty-six different MOS's for assignment to the Military Advisory Group in Formosa. Volunteers were given first choice but 29 February was listed as the volunteer deadline.

County Schools To Participate In Choral Festival

The combined high schools of the county will participate in a choral festival under the direction of Dr. Charles C. Hirt, Professor of Music at the University of Southern California and Nationally known choral director, on Friday, March 14, at 7:30 p. m. in the Atascadero Union High School auditorium. The program will include separate presentations by the participating schools and group work directed by Dr. Hirt.

Hosts for the occasion will be Roy Gilstrap, Superintendent of the Atascadero Union High School, and Milton Baer, music instructor at the same school.

"This program is designed to afford pupils in our high schools the very best criticism available to help them evaluate their work," a school official said yesterday. "This is important to help them better develop the disciplines, sense of responsibility, cooperation, and fundamental skills taught them in their music courses.

Conductors for local schools participating in the program will be William Marvel, San Luis Obispo City Schools; Sam Simmons, Arroyo Grande Union High School; Margaret Ann Heidenreich, Paso Robles Union High School.

The program will include Negro spirituals, selections from Mendelssohn, the Lord's Prayer, and modern music by Nolan and Wilson.

New Books

Subject: New books in the Paso Robles Public Library.

GIANTS OF GEOLOGY, by Carroll and Mildred Fenton, is the Literary Guild selection for March, 1952. Here is an utterly fascinating book the story of the development of earth science from early Greece to modern times, portrayed through the lives of the great geologists.

Doctor and Mrs. Fenton are both outstanding scientists in their field. And they have the ability to translate their knowledge into language pleasant and understandable to the layman.

JEFFERSON SELLECK, Book-of-the-Month Club selection by Carl Jonas, is about a man who was compelled to think about himself and his life. He was able to arrive at some kind of answer to all the intangibles which oppressed him. In both his strengths and his weaknesses, Jefferson Selleck epitomizes a phase of Middle West culture. The book is at once an affectionate portrait and a revealing satire.

A SEASON IN ENGLAND, by P. H. Newby, treats the ancient theme of the revolt of a young man against parental authority. Humor and tenderness are the dominant moods. A delightful comedy of misunderstandings, the novel is also sensitive revelation of the older Nashes and their reactions to their son, Guy, who rejected not only their authority but even their affection. Ultimately it is a novel of reconciliation.

Mrs. Hettie Chenoweth spent last week in Porterville with a friend, Mrs. Emma Houts.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Chambers have as their guest Mrs. Ruth Morrell of Long Beach.

CONFERRING WITH FORREST PAULL (left) president of the California State Horseman's Association, and Ray Stone (center) secretary, is C. B. Also attending the session was Al Francioni who invited the group to attend the Paso Robles Spring Round-up and a second hospital benefit-show to be held here on May 3 and 4.

Friendship Tree Housewarming At J. Hardestys

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hardesty were surprised Saturday evening when a group of their friends dropped in for a housewarming party.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hardesty and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harper were co-hosts and planned the event. After dinner, which was brought by the guests, the evening was spent dancing.

The Hardestys were presented with a "Friendship Tree" made of a budding lilac limb and acacia blossoms, and greenbacks tied on it with ribbons.

Later in the evening the group met Mrs. Cleo Vreeland, who was returning by South Pacific Starlight from her trip south to the Mardi Gras.

Present for the evening were Messrs. and Mesdames Truman Harris, Web Reese, Dean Hyde, H. W. Johannes, T. O. Waer, Chauncey West, Mrs. Edith Ryan, Mrs. Margaret Smalley and Robert Clouette of Atascadero. Unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Paul West.

Birthday Dinner At Truesdales

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Truesdale were hosts at a birthday dinner Sunday afternoon, honoring Mrs. Almer Anderson and Willis Tarwater.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Truesdale and children, Linda and Belva, of Santa Maria, and Miss Eileen Bentz of Long Beach, friend of Mr. Tarwater, who has been visiting with the Truesdales over the weekend.

Sound Movie For Shandon WSCS

The Shandon Women's Society of Christian Service will hold its regular meeting Friday, March 7 at 2 p. m.

The theme of the day will be "Laborers Together With God." Mrs. Howard Glandon, program chairman, will show a sound movie, "The Rim of the Wheel."

Miss Laura Grainger will lead the devotions, which will follow the topic of the day. Tea hostesses will be Edith Chapman, chairman, and Lois Johnson, Iona Scholl, Virginia Corning and Sadie Jensen.

Friends Surprise L. W. Shaeffers At New Home

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Shaeffer gathered at their home Saturday evening, for an unexpected housewarming, planned by Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hillman.

A buffet supper, provided by the guests, was served followed by an informal evening. The Shaeffers were presented with several gifts by the group.

Guests were Col. and Mrs. Charles Peterson of San Pedro, the weekend guests of the Shaeffers enroute to Fort Mason for an overseas assignment and Messrs. and Mesdames Wes Hatch, Russell Daniels, Spencer Scott, Charles Harper, Truman Harris, Charles Hillman, Louis Fortini, Al Francioni, Jack Lentz, George Aerne, Dr. and Mrs. Frederick Ragsdale and Al Huber. Unable to attend were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Shannon, Mr. and Mrs. William Pokorney, Mr. and Mrs. Web Reese and Mrs. Elsie Schindine.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Harris had as their guests over the weekend Mr. Harris' brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Harris of Mitchellville, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. Randall Harris and daughters, Jean and Dorothy, of Los Angeles. Guests at the Harris home for the past ten days were their daughter and son-in-law and their children, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Edson and Charles and Elizabeth of Storm Lake, Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Conover had as their weekend guest Mrs. Conover's brother, E. V. Gray of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Alice Fairbairn returned Monday after a month in San Francisco visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Inger.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Chism of Bakersfield were Sunday evening callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Chism.

Lorraine Bobsin Weds At Trinity Lutheran Church

Lorraine Bobsin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bobsin of Atascadero, and Dean Schipper of Billings, Montana, exchanged wedding vows Sunday afternoon at the Trinity Lutheran Church. Rev. Theo Haeuser performed the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white carnations and flanked with baskets of calla lilies. White ribbon bows marked the pews.

Marjorie Bobsin, the bride's sister, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer," and the choir sang "O Bless This House" with Leonard Hjelmeland as accompanist.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin and lace. The lace bodice was detailed with pointed collar, long sleeves and self-covered buttons down the front and the satin skirt was styled with cathedral length train. A full length veil of lace was caught to a pearl tiara and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with red roses.

Muriel Boelk stood as maid of honor in a floor length gown of rose brocade and carried white carnations. Bridesmaids, Delores Toda and Bonnie Allen, wore frocks of blue and peach respectively, and carried bouquets of carnations.

Grace and Wilma Paulus in the role of candlelighters were frocked in green organdy; junior bridesmaid, Carol Olson, wore aqua taffeta, and flower girl, Darlene Keffury donned a yellow organdy frock and carried a basket of rose petals. Little Eddie Dunn performed the duties of ringbearer.

Lloyd Bobsin, brother of the bride, stood as best man for the groom, and Merle Boelk and Vern Bobsin were ushers.

Mrs. Bobsin witnessed the ceremony in a navy crepe afternoon dress with matching accessories, and Mrs. A. H. Schipper of Omaha, Nebraska, wore a navy suit.

Anticipation Shower Fetes Mrs. M. Van Horn

Mrs. Martin Van Horn was honored at a stork shower, Monday evening, given by Mrs. Fred Darnall, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Hillman III.

The room was decorated with yellow and green streamers and on the table was an arrangement of daffodils with yellow tapers, and a cake with a stork on it.

The gifts were presented in a bassinet trimmed in green and yellow guarded by a stork. The evening was spent playing "bingo" with prizes won by Mrs. H. M. Holzinger of San Luis Obispo and Mrs. R. E. Langley.

Refreshments were served to the guests buffet style by Mrs. Darnall and Mrs. Hillman. Present other than the above mentioned were Mrs. Bessie Hillman, mother of the honoree, Miss Connie Hillman, Mrs. Charles Hillman, Mrs. Henry Lewis, and Mrs. Lyman Spaulding. Sending gifts but unable to attend were Mrs. Wayne Hillman, Mrs. Helen Hillman, Miss Margith Hillman, Mrs. J. Souza and Mrs. Sue Hillman.

Rebekahs Visit Atascadero Lodge

Several members of the Ysabel Rebekah Lodge here, attended the official visit of district deputy, Mrs. Olive Powell of Morro Bay, at the Los Amigos lodge in Atascadero, Monday evening.

Those who made the trip were Mrs. Mary Jo Price, Mrs. F. M. Morris, Mrs. Royce Rector, Mrs. Carroll Hodson, Mrs. John Schroeder, Mrs. J. B. Craig and Mrs. C. O. Dodder.

Eddie of Fontana; Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Stokes of Orcutt; Mrs. Earl Newcomer and daughter of Delores Toda of Williams; Mrs. Ted Johnson of Garden Farm; Feinso Becker, Mr. and Mrs. Abe Keffury and children Gary, Billy and Darlene of Santa Margarita; and Miss Lucille Erickson of San Luis Obispo.

Six year old Dwight Sundahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sundahl, was stricken with spinal meningitis, Thursday, and was taken to the General Hospital in San Luis Obispo. He is reported to be getting along as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Georgia Weber and daughter Julie, and Miss Louise Vaughan were in Fresno shopping one day last week.

STARING GRIMLY AT the bars of the city jail, Mrs. Frank Morley is comforted by a group of her sympathetic, but intrigued "Singing Bluebirds," Friday afternoon. The leader to further the civic education of her charges, requested city police to arrest her on an investigation charge. Obliging officers, using the "model prisoner," demonstrated to the wide-eyed Bluebirds "What'll happen to you if you don't watch out." Mrs. Morley was "booked," searched by a police-matron, fingerprinted, questioned, and led as far as the main portal of the lock-up before being "released." (The Roberts Photo Studio).

Clipper Club Dine And Play Italian Way

Clipper Club members and their guests spent a "Night at Luigi's," Friday, at the social hall of the Plymouth Congregational church.

The entrance was marked by a signpost giving distances to many famous places of interest in Italy, and as the guests entered, the maitre d' hotel called for a waiter who escorted them to their tables.

Bluebirds

The Busy Bluebirds learned the "Jessie Polka" at their regular meeting Monday at the home of their leader, Mrs. H. R. Collins.

Refreshments were served by Roberta Rathjen to members Anna Aquilar, Evelyn Burnett, Rose Marie Dempsey, Andrea House, Hortense Owens, Carol Ann Thompson, Mae Walz, Patricia Collins, Inga Schwandt, Nancy Netto, and Rose Marie Hascall.

Mr. and Mrs. Forrest V. Clouser had as their weekend guests Mrs. Opal Wetmore and Mrs. Bessie Clouser of Oakland.

The atmosphere of an Italian restaurant was carried out with red, blue or green checked table cloths and dripped candles in wine bottle containers. All the men were given paper and chalk when they were seated, with which to draw sketches of their wives.

The waiters entered singing "Finiculi Finicula" and served a spaghetti dinner to those present. Dean McNutt served as master of ceremonies, dressed in a white jacket and speaking with an Italian dialect.

Taking part on the program were Miss Ina Mills, who played several numbers on the accordion, including "Isle of Capri," "O Sol Mio," and "Finicale Finicula;" Mrs. Martin Kuehl and Mrs. Dick Shannon, presented a dance act and Neil Keefer Jr. and Dean McNutt, entertained with comedy acts. The singing waiters sang several selections and were joined by the audience. The ninety members and their guests present came in Italian costumes.

Hosts for the party were members of Watch I, with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sandford in charge. The men of the Watch acted as the singing waiters and the dinner was prepared by the ladies. Members of the Watch are Messrs. and Mesdames Howard Wilson, Earle Magwood, Chris Holst, Dean McNutt, Roland Gates, Neil Keefer Jr., David Purrington, Allen Dale and Dr. and Mrs. Charles Kennedy.

Singing Soldiers Will Vie In An All-Army Contest

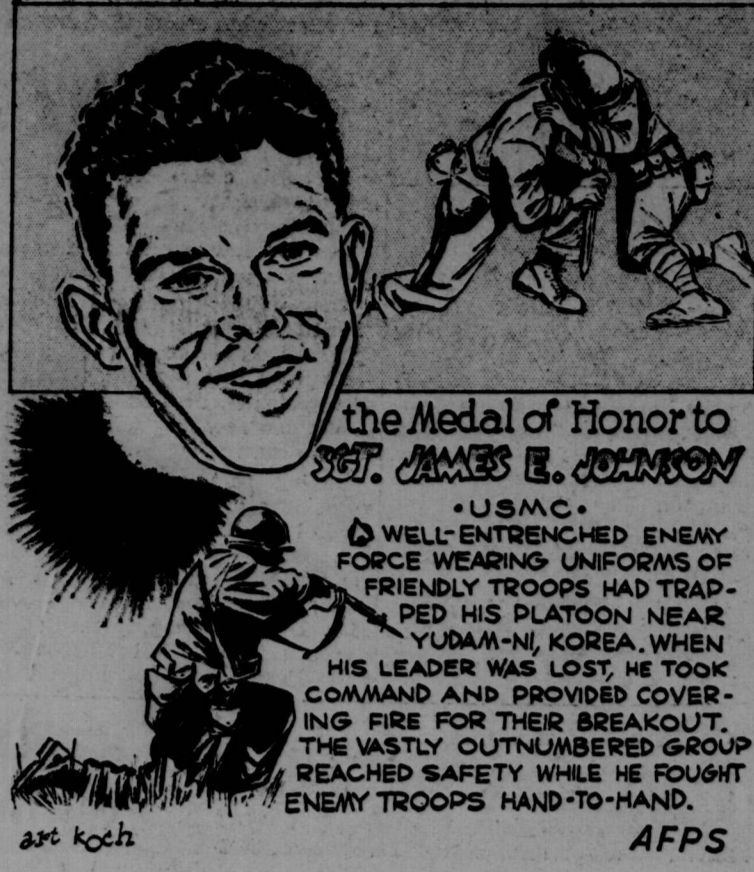

Clear your throats, exercise those vocal chords and get ready for the All-Army Soldier Singing Contest. For Camp Roberts military personnel, the contest will be held for all contemporary vocalists at Service Club No. 1.

Open to trainees as well as permanent party, officers, and Wacs, the preliminaries of the contest will be held March 11th through 12th at 1930 hours and the finals March 14th also at 1930 hours.

Service Club No. 1 is proud to be the Camp Roberts mediator for the 6th Army contest and welcomes all entrants into one of the following categories: Solo, Barbershop Quartet, Spiritual Ensemble, Open Ensemble, Chorus, and Singing Platoon.

A tape recording will be made of the winning entry in each category and class at post level and will be forwarded to the Commanding General, 6th Army. The three winning entries in each classification in the 6th Army Contest will be submitted in the Grand Finals Contest.

Entry blanks, a copy of rules and regulations and further information may be obtained at Service Club No. 1, phone 130.

Special Services Have Moved to New Quarters

Those people behind the scenes of post entertainment and athletic events have moved the Hollywood and Madison Square Garden of Camp Roberts to a new location.

Amid pounding hammers, swarming people, ringing telephones, details moving desks, chairs and filing cabinets... Post Special Services pulled the last thumb tack from the bulletin boards and left only a settling swirl of dust in Building No. 6007.

Pickups, trucks, personal cars, and even a bus unloaded their cargoes of personal belongings and the "many things needed" to make a Special Services unit tick at the new homestead, Building No. 5009.

Formerly used to quarter officers, the building is now divided into upstairs living quarters and downstairs offices for the unit personnel. Instead of the former one-room for all sections, each now has its own individual office. The sections are divided into Administrative, Secretary, Special Services Officer, Asst. Special Services Officer, Mail Room, Athletics, Publicity, Entertainment Officer, Theater Officer, and Supply. A portion of the upstairs division is used as Art Room and for supplies.

There's still swarming people and ringing telephones and the other signs of hustling activity, but rehabilitation has set in, and the business doors of Building No. 5009 are open wide with a proud, welcoming smile.

Talent Winner Plans Roberts Choral Group

Pvt. Earl Preston, Jr., the talented Co. D, 77th AIB baritone and three time winner of the popular Camp Roberts Talent Shows, is adding another ambitious responsibility to his already busy camp curriculum.

The new ambition is organizing a choir for Camp Roberts. When wearing the moniker of a civilian, trainee Preston directed his own "Prestonian Choral Group." As its popularity was being established Preston was called into the service at which time he decided to start a similar group at Camp Roberts.

All military personnel interested in auditioning for the all-male choir are requested to contact Pvt. Preston through Miss Gibson, Service Club No. 1, phone 130. "Bass, baritone and 1st and second tenor voices are needed," said Preston.

Stevenson Show Popular Success

The S. W. Stevenson Variety Show, "Operation E," played to a full house last Saturday. "E" in the title stands for "Entertainment" and a grand program was presented for the men of Camp Roberts.

In the show were the Western champions of barbershop harmony, the Roundelers, who tantalized the audience with songs of yesteryear in their own imitable style.

Carole Jean Jones wowed the audience with a terrific acrobatic act with numerous repeated bows.

Vocalist Marilyn Kundson warbled popular tunes in a topping performance and Ted Smile, dressed in Western garb, genially emceed the show in a smooth, rippling manner. The huge success of the show can be attributed to a real performance that in movie language wouldn't need "retakes."

Springfield, Mo.—William Brown fell for his new baby in a big way! The expectant father dozed off while sitting on a window sill in a hospital waiting room and tumbled out only a few minutes before a daughter was born.

Enid, Okla.—"It's easy to remember your license renewal date," said Judge Doug McKeever in reprimanding a delinquent driver. "Take mine, for example, it expires..." The red-faced judge accompanied the defendant to the license bureau.

Memphis, Tenn.—Sheriff deputies uncovered a moonshine still after observing an inebriated hog stagger across a country road.

Officers reported that pig tracks going toward the stin were straight while tracks going way from it were crooked.

Chicago, Ill.—Magician Eddie Cotts reported the theft of all his show animals—except four skunks. Smelling trouble, the thieves overlooked the four.

Hobby Department At Paso Robles USO
Figure and portrait sketching was added to the hobby department of the Paso Robles USO this week.

The new department is an undertaking of Mrs. Kathryn Root Wright, wife of Pvt. Oliver Wright of the 7th GM Bn., and all interested persons are invited to participate.

Leg Show Tonight At Main Theatre

The Hart-Osborn Show has been booked for a repeat performance here Saturday night in Theater No. 1. Doors open promptly at 1845, and choice seats are expected to go fast.

With a cast of 25 beautiful girls, the show is a fast paced color program with plenty of comedy, music, and gals.

Production numbers are planned to take you on an imaginary travelogue through distant lands of imaginary reverie.

The all-girl show is presented by Post Special Services, and admission is free to all military personnel and dependents.

New Look?

AFPS

Film star Jane Russell bustles along in a new costume which is designed to show off her legs, little noticed heretofore. Jane wears the costume in her new picture, "Son of Paleface," and she has heard no complaints voiced by her co-stars, Bob Hope, Roy Rogers and Trigger.

TINTYPE

Marilyn Maxwell calls herself a brunette with a blonde personality. She looks fragile and defenseless, but is loaded with old-fashioned courage.

While entertaining troops in Korea she learned her father had died. Midway to England she received word her mother has passed away. She kept performing for Service audiences, trying not to show her grief. She's traveled more than a million miles with Bob Hope entertaining troops at home and overseas. She wears glasses when not working. "Actually, the only time they interfere with my life is when a man wants to kiss me—and who needs glasses then?" She lives alone—says she likes it—with a black French poodle puppy.

Wife: "What'll I do? Baby's swallowed the matches."
Chief: "Here, use my lighter."

Money can't get you friends, but it can get you a better class of enemies.

There was a holdup in my house and they took everything but the soap... the dirty crooks.

Then there was the television fan who got up one morning, absent-mindedly turned on his radio, and thought he'd gone blind.

"That private across the street always reminds me of you."
"But he's short and fat—and I'm tall and thin."
"I know—but he owes me ten dollars, too."

Rifle Range

panies will get 30 hours of instruction on it, including four hours of classroom work in assembly and disassembly and sighting, plus two days of firing on the range.

The Familiarization Group of Faculty's Weapons Committee will control the training with 1st Lt. Wesley Cook and M/Sgt. Donald Prescott, handling the main instruction chores. The recoilless rifle has come into greater prominence in the Korean fighting as a hard hitting weapon of great mobility. It's primary purpose is as an anti-personnel and defensive bunker weapon, giving a highly accurate field of direct fire. The 75's power has been compared to that of light artillery right in the front lines. It has also proven outstandingly useful as a secondary defensive weapon against armor, backing up the infantry company's main defense, the rocket launcher.

Arranging his schedule so that everyone will be able to witness his billiards wizardry, Mr. Mills will appear first at Service Club No. 1 at both 2:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. For the convenience of those in East Garrison an exhibition will be held at 5:30 p. m. in the Service Club No. 2.

Here's an opportunity for those who have been trying out for the Service Club Pool Tournaments to pick up some cuestick pointers from a champion who knows. Mark this Saturday on your schedule as a must to witness a thrilling exhibition by the magician of the billiards table.

Looks At Books

There is nothing like a good adventure story and sometimes truth is more exciting than fiction. "MASTER SPY" by Ian Colvin tells the true story of Admiral Wilhelm Canaris, Adolf Hitler's Chief of Intelligence who was not only one of Hitler's most trusted officers, but who was also a secret ally of the British. From 1935 until late in 1944, Admiral Canaris directed military espionage and counter espionage for Hitler's Third Reich. This soft-spoken little man betrayed Hitler at every opportunity. Not only did he supply Hitler with the wrong information about British coastal defenses, but he helped save the life of Winston Churchill by purposely bungling a scheme for his assassination. Although this book is carefully documented, it reads like a spy thriller.

If you're interested in reading about an American's travels in the East and Middle East, you'll enjoy "STRANGE LANDS AND FRIENDLY PEOPLE" by Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas. Syria, Lebanon, Israel are only a few of the countries he visited. Not only is this book full of adventure, but also it shows what Western democracy is losing to Soviet propaganda.

Anyone interested in mountain climbing will enjoy "THE GRAND TRAVELER" by R. Frison-Roche. It is a story of the snow-capped Alps, a mountain guide and a city born girl on her first climb. The dangers of mountaineering with descriptions of breath taking climbs furnish exciting reading.

If you enjoy reading of far-away places, visit your libraries.

REQUIEM TO A COLD BIRD... Cooks, Cpl. John Pinto and Sgt. Donald D. DeLong of Div. Officer's Mess No. 4 talk turkey over the unhappy remains of a happy meal. The occasion was last week's Sunday evening supper party at the San Miguel USO where the two cooks lent their talents toward the preparation of the tasty roast turkey as well as heaping plates of Swedish meat balls, pizza, platters of potato salad, and scores of melt-in-your-mouth buttered hot rolls. A regular Sunday night feature for trainees from different Camp Roberts commands, last week's supper was sponsored by the San Miguel Community Church under the direction of Rev. Harold Cery. The meal was prepared under the supervision of Mrs. John H. Reardon of the USO Staff. Real home-made cake provided by the Adult Group of the Community Church served as a capper for the delicious buffet dinner. (Signal Photo).

A Scotsman, leaving on a business trip, called back as he was leaving: "Goodbye all, and dinna forget to take little Donald's glasses off when he isn't looking at anything."

Wife: "What'll I do? Baby's swallowed the matches."
Chief: "Here, use my lighter."

Side Pocket Ace To Show Artistry

Jimmy Mills, Pacific Coast Pocket Billiards Champion, is going to thrill Camp Roberts spectators when he displays his cuestick artistry at both Service Clubs Saturday, March 8th. He makes the most unbelievable shots believable and the most impossible ones possible.

Arranging his schedule so that everyone will be able to witness his billiards wizardry, Mr. Mills will appear first at Service Club No. 1 at both 2:30 p. m. and 3:30 p. m. For the convenience of those in East Garrison an exhibition will be held at 5:30 p. m. in the Service Club No. 2.

Dancer Wins Top Honors In Latest Talent Program

Pvt. Arthur Black from Co. D, 33 AEB emerged winner of the Camp Roberts Talent Contest in last Sunday evening's competition.

Black captured top honors with his "Dancing Demon" act which scored a solid "terrific" rating from an enthusiastic audience. The young entertainer danced professionally before entering the Army and has appeared in Broadway shows and on the Kate Smith and Horace Heidt shows in New York.

Second-prize winner was Mr. Wolfe Gilbert, civilian barber, who took the honors with what he termed his "New Look in Violins." Wolfe presented his distinctive rendition of a number of popular tunes on a homemade one-string violin he made from a cigar box.

Three-time winner, tenor Pvt. Earl Preston Jr., of Co. D of the 77th AIB dropped to third place in the winning bracket.

Other participants were Herman Hawkins, Richard Byrd, and Miss Patricia Davis. Young Miss Davis was accompanied by Cpl. Phillip Panseka.

Auditions will be held in Theater No. 1 next Sunday afternoon from 1400 to 1700 hours for the evening talent show. All post talent is urged to enter the competition and win valuable prizes and acclaim.

Service Sudsmen: Here's The Way We Wash Our Clothes

Maybe mom let you in on a few of her secrets for washing clothes before you joined the Service, but just in case she didn't, here are a few good washday tips that will save you time, wear and money.

Take wool, for example. The important thing to remember is that its fibers shrink in hot water. So, dissolve in alkalies from too-strong soap and break and stretch when twisted in wringing.

With this in mind, use soapy luke-warm water. If you can't heat the water use a soft soap in cold water. Use clean water.

Let soiled articles soak in a tub for 10 minutes or longer. Then wash by kneading or squeezing. This should be done to the inside or outside of the garment but never by rubbing one surface against another.

Then rinse well, squeezing out the water and stretching into shape. The garment then should be hung the way it is worn. Never wring woollens.

Wool socks take a little extra work. First they must be shaken out. Then the feet of the socks should be banged against the edge of the basin to remove loose dirt. Wash in clean soapy water, luke-warm or cold. Knead or squeeze only and don't rub the soap on them. The socks should be rinsed well on both sides, then squeezed and hung to dry, inside out.

Washing khaki trousers, khaki or cotton shirts and shorts is a somewhat different problem. Pockets must be turned inside out and shaken and brushed.

It is advisable to use hot water when washing. Soap should be rubbed in the soiled part, neckbands, cuffs, armpits and knees. The clothing should be scrubbed with a strong brush and put back in the water. Then it should be thoroughly rinsed.
