FAREWELL TO CHIEF

Colonel Hollister Leaves After Impressive Review

Officers and men of Camp Roberts said farewell to Colonel Paul G. Hollister, Chief of Staff, 7th Armored Division, at an impressive honor review on the main parade ground last Saturday morning.

With respect to both the number of troops participating and the number of spectators, the parade was one of the largest and most impressive held at Camp Roberts recently.

The esteem in which Colonel Hollister is held at Camp Roberts was expressed in an address by Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, who said:

"We say goodbye to our very able Chief of Staff, Colonel Paul Hollister and Mrs. Hollister.

"This morning they leave for Norfolk, Virginia, where Colonel Hollister will study at the staff college.

"We shall miss them greatly. Camp Roberts was closed after the last war and was left in charge of a caretaking force of only eight people. Reactivation of the camp was entrusted to Colonel Hollister who carried out his task in a most able manner."

The commanding general then presented to Colonel Hollister a Certificate of Achievement which carried the following tribute:

"Colonel Paul G. Hollister, 029547, Infantry, 7th Armored Division, during his service from 15 October 1950 to 1 August 1952, performed all of his duties in a distinguished manner. He displayed extraordinary initiative in planning and coordinating the complex task of activating the division and utilizing camp areas. As Chief of Staff from 24 November 1950 to 1 August 1952, his superior and harmonious management of the staff contributed immeasurably to the rapid progress of the division. His intense interest, sound judgment and loyal devotion to duty reflect credit of the highest order upon himself and this command."

Following presentation of the Certificate of Achievement, General Partridge and Colonel Hollister inspected the 7th Armored Division. The division then passed in review as seven planes flew over the parade ground dipping their wings in salute.

Colonel Hollister was originally selected to organize Headquarters of the 7th Armored Division in October of 1950. He came to division headquarters at Camp Roberts on November 11 of that year and has served as chief of the staff since that time.

The Chief of Staff achieved recognition for his excellence in planning and coordinating the activation of the division and the utilization of camp areas.

Under the supervision of General Partridge he was instrumental in developing the Post Motor Pool to a point where it is known as the finest motor pool in the Sixth Army Area and one of the finest in the entire country. Colonel Hollister in particular realized the importance of motorized equipment in the training program, and he gave the motor pool every opportunity and encouragement to develop its exceptionally high standards.

Enlisting with Montana National Guard in 1926, Colonel Hollister served for three years before being discharged to accept a second lieutenant's commission in the guard. He remained in the National Guard until his induction into Federal Service in 1940. The Rifle and Heavy Weapons Commanders Course at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., was the colonel's first assignment. He finished the course first in a class of 156.

During World War II, the colonel served in the Southwest Pacific Theater for 42 months with the famed 41st Infantry Division. While on duty there, Colonel Hollister was awarded the Silver Star with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Bronze Star with Oak Leaf Cluster and letter "V" Device, Air Medal, Combat Infantry Badge, Distinguished Unit Citation and the Pacific Theater Ribbon with four Campaign Stars and arrow-head for amphibious landings.

Following a short tour of duty at Camp Roberts at the close of World War II, the colonel attended the European Staff Officers Study Course at Columbia University. Prior to leaving for duty at Columbia, Colonel Hollister took examinations for a regular Army commission and was accepted and integrated into the Army while attending school.

Fresh from his studies on Europe, the colonel was assigned to the European Theater for three years of occupation duty. During his tour there he served for a short time with the United Nations Truce Commission in the Middle East.

Called back from his European assignment to attend the Air Universities Command and Staff College, the colonel was assigned to the G3 (training) section, Sixth Army Headquarters, upon graduation from the school. It was from this position that he was selected to organize the 7th Armored Division.

Rules Outlined For Combat Pay

Washington — Under the recently passed Combat Duty Pay Act of 1952 entitling Korean veterans to extra compensation, certain restrictions have been outlined.

To be entitled to combat pay during a month the individual must have been subjected to hostile fire for not less than six days while serving with a combat group, vessel or aircraft. However, if the individual received incentive or special pay (aviation, submarine, parachute, medical or dental), he is not entitled to combat pay for that month.

Claim forms will be distributed by the Department of Defense in the near future for those veterans entitled to the payment. A delay in the settlement of the claims is expected because of the large number of payments and additional inquiries.

General Palmer Arrives Here For Inspection

Major General Charles D. Palmer, formerly Inspector of Artillery and now G-3 for Army Field Forces, arrived at Camp Roberts by plane Tuesday afternoon to inspect training.

General Palmer went to Hunter Liggett Military Reservation yesterday to inspect the artillery of the 44th Infantry Division.

After serving as division artillery commander of the 1st Cavalry Division in Korea, General Palmer took over command of the division when he was a two-star general.

General Palmer had previously been at Camp San Luis Obispo and came from that post by plane to the East Garrison air strip where he was greeted by Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General.

Dischargees Get Muster-out Pay

Men discharged from Camp Roberts will receive $100 muster-out pay from now on, according to the Post Finance Office.

This new phase was started last Monday, according to a directive from Washington and Sixth Army headquarters, Presidio, San Francisco.

Low Railroad Fares Extended To 1953

Reduced railroad fares for servicemen traveling in uniform at their own expense have been extended to 31 January 1953.

Servicemen pay at the rate of 2.25 cents per mile. The railroads grant such low fares to servicemen provided they are in uniform and show official executive leave of absence, furlough or pass papers to the ticket agent.

Post Leads Area In Blood Donation

Camp Roberts leads the entire Sixth Army area in donations to the Armed Forces Blood Donor Program. A total of 11,931 pints of blood have been collected on Post in the past nine months.

The blood bank is operated here several days a month by the Santa Clara Valley Regional Blood Center and volunteers from nearby communities. It is directed by M/Sgt. Eugene Chapman and SFC James Geering.

Most Servicemen Old Enough To Vote

The Department of Defense has estimated that 80 percent of Service personnel are old enough to vote in the coming presidential election. However, officials believe that the 1952 Service vote will run slightly less than one million.

CHARACTER GUIDANCE — The words of General George Washington are brought to the attention of basic trainees by Post Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Albert W. Nickel. The chaplain is conducting a character guidance lecture on clean speech, as one of the series of seven lectures given by the chaplains to all new men undergoing eight or sixteen weeks of Infantry basic training at Camp Roberts. The Chaplain's Corps of the United States Army observed the 177th anniversary of its founding last week. (Signal Photo).

177TH ANNIVERSARY

Chaplains' Corps Founded During Revolutionary War

The Chaplains' Corps, which has been in service at Camp Roberts since the camp opened in 1941 and the reactivation in 1950, celebrated the 177th anniversary of its Revolutionary War founding last week.

The normal chaplain complement at Camp Roberts is nine, although there are only five at the present time due to the recent leaving of three chaplains for FEGCOM.

On July 29, 1775, in the midst of our struggle for independence, the Continental Congress made provisions for the establishment of the Chaplaincy in the Revolutionary Army of General George Washington.

In this manner, the men of deep religious faith who brought this nation into being, recognized the fundamental role of the minister in sustaining the high moral purpose and indomitable spirit of the American soldier. One hundred seventy-seven years later the minister-priest-rabbi turned chaplain continues to give comfort to and inspire strength in the soldier.

One of the most important duties of a chaplain is ministering to the moral and spiritual needs of young men just entering the Army. During this period the man must adjust himself to the change from civilian to military life. It is to his religious heritage and the chaplain, that the new soldier may look for courage and strength in adjusting his life to the new situation.

In the frame chapels dispersed throughout the post occur the counterpart of all those religious rites, observances, and activities that are normally found in civilian life. The Sunday School, the morning service, the evening Fellowship, the choir for the Protestants; the Sunday and daily mass, the Saturday night confession, the Wednesday evening Novena Devotions, the instructional classes of the Catholic; and the Hebrew Friday evening welcome make up only a part of the chaplains' activities.

Besides hospital bedside services and visits, the chaplain spends much of his time as a personal counsellor. It is to him that countless young men and women come for aid and advice, for comfort and compassion, and for strength in times of trouble.

On the fields of battle, the varied missions of the chaplain are increased. He must seek to help keep alive in the soldier the strength of spirit and the sense of right that will make him willing to fight an enemy.

Under the supervision of the chaplaincy at Camp Roberts is the Character Guidance lecture program. These lectures relate to the moral and spiritual being of the serviceman.

Lieutenant Colonel Albert W. Nickel is Division Chaplain at Camp Roberts. Captain Arthur E. Mills and Frederick H. Oglivie conduct Protestant services and Captains Anthony J. Sokol and Gerald F. Clune, Catholic. Mr. Harry Kulick, Director of the Paso Robles USO gives Jewish services.

Blood Center Open On 27, 28 August

The Camp Roberts Blood Donor Center, Bldg. 990, will be open Wednesday and Thursday, 27 August and 28 August.

Make it a point to stop in and donate a pint of blood. The life you save may be your own. Ask yourself—is there a possibility that I may need two or three pints of blood someday, somewhere in Korea?

Safety Thought

Remember: Drinking always adds danger to driving. Whatever traffic problem you may run into, your risks are doubled if you've been drinking.

Maybe you can handle your liquor—but when you drink let the other fellow handle the steering wheel.

Camp Roberts Veterans Re-Enlist

RE-ENLIST—Captain Lawrence Hayes, Post Re-Enlisting Officer, swears in a group of men who re-enlisted recently. The recruiting office is located in Bldg. 3222. Vets of Korea, who have 12 months left to serve on their current tour of duty, can apply for transfer to EUCOM.

Extensions are permitted for this purpose. Korean vets can also re-enlist for their own vacancy prior to submitting transfer application providing they have completed their present normal tour of duty. (Signal Photo).

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

"Work Is Healthy"

By CHAPLAIN (CAPT.) ANTHONY J. SOKOL

The famous preacher Beecher exhorted his audience once to have a high regard for work, as a solvent for worry. "Work is healthy! You can hardly put more on a man than he can bear. But worry is rust upon the blade. It is not movement that destroys the machinery, but friction."

And in Harper's Magazine, sometime ago, I recall having read about a detailed study into the reasons why people grow old and die. And apart from disease over which we have little or no control, I gleaned the general summation that the heart trouble which causes millions of deaths annually is provoked chiefly by worry over matters which never repay the time wasted on them, and which breed a race of brooders prone to disease and death.

Not for nothing have men such as Mohandas Gandhi (known better as Mahatma Gandhi) or Jawaharlal Nehru—both the leaders of India—achieved such mastery of their fellow men. Their poise and freedom from useless care, whether in jail or traveling about the country almost ceaselessly (Nehru journeyed 100,000 miles over India, in a little over a year, which is SOME traveling in India, where the railroads are few, and primitive methods obtain), their calm and placid acceptance of whatever comes enables them to lead full lives, crowded and busy, but devoid of all the frenzied agitation that characterizes our own businessmen or other leaders.

Have you ever noticed that the men who really amount to something are the ones who have learned how to take things in their stride—and "take it easy"? They might be busy and have myriads of affairs waiting on their attention, but they somehow emanate an effortless manner in handling their affairs. Lincoln, President Roosevelt, Edison, Ford, typical Americans all, yet all of them stamped with that indefinable ability to get things done without worrying about them to the extent they are deeply affected in their next task.

Pvt. Aiken Top Man

Private Legree Aiken was selected as the honor student of class No. 9, NCO School Division Faculty, recently. The announcement was made at graduation ceremonies. Private Aiken, from Detroit, Michigan, was congratulated by Captain John Thompson, assistant chief of Division Faculty.

Send Applications For Mustering Out Pay To St. Louis

Any member of the Army who is currently serving on active duty and who is entitled to mustering-out pay should submit a signed application and the original Report of Separation from the Armed Forces (DD Form 214) to the U. S. Army Finance Center, St. Louis 20, Missouri (attention: Mustering-out Pay Branch).

This information comes from Sixth Army Memo No. 396.

The law covering mustering-out pay states that this money will be paid to enlisted personnel and officers below the rank of major and lieutenant commander.

Exact amounts of the payments are $100 for less than 60 days of service, $200 for more than 60 days service without foreign duty and $300 for more than 60 days service including foreign duty, according to the Armed Forces Press Service.

New Executive Officer At 6100

LIEUTENANT COLONEL Clarence W. Reece, recently returned from Japan, has been assigned to Camp Roberts as executive officer of 6100 ASU. He has a long record of Army service, dating back to 1924. During World War II, he was in North Africa, India, Burma and China. (Signal Photo).

Custodial Forum At Service Club

A custodial forum will be held tomorrow afternoon at Service Club beginning at 1330 hours.

Purpose of the forum is to instruct personnel how to use janitorial supplies in the proper manner. This forum is another step in the cut consciousness program at Camp Roberts, purpose of which is to make everyone aware of the cost of military equipment and of the necessity for its conservation.

Mr. Irving Goldstein, an executive of a San Francisco supply and paper company is flying to Camp Roberts to instruct the forum.

All persons having anything to do with janitorial supplies are invited to attend this conference.

Army Offering Top Assignments To Reenlistees

Washington (AFPS)—The Army has launched a concerted drive to retain on active duty as many qualified and experienced personnel as possible.

Outlining its campaign in DA Circular 57, the Army explains the various choices and assignments that are open to personnel who elect to stay on active duty. Enlistments are for periods of three, four, five and six years but those who have permanent grades of E-5, E-6 and E-7 may reenlist for an unspecified period.

Various options, too, are open to men who decide in favor of staying on. For example, a man serving in the ZI who reenlists may have a choice of assignments to fill any vacancy currently existing in any installation in the continental U. S. He may also have a choice of assignment, if qualified, to the Army Language School, Counter Intelligence Corps or Army Security Agency.

The circular lists seven options and give detailed information on how enlistment in the Regular Army from any one of the Reserve components or reenlistment will affect grades, temporary promotions, bonuses and extensions.

Schedule New Classrooms For Regimental Areas

Bids have been let and construction plans are underway for ten new classroom buildings. These buildings are in addition to classroom buildings under construction for Leaders' Course.

Construction completion date is expected to be about sixty days. The buildings will be scattered throughout the various combat command areas.

One purpose in the building of these additional classrooms is to allow trainees to get to classrooms with the least amount of movement.

Private Killed In Auto Mishap

Reprinted from the San Francisco Chronicle—Twenty-one year old Don Gerken was well known as a speed demon behind the wheel.

Gerken, a private at Camp Roberts, had received 17 citations in the past two years, mostly for speeding. Once his license was suspended for 60 days. Once he was given an official warning—after he had his fourth accident.

Early yesterday, driving with a probationary license, he was at it again—racing along the Eastshore Freeway (Oakland). And at the 23rd Avenue turn-off he had his fifth, and final, accident.

His car knocked down five steel posts, ripped out 55 feet of steel fence and overturned.

Druilhet Is Honor Man

Bill Of Rights Topic For TIC

Scheduled as the Troop Information Conference topic for next week is a discussion of the first ten amendments to the Constitution of the United States, commonly known as the Bill of Rights, and a comparison of these amendments with the Communist system.

Citizens of the United States are guaranteed certain rights and freedoms. Among them are freedom of religion, speech, press, assembly, and petition, as expressed in the first article of the Bill of Rights. Citizens of a Communist state are denied these and other privileges.

The ingredient of the freedom poster for this week—"With full protection under the law"—also illustrates the liberty and freedoms that our people have preserved for themselves through our government.

Basic Starts Here For 600 New Men

Three companies started basic training here this week with approximately 200 men in each unit. A of the 31st MTB and A of the 48th AIB both started 16 week cycles, while A of the 33rd AIB started an 8 week cycle.

General Champeny At Carolina School

Brig. Gen. Arthur S. Champeny, Assistant Division Commander, left Camp Roberts last week for the Air-Ground Liaison School at Southern Pines, North Carolina.

"Dud" Explosion Fatal To Trainee

Despite blood donations from members of his training unit and WAC and civilian personnel, Private Richard D. Conger, a trainee with C of the 77th AIB, died on 30 July as a result of injuries received on the previous day when a "dud" bazooka round exploded.

On 29 July, Private Conger, 24, was with his unit, firing non-explosive practice rounds with the 3.5 rocket launcher. He was helping with the cleaning up process when the fatal accident occurred. While moving over the terrain, Private Conger accidentally kicked a high explosive dud which had been fired during the wet weather and buried in the mud. The round had evidently pushed to the surface when the ground dried out during the hot weather. The area had previously been cleared of all known duds by a bomb disposal squad.

Private Conger's left leg was injured and his right hand and left wrist were fractured. It was necessary to amputate his leg.

Trainees Rate Bonus For Re-Enlisting

Trainees can re-enlist in the Regular Army and take advantage of bonuses paid to men who do so. Any trainee interested in re-enlisting must notify the Post Recruiting Office, Bldg. 3222, three weeks prior to completion of basic training.

Basic trainees who enlist for three years are entitled to a bonus of $90; four year, $160; five years, $250; and six years, $360.

The Right Of Trial By Jury

THIS COURTROOM scene portrays vividly the title of the current freedom poster entitled "With Full Protection Under The Law." Americans have enjoyed for many years the right to a fair trial by jury, as this poster shows.

The poster is part of a series displayed here and on other installations to help better cultivate an appreciation for foundations of American liberty.

Quartermasters Take Golf Championship

Seventh Quartermaster walked away with the inter-regimental golf trophy as they dominated the field of top golfers in the Camp Roberts' Amateur Golf Tournament held at Morro Bay Golf Club last week.

Eight of the leading golfers are now striving for places on the six man team that will represent the camp in the Sixth Army southern division tournament at the Presidio of San Francisco starting August 12.

In the senior division golf play Colonel Augustus J. Regnier, commanding officer of 6109 ASU, won with a carding of 80-77-157. Runner-up was Colonel George Horsfall, post surgeon, with 80-86-166. The two will represent Camp Roberts in the senior division play at the Presidio.

Leading the championship aggregation from the Quartermasters was Tommy Williams. His all tourney low one-round score of 28 combined with a 73 on the second trip around for a 141 total gave him a five stroke lead over his nearest rival.

Williams was followed by teammate R. Nordstrom who chalked up two 73's for a total of 146.

In third place and only one stroke off Nordstrom's pace was B. V. Hanson from the Leaders' Course. His match scores for the two rounds were 75-72.

These three men will probably be competitors in the San Francisco tournament next week. The remaining three places on the six man team will not be known until the other five men who place high in the camp tournament have had a chance to play through a few more rounds in individual and team competition.

Yet to be broken is a three way tie that developed for fourth place in the camp tournament.

G. Rausch and H. A. Freer both of 7th QM had identical scores of 75-75-150. Charley Hunt of DivArty made the second round with a two stroke bulge over his first round total of 74 for another 150. Other golfers who will be candidates for the camp team are Jim Hoogs of 7th QM and Sgt. Malchaski of ResCom who took fifth and sixth places.

After the preliminary tournament at San Francisco the five medalists will go north to Ft. Lewis for the championship tournament Aug. 26-29.

In the five-man team scoring, the Quartermasters' low total was 49, far ahead of second-place 80 ASU's 804. Reserve command was third with 832 and DivArty was fourth with 951.

Dolphis Smith

Sergeant Dolphis Smith has been interviewed for selection as representative of the Sixth Army at the All-Army Pistol Matches in September at Fort Benning, Georgia.

SFC Dolphis Smith, Leaders' Course Field Committee, has been competing in small arms firing since 1947. In that year while in the Far East Command, he entered a small arms tournament. Sgt. Smith won second place in both bore rifle and pistol competition.

At subsequent matches he maintained a good record. At Camp Drake, Japan, in 1950, he took first place in pistol and second place in small bore firing.

Recently he took second place in the 7th Armored Division's pistol matches. His team came in first.

Sgt. Smith is a veteran of World War II and Korea. He has received the Combat Infantry Badge with a star for Korea, the Purple Heart and other decorations.

Marines Fan The Breeze On TV As Roberts' Men Win

What is that story about one good Marine? The hard punching men from Camp Roberts didn't let it bother them in their recent encounter with the leathernicks.

Camp Roberts greeted the Camp Pendleton Marines with fast leather slinging last Thursday on the T.V. boxing matches, "America's Fighting Champions." When the Marines landed they ended up flat on their back and in almost every instance there was a Camp Roberts' mittman still standing.

The Army boxers proved their right to the title of "Champions" as they battled out three first-round technical knockouts. In only two bouts did the Marines manage to win from Roberts' fighters.

From the opening round Roberts' boxers showed the land and sea boys that they were out to win.

Jim Kinsey, 136, only took 55 seconds to teach Ivan Kneeling, 131, of the Third Marine Division that he had met a better man.

Kinsey started on the Marine's chin, shifted to his body for a moment, and then smashed a right to the jaw to end the match as the referee untangled Kneeling from the ropes.

Charles Hair, 174, took a little longer in his boxing lesson for Herschel Martin, 173. The match was called in 2 minutes and 5

Special Services will present a boxing smoker at the Sports Arena tonight. Admission will be free to all Camp Roberts' personnel and their dependents.

The smoker, featuring eight novice bouts, will start at 2000 hours.

In past weeks smoker fans have seen some good action and exciting rounds. Tonight should be no exception.

seconds of the first round after Hair dropped Martin to the canvas twice with lefts to the chin.

John Garritty, 135, registered a TKO over Marine Efrin Batencourt as he opened up a deep cut over the right eye of his opponent. The bout was called in 1 minute and 58 seconds of the first round.

Two more bouts ended in decisions with the Army picked all the way over the Marines.

Rex Sumner worked for four rounds before picking up the vote over Bill Carney.

Norm Walker at 145 also won the judges favor as his boxing skill earned him a decision from DeWitt Lucas, 147.

The two boxers from Camp Roberts who lost their bouts were Bill Fuller, 152, and Mas Unemoto, 127.

Fuller lost a decision to Harry Fleck, 154, while Unemoto, was decided by Angelo Comfarto, 126.

Forty-six years ago John McGraw was baseball's leading manager. Ty Cobb was only a Detroit rookie. Jim Jeffries was about to retire as undefeated heavyweight boxing champion and football had just been legalized. And in March of 1906 at Paris, an 18-year-old "boy wonder" upset Maurice Vignaux in balkline billiards to win his first world title.

... new faces hold today's sports interest, except in billiards. There, Willie Hoppe still rules. No longer a boy wonder, Hoppe, at 64, is the graying emperor of billiards.

Even today that must change. He's announced his possible retirement this summer from a field he clearly dominated for almost a half century.

From 1914 to 1940 Willie was undisputed king of balkline play. It looked as if nothing or no one could stop him. The promoters thought they had a way. They shifted championship play from balkline to three-cushion billiards.

Ten hours of sleep a night and five hours of practice daily helped Hoppe maintain his overall superiority. He passes up movies and reading to save his eyes and limps his cigarettes to help his wind. Eleven times he was three-cushion champion. Sometimes deposited, but always bouncing back as master, Willie virtually spread-eagled his field for 46 years. His flawless control and positive conviction won him many triumphs.

Deadline Near For 500 Deer Hunters

Five hundred California hunters will be given a chance to take part in an either-sex deer hunting season next November in the Barton's Flat area of Fresno and Tulare counties, under rulings just announced by the Fish and Game Commission.

The special period from November 16 to 29 is necessary because the animals do not migrate down from the adjacent Kings' Canyon National Park until after the local mating season.

To qualify, hunters must:
1. Appear in person at the Fresno office of the Department of Fish and Game between 8:00 a. m. and 5:00 p. m., August 15 or 16.

2. Present a hunting license and deer tag.

3. Take their chances in a lottery-type drawing.

4. Appear in person at the Fresno office between August 20 and 23 to purchase a $5 special permit if their application has been drawn.

Frank Kuzara pitched the three straight shutouts for the team which will now move into Inter-Regimental play.

All Stars Defeat Coalinga Oilers, 4-1

Behind the one hit pitching of Whit Ulrich and Don Payne, the Camp Roberts All Stars defeated the Coalinga Oilers 4-1 at Coalinga.

Ray Burtner hit the longest blow of the game with a 380-foot home run over the left field fence in the 7th inning.

Bill Bullock enjoyed a perfect night at bat by getting 3 for 3. Vern Highfield and Gene Grigiski each hit two while Al Mouton pulled a triple to deep centerfield to drive in a run in the fifth inning.

Kuzara Hurls Three Shutouts For DivArty

Headquarters Battery came out on top in the DivArty Regional Softball Tournament.

In their four games during the tourney the winning team piled up a total of forty-four runs while allowing their opponents only four. All four runs were scored in the championship game which they won from Company C of the 48th AFAB, the runner-ups, 6-4.

Frank Kuzara pitched the three straight shutouts for the team which will now move into Inter-Regimental play.

Benson Goes To Semi-Finals, Loses Match

Camp Roberts champion Leonard (Buzz) Benson went his way to the semi-finals of the southern division Sixth Army tennis tournament of Fort Huachuca, Arizona, but lost three straight to Bryant of Huachuca and was eliminated from tourney play.

Red Caps Signal Danger For Deer In Hunter Liggett

Red is a very dangerous color. If any buck deer in Hunter Liggett Military Reservation have any brains they will steer clear of the color when the State season opens next Saturday.

Soldier hunters from Camp Roberts will join the scarlet parade wearing red caps (furnished by the Reservation) in addition to their regular uniform or fatigues.

Due to extensive training in the area during the coming season the camp Provost Marshal is limiting the number of hunters in the area to 10 a day.

Army nimrods must abide by California State hunting regulations as well as orders from the post Provost Marshal. A state permit and a deer tag are required in addition to the permit from the Provost Marshal's office.

Applications must be in to the camp office five days in advance of the day the individual wishes to hunt on. Drawings will be held to determine the ten lucky hunters and they will be notified by the Provost Marshal that they may pick up their permits at the Reservation Headquarters.

The controlled hunting on the training reservation will be open to all military personnel on extended military duty and their immediate dependents.

No cooking or smoking will be allowed in the area.

Softball Swings Into High Gear

With the Inter-Regimental Softball tournament starting Monday interest in the "little cousin" sport is high and many bench generals are already looking towards the finals.

By today all the units on post have picked their teams and until Monday will be shaping them up around their respective diamonds.

The winning team in the tournament will compete in the Sixth Army Softball Preliminary Tournament, August 25-30 at Fort Ord.

The eleven-day post tournament will be a double elimination affair with all games to be seven innings.

As in most of the Inter-Regimental tourneys a forfeit win will be given to any team when the opposing team fails to show up within fifteen minutes of the 1715 starting deadline.

Special Services will bring the balls, bases, and umpires. The units only have to bring the players, bats, and cheering sections.

So You Think You Know Baseball!

By HARRY SIMMONS

(Reprinted by special permission of the Saturday Evening Post. Copyright 1952 by the Curtis Publishing Company.)

The difference between right and wrong in baseball is sometimes a fine, hairline distinction. Take this hypothetical situation in a major-league setting:

Say Cincinnati has New York, 1-0, as the Giants come to bat in the fifth at Crosley Field. Lockman lashes a single to left, ad-question of a balk and throws the ball home. It is apparent that Lockman will be out, but the batter, sizing up the situation fast, slashes at the ball and drives a single into right field.

Immediately the Reds claim the batter interfered with the play at the plate, while the Giants argue that he had every right to hit at the pitcher's delivery.

If you were the umpire, how would you rule?

ANSWER
The batter is out for interference.

Under the circumstances, the man on the mound is not a pitcher, but an infielder. (See Section 8.01e: "If the pitcher removes his pivot foot from contact with the pitcher's plate by stepping backward with the foot, he thereby becomes an infielder...")

Had there been fewer than two out, Lockman, not the batter, would have been declared out for the latter's interference under Section 7.08g: "Any base runner is out when he attempts to score on a play in which the batter interferes with the play at home base with less than two out..."

Manager Durocher now orders a steal home. As the Red's pitcher goes into his stretch, Lockman breaks for the plate. The pitcher promptly backs completely off the rubber, so as to avoid any

LARGE CROWD SEES HOLLYWOOD SHOW

Leigh and Curtis Lead Star-Studded Troupe

FOLLOW ME—Beautiful Janet Leigh dons a Leadership helmet liner for two Leaders' Course students who gladly welcome this lovely star. Miss Leigh and her husband Tony Curtis paced a star-studded revue from Hollywood through two hours of wonderful entertainment at Theater One last Sunday afternoon. PFC Bernard A. McEntee (left) and PFC William R. Slaneck (right) both agree that Janet is a leader of men. (Signal Photo.)

Movie stars Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis led a show by some of the top people in the business last Sunday afternoon at Theater One. The Hollywood performers brought two hours of glamour and talent to the overflowing audience that filled the theater.

Such outstanding performers as Barbara Ruick, Tommy Morton, Danny Arnold and many more stars of the entertainment world took time out to bring a very fine show to Camp Roberts.

Comedian Danny Arnold, who acted as spokesman and master of ceremonies for the troupe, opened the show with an unusual but timely monologue of Army training centers and the inevitable happenings of basic training.

Keeping the show at a nice pace, Mr. Arnold gave his impression of a typical Hollywood cowboy and aided many of the hilarious skits throughout the two-hour performance.

Janet Leigh and hubby Tony Curtis highlighted the show by enacting several routines which kept the audience howling from start to finish. The beautiful and versatile Miss Leigh proved that "Cameras Don't Lie" as she stepped forth and sang "There Must Be Something Better Than Love."

Selecting a rather shy but very willing young soldier from the audience, Miss Leigh handed him a glass of water on a plate, informing him that the object was for him to hold the water-filled glass without spilling any while she went through a few intimate caresses singing to him, "I've Got a Crush On You." Needless to say by the time the song was over, both looked as though they should have brought their raincoats.

Handsome Tony Curtis stopped the show with his take-off of "Harmone," the famous magician. Dressed in a poor man's Mandrake costume, Tony, aided by wife Janet, kept everyone in stitches as he romped through his routine of mystery, mirth, and magic.

Gorgeous Barbara Ruick, a petite blond in a shimmering black gown, thrilled the soldier audience with her beautiful voice to the number, "I Don't Know Why I Say No, No, No, When I Want To Say Yes, Yes, Yes." For an encore the lovely singer directed her voice to every individual in the crowded theater with an intimate version of "I'm In the Mood For Love."

Another top spot in the show was provided by Tommy Morton. The young picture star did some marvelous footwork to the tune "Lover," and scored again with his dancing and singing to "S'Wonderful." Mr. Morton was seen recently at Camp Roberts' theaters in the film, "Wait Till the Sun Shines, Nellie."

Mac Davis and Jerry Livingston, two of the nation's most outstanding song writers, helped make the show the great success it was as they sang and played some of their own compositions including "La Vie en Rose," "It's Love, Love, Love," "Mairzy Doats," "Under a Blanket of Blue," "Cha Baba, Cha Baba," "Sunflower," and "Candy." Universal, Paramount, and Metro Goldwyn Mayer Studios made the showing of all these stars possible.

Service Club One Features Weekly Entertainment

A varied program of entertainment and recreation for soldiers is scheduled weekly at Service Club One. Many different activities are presented every day.

The regular Saturday night party for this week is an Autumn Festival. The program promises a wonderful evening of entertainment with a talent show, complete with audience participation, scheduled along with games and free refreshments.

In keeping with the theme, the Club will be decorated with fall season of the year, including autumn leaves and bonfires.

Every Sunday afternoon, the music room is reserved from 1400 until 1600 hours for a classical music hour. Selections from the Club's large record library provide the music.

The Theater Workshop meets on Monday nights to plan and rehearse plays and shows for Camp Roberts presentation. All personnel of the camp and their dependents are invited to attend and take part in these meetings regardless of their theatrical background.

Anyone interested in any phase of drama can put his knowledge to use at the Workshop. The group is currently working on a show to be produced in the near future. Besides the numerous soldiers enrolled in the Workshop, eleven girls take part, and plan to appear in the next production. Benny Miller, director of "Basic Kellyhoo," is directing the show.

On Wednesday nights the club sponsors a dancing class, teaching every type of dancing from the samba to jitterbugging. Miss Barbara Rhea, who conducts a dancing studio in Paso Robles, instructs the class.

These are just a few of the many activities that await the soldier at Service Club One every night and weekend.

Beginners are especially urged to attend these classes, and special attention will be given to those who are interested in learning the fundamentals of the waltz and fox-trot.

Wives and friends of enlisted personnel are cordially invited to attend.

What Happens To Cadets' Hats Thrown In Air?

You know those graduation pictures you see every year showing graduating midshipmen and cadets flinging their hats into the air? Ever wonder how they get them back?

Ancient legend has it that upon entrance to either the Naval or Military Academy the plebe begins practicing throwing his hat high into the air and retrieving it with accuracy. This he does for four years, throwing it higher and higher as he progresses toward graduation.

If he cannot master the deft art, special tutors are called in to prep him for the big moment. Thus, by the time he is ready to graduate he is an expert thrower and retriever. No height is too high. He can throw and retrieve with the best of them.

But ancient legends sometimes exaggerate. The truth is that the middle or cadet flings his hat into the air with reckless abandon. He throws it away. He doesn't need it any more. Instead he stands aside and lets the undergraduates or visitors scramble for them. It is considered has last act of college frivolity before he shoulders the burdens of the world.

Paso Robles USO Views Variety Show

Highlight of the program at the Paso Robles USO Club last weekend was a Camp Roberts Variety Show. Led by John Morrison at the piano, the show was fast moving and well received by the audience.

John Prewitt and Carolyn Morrison shared the chores as emcees, while Herman Hawkins and Fritz Milo rendered several vocal numbers. Also appearing in the show were dancers Pete De Perro and Joan Schultz.

Looks At Books

Read any good books lately? If you haven't now is the time to begin.

"MY INDIA" by Jim Corbett is a series of stories grouped around the central character of Colonel Corbett. Most of the people of whom he writes, the men and women of his village where he lived for many years and the laborers who worked with him at a railway depot, were his trusted and devoted friends.

He tells of their courage and heroism in the story of the young man who, unarmed and unaided, rescued his "Brother" from the jaws of a tiger, and he portrays their fatalistic acceptance of destiny when he describes how the unknown traveler prepares to die alone and silently on the banks of the Ganges.

Interested in reading about one of the most hazardous underground operations of the last war? Then don't miss "ACROSS TO NORWAY" by David Howarth which is the story of how Norwegian sailors smuggled arms and equipment to occupied Norway across hundreds of miles of open ocean from the Shetland Islands northeast of Scotland. Some of the journeys were 2,000 miles long and lasted three weeks; all of them, since they needed the protection screen of darkness, were made in the depth of the sub-Arctic winter in some of the stormiest seas of the world.

69th Infantry Convention Set

Just one more chance... Please, Sergeant!

Record Review

by Pvt. Jerry Littman

Prior to his induction into the Army some 15 months ago, Eddie Fisher, now PFC Fisher, was a popular, rising young singer with six hit records to his credit.

These hit records include "Anytime," "Tell Me Why," "Trust In Me," "Forgive Me," "That's The Chance You Take" and "I'm Yours."

Now Eddie's a concert soloist for the Army band in Washington, D.C. But not for long. As this is being written he's on his way to perform for troops fighting in Korea. The young singer has asked, specifically, to go to Korea. He received permission from the commanding general of the Washington Military District, Major General E. K. Wright.

During his fifteen months of service, Eddie has toured the country for recruiting and blood donor campaigns, as well as for the Community Chest and other civic causes.

RECORDS—Columbia came out recently with an album arranged and conducted by Paul Weston. It's called "Melodies For A Sentimental Mood." Two popular songs in the album are "This Can't Be Love" and "Why Shouldn't I?"

Another album from Columbia is Percy Faith's "Fascinating Rhythms." Here you'll find a variety of music—samba, rumba, waltz, tango and fox-trot.

Stan Freberg continues to make some unique records. Witness his Capitol recording of "Try," which is nothing more than a take-off on Johnny Ray's "Cry."

FIGURE CRITIQUE

There are only two stars in Hollywood who have perfect figures.

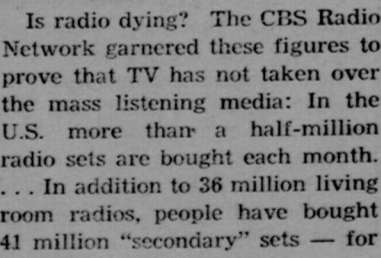

This verdict comes from Al and Estelle Allardale, operators of a fashion shop in Hollywood. "The exceptions are Elizabeth Taylor and Marilyn Monroe. All other stars have some defect or defects," the husband-and-wife band announced. "And even Liz and Marilyn are not completely perfect. No one can be that good. Miss Taylor lacks maturity, which is an important part of beauty. And Miss Monroe must dress very carefully, or she will look cheap. Beauty is merely a matter of fashion. Venus De Milo is supposed to be the epitome of graceful form. Perhaps she was, in her time. But if you saw the same figure in a bathing suit today, it would be considered too fat."

LAST GASP?—Is radio dying? The CBS Radio Network garnered these figures to prove that TV has not taken over the mass listening media: In the U.S. more than a half-million radio sets are bought each month. . . . In addition to 36 million living room radios, people have bought 41 million "secondary" sets — for kitchen, bedroom, and dens . . . and 23 million sets for automobiles . . . clock radios are selling at 100,000 a month. The survey concluded that in total listening, people spend more time with the radio than any other medium.
