Serving The Combat Infantryman In Training

Vol. 3—No. 2

CAMP ROBERTS PARADE, CAMP ROBERTS, CALIFORNIA

Thursday, 23 October, 1952

COLONEL IRVING LEHRFELD, veteran of World War II and the Korean conflict, has taken over as Chief of Staff. (Shannon Photo).

NEW CHIEF OF STAFF

Colonel Lehrfeld Comes To Post From Far East

Colonel Irving Lehrfeld, a veteran of World War II and the Korean Conflict, has come to Camp Roberts as the new Chief of Staff.

Arriving here Monday, Colonel Lehrfeld took over the post vacated last August when Colonel Paul G. Hollister left Camp Roberts for a new assignment in Norfolk, Virginia. Lt. Col. Don A. Mason, who has been serving as Acting Chief of Staff in the interim, has resumed his regular duties as Deputy Chief of Staff.

26th Truck Bn. Rates Superior In Inspection

High superior ratings are the rewards won by the 26th Transportation Truck Bn. for its performance last week in the annual ordnance technical inspection.

In the categories of vehicles, small arms, and supply and records, the battalion far exceeded the standards set by Sixth Army, according to Lt. F. C. Keenan, post maintenance officer, who had charge of the inspection.

"This outfit, without a doubt is the best in maintenance at Camp Roberts," he remarked. "The men have surely put out plenty of effort, and they even worked voluntarily on Saturdays and Sundays."

Assisted by a staff of civilians in ordnance, Lieutenant Keenan found only .21 of a deficiency in each of 55 general purpose vehicles, .10 average in 60 trailers, .01 in 307 small arms, and none in supply and records.

Said Lt. Col. Martin W. Sullivan, 26th commanding officer, "The inspection was so successful because the men take their own initiative and have pride in their work. They show a marvelous spirit, and I feel that it's the best outfit in the Army."

About 60 per cent of the personnel, including the company CO's are Korean vets, explains Capt. M. Rosenthal, S-3 officer, and they came from the same type of units in FECOM. The 26th is now a general reserve Class 3 unit, ready for call by Sixth Army at all times. It was activated at Camp Roberts in September, 1951.

Except for the Hq. Company, the battalion is now engaged in an operational testing mission with CCB until Nov. 1, employing its other two groups, the 23rd and 31st Transportation Truck Companies.

Life Expectancy In Military Now Longer

Randolph AFB, Tex. (AFPS)—Life expectancy in the military has quadrupled in the past 130 years, thanks largely to preventive medicine. Maj. Gen. Harry G. Armstrong, Surgeon General of the Air Force, told a group of student flight surgeons at the School of Aviation Medicine here.

"In 1822 a soldier could expect to live only 12 years, and most of the deaths were caused by preventable diseases rather than by accident or violence. Through careful sanitation, inoculation, and other measures aimed at preventing the growth and spread of disease, we have made life in the Air Force safer and more healthy than in most civilian occupations," Gen. Armstrong asserted.

Mission Short Cut

Gate No. 9, the Mission Short Cut, will be open until 12:45 on Saturdays (instead of 12:30), allowing 15 more minutes for out-bound traffic to leave the Post by that route.

Col. Howell Honored By Staff At Party

Lt. Col. H. K. Howell, post engineer and deputy post commander of Hunter-Liggett, was honored Friday at a farewell dinner party at the Moose Hall in Paso Robles.

He was presented with a scroll signed by members of the section in appreciation of his service here. Colonel Howell will leave Nov. 2 for EUCOM.

New CO of the Engineers will be Lt. Col. Andrew M. Pollard who recently returned from Korea.

Decorate 138,840 During Korea War

Soldiers serving during the Korean conflict have received 138,840 awards and decorations. Of these, 109,722 went to enlisted men and 29,118 to officers.

There have been 57 winners of the highest Army decoration—the Medal of Honor. One general, one field grade officer, 13 company grade officers and 42 enlisted men have won Medals of Honor. (AFPS).

Announce New Hours For Main Library

New hours for the Post Library located near Special Services, start this week. The library will be open on weekdays from 0900 to 2100 hours. On Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, the library opens at 1200 hours and closes at 2100 hours.

Seeks Men For Missile Project

Washington (AFPS)—The Army has issued a call for volunteers from the enlisted ranks to enter the guided missile program. A new regulation relaxes the age requirements in this field by one year, but toughens academic requirements for these assignments as such that only men with two years of service remaining can qualify.

Army Secretary, General Write To Camp Personnel

One officer and three enlisted men recently received letters from Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr., who visited the Post 15 and 16 September. 1st Lt. Herbert L. Sauermann, chief of the Battle Indocination Committee, DivFac, received a letter which special appearance during Mr. Pace's visit.

Decorate Men At Leaders' Course

Major General Frank H. Partridge, the Commanding General, reviewed the Leaders' Course troops last Friday. He decorated seven men. Those decorated were Pvt. Jack J. Trochick, Bronze Star; 1st Lt. John G. Dawson, Bronze Star; Lt. Harold R. Thrall, Bronze Star; M/Sgt. Marvin L. Hatfield, Bronze Star; Sgt. Lupe Gutierrez, Purple Heart; and Pfc. Arnold M. Barbon, Purple Heart.

General Partridge Awards Certificates

Three Leaders' Course noncoms received Certificates of Achievement recently prior to their departure for overseas duty. Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, presented the Division's Certificate of Achievement to Master Sergeants Willis F. Procell, Ruben A. Barker, and Roy D. Vickers.

New CCB Executive Takes Over Duties

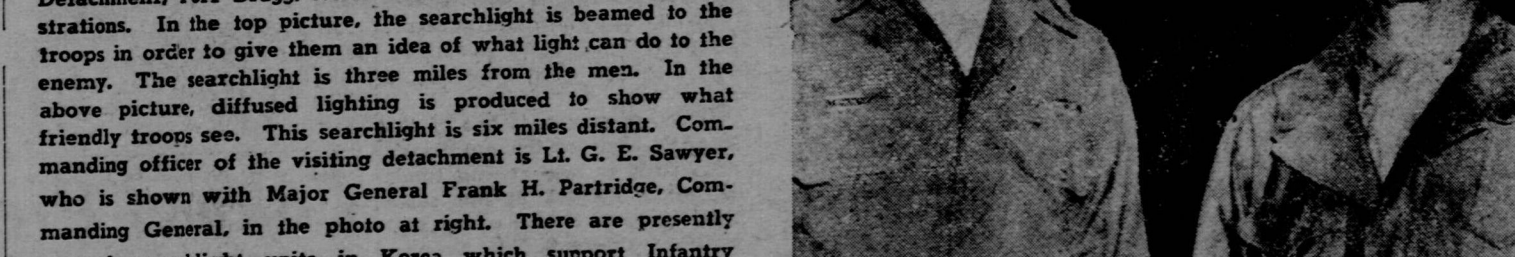

New executive officer of Combat Command B is Lt. Col. Carlos M. Fetterolf, who assumed duties at Camp Roberts Sept. 27.

Visiting Group Shows How Searchlights Can Be Used To Support Ground Troops

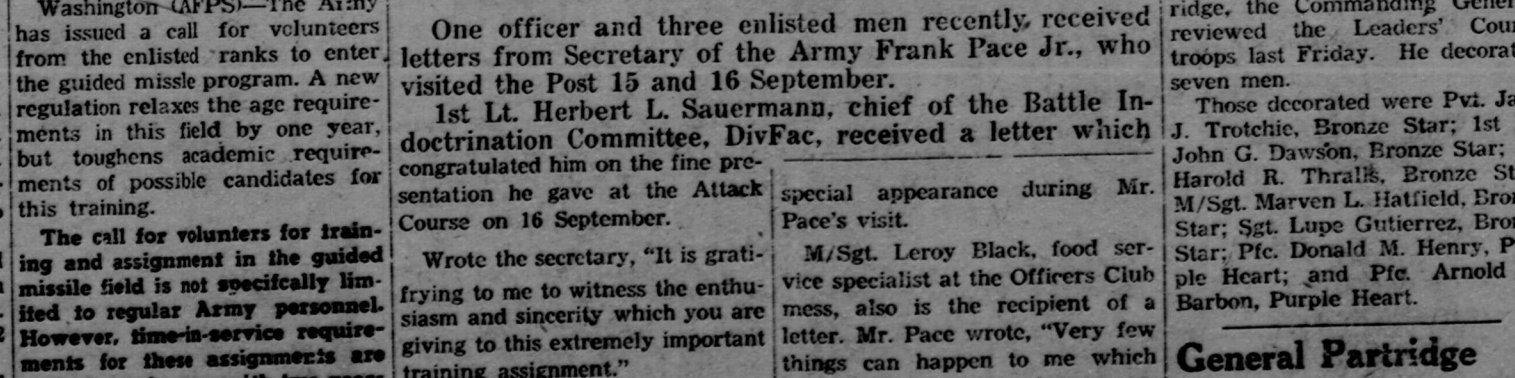

Battlefield Illumination Display Presented Here

DEMONSTRATION of battlefield illumination was witnessed last Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights at the Attack Course by personnel of Camp Roberts. The 88th Searchlight Detachment, Fort Bragg, North Carolina, conducted the demonstrations. In the top picture, the searchlight is beamed to the troops in order to give them an idea of what light can do to the enemy. The searchlight is three miles from the men. In the above picture, diffused lighting is produced to show what friendly troops see. This searchlight is six miles distant. Commanding officer of the visiting detachment is Lt. G. E. Sawyer, who is shown with Major General Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General in the photo at right. There are presently several searchlight units in Korea which support Infantry troops in combat. The lights can be used for night defense and night attack. They can also be used in logistical support. (Shannon Photo).

It Pays To Have Many Friends

Two Civilians Receive Cash, Certificates

Helping to benefit the proposed Camp Roberts Child Nursery, the post is joining with citizens of the Paso Robles area in the annual Community Chest campaign from Monday through 10 November. The drive is held nation-wide each year to provide funds for numerous charitable, health, and welfare organizations, including the USO program. Camp Roberts' Child Nursery, which is planned to open within the next few months, will benefit families of many post personnel. Maj. Gen. Frank H. Partridge, Commanding General, requests generous donations to the program. He states: "This worthy cause merits the wholehearted support of this command. I urge all military and civilian members of Camp Roberts to contribute as liberally as possible."

Election Results Will Be Posted

On election day, Tuesday 4 November, and the day following, 5 November, the Troop Information and Education Section plans to disseminate election news to various Post facilities, it was announced today. Results will be posted on blackboards. Beginning Tuesday afternoon, TIG&E will establish an hourly message service with the latest results from the United Press to popular locations. This election messenger service will continue on Wednesday until a specific trend is noticed toward either the Democratic or Republican presidential candidate. Locations where election news will be available will be published in next week's issue of PARADE. Troops overseas will also receive election news through the facilities of TIG&E, the Signal Corps, and various news services.

SINGING THEIR OFFICIAL introduction to Camp Roberts, the 95th Engineer Choral Group is led by Pvt. Earl Preston in a selection of spirituals especially arranged by the conductor. The Rod Lewis Quintet shared the spotlight on the program last week at Theater 4, with individual performances by other popular entertainers on the post. (Signal Photo).

Engineers' Choir Makes Formal Debut To Camp Roberts Audience

The 95th Engineer Choral Group made its formal debut to Camp Roberts last Wednesday in a concert at Theater 4, directed by Pvt. Earl Preston.

With supporting music by the Rod Lewis Quintet, tap-dancing of Sgt. Ray Hollingsworth, piano renditions by PFC Dick Conrad, song impersonations by PFC Paul Musaria, and vocal solos by Private Preston, the audience brought repeated encores from the performers.

Maj. Gen. Frank H. Partridge, commanding general, was honored guest, and commanding officers of East Garrison battalions, along with other high-ranking personnel, also attended.

Opening the performance, the quintet played three numbers, followed by a trio of songs from Private Preston, accompanied by Private Conrad. Sgt. Hollingsworth, with music background by the quintet, danced two fast numbers on flying feet, and Private Conrad's nimble fingers played a couple of rapid tempo solos on the piano.

PFC Musaria, formerly an Eastern TV performer, provided his own guitar accompaniment to dreamy crooning and half a dozen imitations of well-known singers. Rod Lewis then played one of his original compositions with the quintet.

Climaxing the program, Private Preston directed the 24-voice chorus in several spirituals and a special hymn arrangement. The group, singing a cappella, opened with a choral prelude, followed by the spirituals, which featured solo parts by Cpl. Charles Coleman,

PFC Wade Patterson, Cpl. Wiley Williams, and Private Preston. PFC Marty Braunstein of Special Services emceed the concert, and a formal reception was held afterward in the Circus Room (Service Club 2), arranged by the club's personnel.

The choral group also sang Sunday at three morning chapel services on the post with PFC Ezekiel Brooks and Preston as soloists, and traveled to Atascadero for an evening appearance at the Southern Baptist Church. They will sing again this Sunday at one of the churches in Paso Robles, and shifting into high gear, Private Preston is making arrangements to take the popular singers on a tour of the Sixth Army area soon.

Preston, an assistant in the division chaplain's office, organized the group in late June this year. Since then, however, it has suffered a rapid turnover in personnel, with about 20 members lost to other posts, besides four last week. Now one has filled some vacant spots, but membership is now down to 19.

The men hold regular rehearsals four hours a week, and more in their spare time, in preparation month appearing mostly in Chapel 25, they have already filled several outside engagements, including the San Luis Obispo County Fair held recently in Paso Robles, two concerts at the Shandon Community Church, a performance at Hunter-Liggett for Lt. Gen. Joseph M. Swing, Sixth Army commander, and a special appearance on the post last month for Secretary of the Army Frank Pace, Jr.

Both General Swing and Secretary Pace expressed great interest in and admiration for the choir. While singing for the Secretary, however, Preston says he had "a pretty big scare." "We couldn't get our pitch in the warm-up," he explains, "and boy, was I worried. I was just about to drop. But the boys sang like I never heard 'em sing before."

Preston points out that most of the members have sung in school and church choirs, but none professionally. He explains their present superior style this way: "People often think a choral group must have trained voices, but that's wrong. I feel that if you find men with the right spirit and a will to sing, they will outdo many professional choirs. These boys like to sing and they catch on quickly; they're a grand bunch of guys."

The director himself has had extensive experience, nevertheless. Preston was a member of the famed Wings Over Jordan choir for two years, singing mostly in the Eastern states and appearing in New York City's Carnegie Hall and on the Ed Sullivan television program.

Then he conducted his own 35-voice chorus for three years until he was inducted in January, 1952. His group sang on a regular weekly TV show in Cleveland, Ohio, and traveled extensively in the northeast, appearing also on Eddie Condon's TV program in New York City.

Although he once hoped to become an electrical engineer, Preston started singing at 11 and now plans to make choral direction his profession. "I just live music," he says.

Opening Date Of New NCO Mess Set For Next Month

After months of planning and construction, the new NCO Mess will be officially opened next month. Target date for the opening is 22 November, but because construction is proceeding at a rapid rate, it is possible that the club will open sooner.

Fall Style Show Set For Sunday At Officers Club

Latest fall fashions will be modeled by wives and young daughters of Camp Roberts officers in a style show starting 1800 hours Sunday at the Officers Club, sponsored by the Wives' Auxiliary of the Atascadero Red Cross chapter.

With the theme, "Doorway Into Fall," the show will be coupled with a tea dance afterward, and proceeds from admission will support the work of the Red Cross auxiliary.

The show and dance will be open to the general public, with tickets being sold in the Officers Club and at the Atascadero Post Office.

Ambulatory patients at the hospital will see a free "sneak preview" Saturday afternoon at the club, identical to Sunday's performance. They will be brought by bus from the hospital.

Ladies modeling the many types of styles, according to Mrs. Grady W. Butler, club president, will be the following wives: Penny Stouffer, Dorothy Smith, Claire Graves, Fran Trezult, Marilyn Mauvas, Kathryn Ferguson, Denise Wilkins, Rita Frugoli, Esther Powell, Anne Buller, and Betty Blanchard. Child stylists will be Pamela Doty, Patricia Doty, Jon-Webster McDonough, Patricia Madden, and Deborah Giglio.

The new club will have a 32 foot bar, large soundproof lounge and reading room with special lighting, ladies powder room, and dining facilities on tiered levels going down to a 6,000 square foot dance pavilion.

Also included in the facilities of the club will be a shaded marquee, lawns, flagstone covering on exterior areas, and a grass louver and planter arrangement to shield the bar from the dining room.

The present NCO Mess is located in Bldg. 879, near the WAC detachment. At the present time facilities are limited by the size of the building. However, there are a snack bar, complete beverage bar, juke box, bingo games, and scheduled dances.

There are two annexes to the Main NCO Mess, one in Bldg. 27-017 at East Garrison, and the North Post Annex in Bldg. 7029. Membership in the Post NCO Mess is open to NCO's from corporal to master sergeant. Monthly dues of $1 entitle members to full privileges in any of the clubs.

M/Sgt. Don Griffin is secretary of the NCO Mess. Anyone desiring to reach him may do so by calling 339.

Camp Roberts Winners Announced In Inter-Service Photo Contest

With final judging coming to a close on 15 October, winners of the Camp Roberts section of the 4th Inter-service Photography Contest were announced.

First place winner of the black and white contest was PFC Franklin B. Click of the Photographic Laboratory. His picture, "Decay of Time", features an archway at the old mission in San Miguel.

"Flowers, Treasure Island" was the title of the photo that won the top place for 1st Lt. James W. Johnson Jr. of Division Faculty, in the color transparency class.

Judges for the event were Mr. James S. Smith of the Art Department at California Polytechnic College; Mr. H. S. Sears of Sears Studio in Atascadero; and Mr. George Aehrne of Shannon Photo Service.

In the black and white contest, PFC Click won first place and $15.

Second place was taken by Pvt. Morrie J. Cambi. He titled his picture "Elderly". It is a portrait of an elderly Bishop, Sgt. James R. Hall captured third place and $5 with his picture, "The Milkman's Best Customer", a picture of a dog getting milk straight from a cow.

Event-winner Click also was named for honorable mention. The photo that won him the honor was named "Old Mission".

1st Lt. David T. Vivit collected a $5 prize for his work named "Wings Over the Pacific", a photo showing a sunset framed through the wings and body of a plane.

This class offered two honorable mention prizes. First-prize winner Lt. Johnson added to his laurels by getting honorable mention with "Sequoia National Park". Also named was Sgt. James R. Hull with his picture "Ebb Tide".

Miss Pinckney expressed great satisfaction with the results of the contest. "We are all very happy here at the Service Clubs with the way things turned out. There were over sixty entries this year. We think that this shows a greatly increased interest and we hope that this tendency continues throughout the coming contests."

Miss Pinckney said that the photos that won will be sent for Sixth Army judging about the first part of December. From there, the pictures that have not been eliminated go to Washington, D. C. for final judging from 15 March to 15 April 1953.

SHOW BIZ

BUSY BEAUTY!

What happens to a girl who wins the Miss America contest? Yolande Bebeze, who took the title two years ago, recently gave a statistical rundown on her activities after she was crowned. During her reign she amassed approximately $50,000; traveled 62,000 miles; received the keys to 73 American cities; dedicated 11 supermarkets, eight furniture stores, a housing development, and a perfume called "Yolande Mist" opment, and a She became the mascot of the Cleveland Indians and sweetheart of the 200th Infantry Regt.; received and rejected 163 proposals of marriage; lunched with 156 mayors; was kissed by the Vice-President of the U. S. on the mouth; bussed on the cheek by seven senators, 11 representatives, and two justices of the peace. She was displayed in 51 parades, had 28 babies named after her, got an audience with the Pope, and an offer to play Tarzan's mate in a movie.

Athletic Program Here Saturday

Outstanding members of the United States Olympic Gym Team will be performing at Theater One this Saturday evening starting at 1930 hours in an amazing and spectacular exhibition of championship form and ability. An attempt to break officially the world record for rope climbing will highlight the show.

Heavenly Kick

Paris, France (AFPS)—An American military cemetery just outside Paris honors among its heroes a mule named Maggie. The inscription on her tombstone reads: "Here lies the mule Maggie. In her life she kicked two generals, seven colonels, eight captains, 16 lieutenants, 541 enlisted men, and one German mine."

Looks At Books

If you are looking for exciting true crime stories, here are some which cover various aspects of underworld life.

"NARCOTICS, AMERICA'S PERIL" by Will Ourster is based not only on the records and case histories of files with the Federal Bureau of Narcotics but also on interviews with government agents, drug addicts, and dope peddlers. You'll read about the East Harlem district in New York where addicts and peddlers swarm and where the needle and spoon are in plentiful supply. Col. George White of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics is the hero who traced the narcotic flow to headwaters in Italy, Turkey and the Middle East.

If you have ever wondered what makes a professional criminal, don't miss "MY LIFE IN CRIME" reported by John Martin. Here is the true story of a man involved in grand larceny, burglary, safe-blowing, arson, assault with intent to kill, armed robbery, and bootlegging. It is one of the frankest, most revealing pictures of a criminal ever written.

Now having explored the narcotic underworld and the criminal mind, here is a book which deals with prison life. "PRISONERS ARE PEOPLE" by Kenyon J. Scudder. Here is the unusual story of a prison without walls the California Institute for men at Chino. Here inmates may decorate their living quarters and picnic with their families on Sunday. Hand-picked, better risk convicts are put to work running a 2,600 acre ranch under the barest minimum of restrictions.

There's excitement and education waiting for you at your libraries.

Projectionist Needed

A projectionist is needed to work in the Post theaters. Experience with 35 mm machines is necessary. This is a paid, off-duty job. Anyone wishing to inquire about the job may do so by calling Sgt. Jackson or Pvt. Harris at 131. After 1730 hours call 37 and leave your name, rank, ASN and organization.

HOLLYWOOD CALLING

"SEE-WORTHY" NUMBER . . . is George Petty's famed drawing with its unforgettable caption, "When you lost your yacht, something within me died," translated here by model June Dempsey.
