

NOEL

The President

Another Christmas finds so many of you far from home on battle stations or standing guard for the protection of our country, and I want you to know how proud we all are of your unselfish devotion to the great undertaking in which you are engaged. The task you have set for yourselves is nothing less than the salvation of the world. Mankind will lay no finer tribute upon the altar this Christmas than the courage and loyalty you are showing in this bitter struggle for world peace.

The thoughts and prayers of all of us at home are with you on this day. Your victory in the fight for freedom is our hope, and indeed the hope of the world, for that day when Christmas will again be a season for peaceful rejoicing.

NOEL

Chief Of Staff

To the men and women of the Army everywhere, I send my warmest wishes for a joyful Christmas.

To those in Korea I send added greetings, for I want you especially to know that our thoughts are with you in your magnificent defense of the principles and liberties held sacred by all free men. Your valor and devotion to duty will forever inspire those to whom freedom means more than life.

During this Christmas season, let us all unite our hearts in humble prayer that God will continue to bless our nation in the coming year. May the New Year bring happiness to you and your loved ones and may it bring peace throughout the world and lasting good will among men.

"OPERATION CHRISTMAS"

Servicemen Play Santa Claus To Needy Tots

Servicemen overseas are providing the existence of a Santa Claus to the world's needy small tot population. Activities for "Operation Christmas" are in progress at installations in England, France, Germany, Italy, North Africa, and at outposts in the Philippines, Hawaii, Aleutians, Alaska, Caribbean, Greenland, Iceland, and the Far East.

The world-wide objective is to provide underprivileged kids with some of the benefits enjoyed by their counterparts in the U.S. The unofficial project is being handled in a variety of ways. Parties are being planned, gifts bought, and funds solicited through raffles, benefits, and outright appeals.

The "world's largest Christmas party" for 14,000 orphans has been organized at the Erding Air Depot in Germany. Personnel, with the aid of the local citizenry, have purchased 72,000 individually-wrapped gifts, fixed with a child's name.

The presents will be distributed by a Santa Claus who will visit each of the orphanages and refugee camps in Bavaria by helicopter during the Christmas season.

Festivities will be climaxed with a giant Christmas dinner. Approximately 2,000 orphans will be brought to the air depot by train and bus to enjoy a full-course meal and watch a three-hour show.

In Korea, "Operation Christmas" is being worked out in a thousand small ways. Shopkeepers have been cleaned out of articles that remotely resemble toys. And mobile post exchanges have been hard put to fill the demand for commodities ranging from candy to soap.

Most of the shopping in Korea for the folks back home is for durable souvenirs. Parents and wives will receive their share of scrolls, carvings, native pipes, statues of Buddha, brass bells, and hundreds of other dust catchers.

But almost inevitably the average serviceman will end his shopping spree with a few small gifts for some grimy-faced youngsters. One corporal, who arrived in devastated Seoul from a forward area, bought a few pounds of candy and stood in the middle of the street hollering "Come and get it!" A mob of ragged waifs immediately clustered around him.

"It just ain't Christmas," he said laughing, "unless you can make the kids happy."
Christmas—U. S. style—is definitely underway!—(AFPS)

A Christmas Thought

The Blood Bank Center, Building 312 will be open from 0800 hours to 1000 hours, and from 1300 to 1530, for those desiring to donate blood.

Donors reporting before 1000 are requested not to eat any food during the morning. While those donating in the afternoon are asked not to eat any food after 0930 hours.

So, donate a pint of blood in the morning, enjoy your Christmas dinner in the afternoon, and be secure in the knowledge that you've done your part in saving a soldier's life in Korea.

Roberts Tops Last Year's Seal Drive

Contributions in the amount of $1,607.23 resulting from the sale of Christmas Seals at Camp Roberts, have been forwarded to the San Luis Obispo County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Chairman for this year's drive was Lieutenant Colonel Carl J. Ernst, assistant Chief of Staff, G-1. A letter from Mrs. Edith W. Owen, Executive Secretary of the Association, expressed appreciation to Colonel Ernst and to the personnel of Camp Roberts for their generous cooperation during the drive.

The total contributions at Camp Roberts this year exceeded last year's figure by almost 90 per cent. According to Mrs. Owen, $11,647.34 of the $14,000.00 goal set for this area has already been met.

The drive will officially close on Christmas Day, but contributions are not expected to be complete in this area until late January, 1953.

Don't Take A Chance!

The Holiday Season can be the most joyful time of the year, providing all personnel exercise common sense and due precautions while driving the most dangerous weapon of modern times—the automobile.

Reckless, thoughtless, and drunken driving combined with heavy traffic and winter add to the perils of the highway.

By driving defensively and never taking anything for granted regarding the other driver, you can avoid bringing grief to members of your family.

DRIVE CAREFULLY—DON'T TAKE A CHANCE—IT MAY BE YOUR LAST!

"The Barn" Open For Classes Now

"The Barn" (this is the name which actually appears on the sign above the door) was officially dedicated as a classroom building on Monday, December 22, by Major General Frank H. Partridge. Present were the 7th Armored Division Band and the Battery A of the 489th Armored Field Artillery Battery.

Members of the Battery, now in their ninth week of training, constitute the first unit to use The Barn for classroom purposes. General Partridge in a brief address told members of the Battery how and why "The Barn" was converted to a classroom.

The General said: "I would like to tell you a story about the development of the Barn for classroom purposes."

"It was the subject of a bet between two of my officers. One bet it would be used for a classroom and the other bet that it would not. Today there is no doubt who won. This occasion furnishes an excellent example of the fact that we are cost-conscious. We need a number of classrooms to give needed instruction and training. Before I could ask Washington for funds, I wanted to be able to say that I had used all available resources here. This structure has given proof of that. I appreciate all the hard work that has gone into it."

Then, General Partridge cut the ribbon in front of the door and Lt. Col. Braze, Chief of Facilities, showed the General around the classroom building. Captain Baumgardner, Chief of the Weapons Committee, was also present.

A Note Of Thanks

The Commanding General wishes to use this means to acknowledge with thanks the attractive greetings sent him over the signature "A soldier and his wife".

A Word To All...

Because there is no "peace on earth" our nation has asked most of us to remain at our places of duty. For many of you it will be your first Christmas away from home. May this disappointment be tempered by the realization that you are preparing yourselves to protect those homes and loved ones.

To each and every civilian and military member of our command I extend my heartiest wishes for a Merry Christmas with the fervent hope that during the year 1953 we will see the return of a peaceful period for all.

FRANK H. PARTRIDGE
Major General, U.S.A.,
Commanding

Secretary Lovett

During the Christmas season the thoughts of the entire nation are with the Armed Forces—our soldiers, sailors, airmen and marines. We are thinking particularly of those who will spend Christmas far away from home, many upon the field of battle itself.

In Korea our Armed Forces have accepted hardships and sacrifices with a fortitude which recognizes that these are the necessary prices that we pay in the protection of our freedom. Their deeds on the battlefield have been an inspiration to the millions here at home and elsewhere in the free world.

As I send my greetings at this Christmas season, not only to our troops, but also to their families and to the thousands of civilians in the military establishment, I want to express to you the thanks of a grateful nation. Upon you and your comrades in arms the world depends for the restoration of peace on earth.

/s/ ROBERT A. LOVETT,
Secretary of Defense.

Secretary Of Army

In sending you greetings on this holiday season, I wish to tell you how proud I am of what American soldiers have done—and are continuing to do—to preserve our freedom.

Each of you, in America, in Korea, in all of your posts far from home, is doing his duty to meet the challenge to freedom, which has been raised in our time.

To you and your loved ones I send my warmest and most heartfelt wishes for the very best that this season can bring to you. May God bless all of you and strengthen you in the great work you are doing.

MOVES TO PRESIDIO

Major General Frank H. Partridge received a real Christmas present yesterday as he was notified of his appointment to a new post at Sixth Army headquarters. As we go to press no further details are available other than the General is to take over the new post on January 5, 1953. No successor has been named to replace the General.

Camp Roberts has received many honors under the Command of General Partridge. Most recent of these has been the top-notch rating received from Major General Ira P. Swift and his III Corps Inspection team, which gave the world's largest training center a 90.79 per cent rating.

YOUR HELP NEEDED

"Crusade For Freedom" Campaign Opens Here

"Do you listen to Radio Free Europe? I hope you do, for I am one of millions of American citizens who have voluntarily contributed to build these stations, which bring truth to you who are deprived of it."

"In America millions regularly pray for an understanding between our peoples. Please add your prayers to ours. Surely our common faith in God is the place where hope for freedom begins."

When the 1952 campaign to raise funds for the Crusade for Freedom gets underway, millions of Americans will have the opportunity to sign their names and addresses to "Freedom-grams" like the one above, printed in the languages of the Iron Curtain countries.

These greetings and encouragement will then be carried by balloons into various Communist dominated countries in Europe and Asia, as a means of showing those peoples under Communist subjection that the average American citizen is desirous to be actively engaged in the battle against Communism, even though it be shielded by an Iron Curtain.

Here at Camp Roberts, the Crusade for Freedom Drive, under the direction of Major Walter R. Padrick, T1&E officer, will be active from now until January 15, 1953. Containers for contributions are to be placed in each Company orderly room and at the pay table of each unit so that all personnel will have an opportunity to participate in the campaign, through cash contributions and through voluntary signing of "Freedom-grams."

THIRD YEAR
As the Crusade for Freedom enters into its third annual campaign it looks back upon a record of increasing effectiveness in the struggle against Communism. The Crusade for Freedom was born to serve as a sister organization to rally support for Radio Free Europe which went on the air in July of 1950. The first campaign was sparked by the 20-ton Freedom Bell which toured the nation. Millions of American citizens signed their names to scrolls declaring their opposition to Communism. At the close of the first campaign the bell was taken to Berlin and hung in the city hall in the Western Sector, where it daily rings out its reminder of freedom. The second campaign which got underway last September carried an appeal for support to expand the network of Radio Free Europe still more.

JACK BENNY HERE
Christmas Day promises to be one of the outstanding entertainment highlights of the year at Camp Roberts. Jack Benny star of stage, screen, radio and TV will be here to entertain military personnel. Accompanying him will be the beautiful Ann Blythe one of Hollywood's brightest stars, Franky Remly (of the Phil Harris Show), Connie Chambers, Johnny Mack and his wife, a great dancing team and Danny Welton a Wizard of the harmonica. Reservations for commands must be made with Special Services. The show will start at 1930 hours, a program you don't want to miss.

"KERSTMISSE"

Christmas - An Old European Custom

American Christmas traditions, like most of our customs, are based directly or indirectly upon the cultures of "Old World Europe. Adapted by our ancestors to fit the American mode of life, they appear to be strictly "Made In America" products; but findings of historians and scholars prove otherwise.

Crusade

 and they contributed approximately three-and-a-half million dollars which was translated into anti-Communist action by using it to build new transmitters for Radio Free Europe.

Along with its emphasis on Radio Free Europe, the Crusade for Freedom swung its support to the Committee for Free Asia and its network, Radio Free Asia, and its counterattack against a different pattern of Red aggression in Asia.

REACTION NOTED

The effectiveness of these organizations has been proven partly by the reaction of the Communists themselves. Less than a month after Radio Free Europe opened its first all Czechoslovak station, the Czech government made an official protest to our State Department demanding the closing of the station—a request which, of course, was ignored because RFE is privately owned. Leaflets carried into Iron Curtain countries have been highly successful. In some areas the people were forbidden even to touch the sheets. Persons escaping from behind the Iron Curtain provide much information concerning the success of the campaign. A Czech engineer with a train full of passengers drove down a spur track and across the border into Free Germany, bringing from the Communists a fantastic story of a plot by Czech spies and American agents.

SIGNIFICANT PROJECTS

A significant project of the Committee for Free Asia was the sending of one thousand tons of newsprint to Korea where it was used to produce 4,500,000 elementary school textbooks to replace those lost during the war. Another important operation was "Seeds of Democracy" which sent some one-and-a-half million packets of seeds to the Philippines to replace seeds which formerly were imported from China. The project, simple in concept, has the very practical result of providing Filipinos with the means of raising vegetables which are an important part of their balanced diet, and thereby checkmating one of the appeals of Communism which makes its strongest propaganda headway among people who are inadequately fed.

The Crusade for Freedom, headed by Henry Ford II, with Charles E. Wilson, former President of General Electric as its campaign chairman, has set a goal of $4,000,000 for the 1953 campaign. In the past only a small part of the total amount raised has come as large gifts; most of it has come from the dimes and dollars given by millions of Americans with a deep sense of the dangers of Communism.

The 1953 campaign again will be striving to accomplish a dual purpose. Not only is its aim to raise money to fight Communism in Asia and Europe; but also to give added hope and encouragement to the captive peoples who will receive the campaign messages, our proof that the average American not only is fighting Communism but is willing to publish the fact in Stalin's own territory.

The word "Christmas" is accredited to the Dutch expression "Kerstmisje," and the 11th century English "Cristes Maesse," both meaning Christ's Mass, or as we say, Christmas. The Christmas tree, long a symbol of the season in this country, is a direct import from Germany.

The birth of Christ has been celebrated since the fourth century; but the practice of exchanging gifts, banned by the early church as a pagan custom, didn't come into practice until several centuries later, and then only as a remembrance of the Three Kings of the Orient who followed the star to Bethlehem.

The first Christmas menu in this country, that of the Puritans aboard the Mayflower, consisted of: salt fish, bacon, brussels sprouts, gooseberry tarts, and plum pudding. Quite a difference from today's Christmas repasts! It is in this category that America can lay practically her only claim to fame, namely, the Christmas turkey and pumpkin pie. However, there are some who would dispute our claim—they say that it's just a leftover from Thanksgiving Day.

Informal Dinner For City Fathers

A small group of county and city officials of Paso Robles were guests of Major General Frank H. Partridge and his staff, Tuesday, December 16, at the Hacienda at Hunter Liggett Military Reservation, for an informal dinner.

Attending from Paso Robles were: Mayor Russell W. Gates, County Supervisor, Art Peters, John Gerst, Commissioner of Streets, Roy Ottosen, Commissioner of Police & Fire, Verne Sturgeon, Commissioner of Water, Sam Smart, Commissioner of Finance, Sid Tucker, City Clerk & Coordinator, Jim Madden, City Attorney, and Chief of Police, Elmer Morehouse.

CALL EARLY!

The Telephone Company has requested that, due to the expected traffic increase over the holiday, persons desiring to place Christmas long-distance telephone calls, do so one or two days prior to or after Christmas Day.

According to W. J. Ryan, Camp Telephone Manager, attendants will be on duty at the telephone centers in building 3032 and 1008 until 2 A.M. Christmas Eve and Christmas night.

The two remaining telephone centers in the Leadership area and East Garrison will have attendants on duty until 10 P.M.

Lots Of Wires!

Western Union offices throughout the nation expect to handle more than 3,000,000 greeting telegrams this Christmas, and Camp Roberts will contribute an estimated 3,000 messages to that total, according to a report from Clifton Rivers, Western Union Manager.

Western Union greetings are expected to top last years total by 25 per cent. Throughout the nation, 42,000 Western Union employees will be on hand to send and receive messages which will involve more than 60,000,000 words.

SEASONS GREETINGS... PVT. FLORES

For those who stay on the post here during the Christmas holidays one may be in the mood for some outstanding entertainment as only Jack Benny and his troupe can give. Don't miss this one it will be tops, at the Sports Arena. While all the local cinemas offer very enjoyable viewing to everyone. The Lucky 7th Club (Formerly Service Club No. 1) and the Circus Room (formerly Service Club No. 2) will have programs that will keep everyone well occupied with refreshments and games. Don't forget the White Elephant party at the Lucky Seventh Club on Saturday the 27th, where you can trade off all the loot you received for Christmas you may no longer use. Anything goes.

If you are expecting guests over New Years, rooms will be available after 28th of December, at Guest Houses Number 1 and 2.

This week marked the completion of the H Street bridge, with the 412th Engineer Construction Battalion doing all the honors. A job well done. The SMALL WORLD DEPARTMENT. Ever go some place far from home and see someone you knew, well that's what happened to Pvt. Charles Kuykendall, B Co., 23rd AIB when he found his brother-in-law Pvt. Donald Jones, A Co., 38th AIB training in the company next to him—Small World.

For the real spirit of Christmas stop at Chapels number two and six and see the very beautiful nativity scenes. If you see one, you will want to see the other. Well worth your time. Also while walking around in different company areas stop off and see how most of the mess halls are decorated. With all the decorations and a Christmas tree lit up makes you feel right at home in any of them. Also the Service Clubs have been busy fixing up for the Holidays too, so be sure to stop by, you are always welcome. For those who are sports minded there will be various sports activities at the Arena and the Bowling Alley, from 1000 until 1400 hours.

Let's Keep Our Health

With the respiratory disease rate for the command on the increase, it is appropriate that we emphasize its method of transmission. It is very difficult to apply measures of control unless there is a clear understanding of the modes of transmission.

Today, a bit of discussion on the most prevalent method of spreading respiratory disease, i. e., that of coughing and sneezing. You are being taught in your training all about weapons, your muzzle velocity, range trajectory, etc. Knowing this you can better understand their operation and purpose and also their limitations. When we use medical terms in defining disease transmission characteristics you get confused. OK, we'll use infantry terminology and describe what happens during an unprotected cough or sneeze.

A single sneeze causes about 100,000 bacteria to be air-projected from the nose and throat in the form of droplets, with a muzzle velocity of approximately 150 feet per second, and along a trajectory which might be likened to the open end of a funnel. While a great number of these droplets are coarse and heavy and travel no farther than three feet from the point of release and quickly drop to the ground, there are smaller droplets which may float in the air for relatively long periods of time and distances.

These droplets are loaded with organisms and since they are airborne, they give rise to the theory of air-borne transmission of respiratory diseases.

The next time a man coughs or sneezes in your presence without covering his nose and mouth, you can assume he has pointed a loaded weapon at you but instead of a single bullet, his weapon discharges many thousands of bacteria which may be carrying meningitis, measles, mumps, whooping cough, or any one of many more diseases.

That's something to think about and especially to remember. You may be putting more men out of action than any enemy. What can we do about it? Well, we have accident prevention drives, bond drives, blood collection drives, why not a drive to improve personal hygienic habits? Let us all concentrate on properly covering or repressing our coughs and sneezes and remind those who "forget" that we want to KEEP OUR HEALTH.

POINTED PEARLS

A kind word of praise will brighten many a person's days.

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

First Christmas Service

By CHAPLAIN (LT. COL.) ALBERT W. NICKEL
 The first Christmas was held on the hills of Judea. It was directed by God himself and the setting was the most unusual and most significant in the world's history. The church was God made. It was out of doors and in the evening. The ceiling was a canopy of stars and the church was lighted by the Glory of the Lord. One star shown out brighter and more brilliant than any of the others.

The congregation was not large, it was composed of Shepherds who were keeping watch over their flocks by night, humble men, sincere and faithful. It is always to such that Christ comes.

The preacher was the Angel of the Lord, ordainer and commissioned to preach the greatest message man has ever heard, a message direct from God the Father.

The sermon was not long and was couched in the following words, "Be not afraid for he hold I bring you Good Tidings and Great Joy." It was but to all people for unto you is born this day in the City of David, a Saviour who is Christ to the Lord and this will be a sign unto you. You will find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

The choir was a chorus of Heavenly Hosts and their music was such as has never been heard on earth before. Suddenly there was with the Angel a multitude of the Heavenly Host praising God and saying, "Glory to God in the Highest and on Earth, Peace, Good will toward men."

The results of the sermon were immediate and effective. Shepherds said one to another "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which has come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us." And they went with haste and found Mary and Joseph and the Babe lying in a manger. And when they saw it, they made known abroad the sayings which had been told them concerning this child and all who heard it wondered at what the Shepherds told them.
