CAMP ROBERTS, CALIFORNIA

Vol. 3-No. 22

Nominated For 2 Stars

The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, publication of news of the services, announced this week that the name of Camp Roberts' new Commanding General, Brigadier General R. F. Sink, had been forwarded to the Senate for approval of promotion to the rank of Major General.

The nomination in recognition of outstanding work done by General Sink has already been approved by Pentagon officials and President Eisenhower. Senate approval of the promotion is expected in the near future.

PRIOR to his departure for Officers' Candidate School M/Sgt. Richard A. Kapau was awarded a Certificate of Achievement from Brig. General R. F. Sink, Commanding General. The certificate was awarded for the sergeant's outstanding work in CCA and G-l as sergeant major. The presentation was one of Gen. Sink's first official duties upon assuming command of Camp (Signal Photo)

EM Promotions Eased

Washington-Promotion of Army enlisted men was made easier this week. Less service in a higher position vacancy now is required. Although the "service in higher position" criteria have been cut drastically, time in grade requirements remain unchanged.

The quota system for promotion will be continued indefinitely, according to the Army, but the new For procriteria is a step toward liberalmotion to izing it as much as possible.

Only one month of satisfactory performance in the position vacancy is needed by men in Korea for promotion to one of the top three grades. Formerly, three

CHAPLAIN'S MESSAGE

Thorns Become Crowns

By CHAPLAIN (LT. COL.) ALBERT W. NICKEL "Although he was a Son, he learned Obedience through what he suffered." Hebrews 5:8 (R.S.V.) Here is an answer to the problem of suffering. Jesus made his suffering the means of conquest, a means of Victory. Who of us have not learned obedience through suffering? Our earthly fathers! have taught us obedience in many ways, and we are better men and Sharpshooter women because of it. Suffering is a school where we may be approved of God. It is a place where thorns can become crowns. Suffering brings out the finest qualities of life. The artist uses shadows to make the points of interest stand out in highlights. It is in facing danger that velop fortitude and courage. Overcoming temptation produces righteousness.

Man wants to live dangerously. Only the weakling seeks security and comfort. We are born with the spirit of adventure. A recent writer said his greatest thrills and moments of greatest happiness came when he was scared. Some people have this adventurous spirit to a greater degree than others—the pioneers — Abraham, PVT. ROBERT SCHWEIGERDT Moses, the Apostle Paul, Adoniram Judson, William Carey, David Livingstone, and others. These are only a few in faith's hall of fame. They dared to adventure for their faith, and that adventure brought suffering which became a crown.

The right attitude toward suffering trains men to turn thorns to crowns. The Negro spiritual

This is going to be one of those hello and goodbye type of affairs.

First of all, I'd like to say hello to you, the reader. For awhile, at least, I'll be around this same corner each week to review the news and views in sports.

Then I'd like to say goodbye to Pvt. Danny Fulkerson, who is on orders for AFFE. Danny was sports ed here and he sure knew what to say.

Good luck, Danny, and remember, you're our horse if you never win a race.

We have a hello for Major Robert Lawton, the new Special Services officer, and a goodbye for his predecessor, Cant. Glenn I. Wymer, who is being released from active duty. During Capt. Wymer's tour of duty here, our post basketball team has captured every title in sight and they're still going strong. Our boxers have not lost a meet and they're on their way to the All-Army bouts at Camp Atterbury. After they take the Sixth Army tour-

Following the three months of regimental competition the post team will be selected.

As for the prespect of what the season will be this year, there are 45 professional baseball players now stationed or in training at Camp Roberts.

Another professional touch will be added to the season by the forthcoming opening of Camp Roberts' new athletic field at the north end of the parade ground. With its mammoth lighting system, the field will enable night games to be held which is something quite new in the baseball world at Camp Roberts.

Between now and the time se ections are made for the post team, the regiments who prove to harbor outstanding clubs will be matched with top visiting teams.

Abuses May Cancel Reduced Travel Rates

Army officials expressed great concern recently over the fact that reduction in fares for men and women in uniform may have to be discontinued.

Army officials cited violations of the regulations and conditions governing sale of reduced fare tickets as causing the concern.

One of the glaring violation DA said, concerns the number of military personnel traveling on reduced fare tickets while in civilian clothes. Regulations, prohibit this. Commanding officers have been ordered, via Army Cir. 8, to give full publicity to the above and direct the attention to their personnel of the importance of complying with these regs and conditions

There are continuous performances at all Post Theaters, except Theater 1, on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays from 1300 hours.

No movie is shown at Theater 1 on Saturdays, because there is usually a stage show at 1830 and 2030 hours.

On weekdays there are movies scheduled at 1830 and 2030 hours at all theaters with the exception of Theater 1, which has performances at 1900 and 2100 hours.

Meanwhile, DA announces that the reduced fares or furlough rates, as they are more commonly known, will be continued until July 31, 1953, when the present authority expires. — AFPS.
