Proceedings of Board of Review appointed in accordance with letter AGAO-S 293.9 (27 March 1947) D-M, War Dept., TAGO, 9 April 1947.

1. The Board convened pursuant to Par. 4, SO 93, Headquarters, Frankfurt Military Post, APO 757, US Army, 22 April 1952, at Griesheim/Main, Germany, on 28 April 1952.

2. Members present: As indicated by signatures below.

3. PURPOSE: To review and determine, from evidence presented, the non-recoverability of the remains of World War II dead lost in the geographical area described below:

a. Vicinity of MEIJEL, Holland
3/E-60 and LIESSEL 3/E-61

b. Facts:

S/Sgt. Stanley F. MAREK, 36 037 439 and T/5 John KARHULA, 37 324 281 were reportedly MIA in the vicinity of MEIJEL, Holland during the attack in that area on 28 October 1944.

4. FINDINGS:

a. Specific details of the circumstances surrounding their death are not available.

b. Review of records pertaining to unknown deceased recovered in Holland and now interred in U. S. Military Cemetery provided no association with subject decedents.

c. The area of MEIJEL and LIESSEL, as well as the entire country of Holland has been searched many times in conjunction with the recovery of World War II deceased without obtaining information as to their death or burial.

d. As the area in question is well populated and the authorities are aware of American interest in the recovery of their War Casualties it is unlikely that any apparent burial sites would be unreported. Further field investigation is therefore believed to be unwarranted.

e. Reference is made to the following documents on file in the

OCIG:

a. Form 371

b. After Action Report Hq. 87th Cavalry Reconnaissance Sq. Mech. - October 1944

c. Non Specific Board Finding for Casualties in Holland
dtd 14 Sept 1950 T/L 5125

5. RECOMMENDATION: That the remains of the deceased herein considered, be declared Non-Recoverable.

After Action Report

293 Marek, Stanley P. 36037439

The morning of the 28th brought heavy enemy artillery fire in the sector West of Meijel. Troop C held its positions under this fire until 1000 when about 65 enemy came up in front of the 1st platoon. These were blasted back by artillery fire and assault guns. At 1600 the enemy made a determined attack along this whole front. The line held, except the 2nd platoon, which, being pushed forward was flanked on both sides. Moreover, heavy mortar fire caved fox-holes and filled carbines with dirt so that they failed to function. The platoon leader, Lieutenant CHARLES A. ROBERTSON, JR. ordered his men to withdraw to a ditch between the 1st and 3rd platoons, while he personally covered their withdrawal with a machine gun. He was wounded at least once but continued firing; he was left behind, and never got back. The platoon (2nd) continued back past the ditch, and the 3rd extended South to close the gap. Enemy tanks and infantry over-ran this line, but the troops held their positions and remained through the night although some enemy had got through behind them.

293 Marek, Stanley P.

In the Northern zone, the 1st platoon of Troop D had repelled an aggressive enemy patrol during the night with casualties on both sides. At daylight, the platoon leader's light tank (substitute for M3 Armored Car) was knocked out by an 88, ~~knocked out~~ and when a section from the second platoon arrived for support, the armored car of the platoon sergeant who was leading the section was also hit by 88mm fire and burned. Enemy tanks and infantry continued to advance, and Troop D was driven back to the vicinity of Liesel, where the 1st platoon was relieved by Company D 31st Tank Battalion. At this point companies A and C of the 23rd Infantry attacked astride the road, and as night fell Troop D outposted a line from C/48 at Huize De Werf to 23rd AIB near Heitrack.

In the Southern sector, dawn of the 28th brought more enemy attacks, and the second platoon Troop A was isolated. About 0900, Lieutenant Colonel MENTE announced that Troop A was attached to CCA and that Captain NELSON would be in command in that sector. With the help of tanks, the 2nd platoon was extricated, the lines shortened, and the infantry (which had withdrawn) was placed back in position. The tanks were withdrawn, and Captain WELLS moved assault guns to replace them and provide support. Troop B maintained throughout the day its positions along the Horick-Meijel road. During the night, the tanks were again withdrawn to the West side of the canal.

It should be noted that during the day a regiment of British twenty-five pounders moved into position near squadron headquarters, lending excellent support. The role of artillery was a major one on both sides throughout the entire action.

During the same night, Troop C reorganized and sent one full T/O platoon to protect the right South flank of the 48th, which was astride the Asten Meijel road. The remainder of the troop, supported by surviving tanks of Company F, protected the left North flank. In the morning, a considerable gap existed between this flank and the right South flank of Troop D, but by noon the tanks had swung North and contacted the adjoining troop, thus forming a continuous line which held until relieving units took over. Troop D was able to establish a forward OP from which artillery could be adjusted, and six Tigers were seen to burn. Typhoons were also requested, but when the planes arrived they accidentally strafed and rocketted the 1st platoon of Troop C, which narrowly escaped casualties. Troop D was pulled out of the line at 2030; Troop C remained in its positions on either flank of the 48th until after midnight, when relief arrived.

Dear Mrs. Galica,

It is with the deepest regret that I write to offer my sympathy in the death of your cousin, Staff Sergeant Stanley J. Marek, 36,037,439.

Mrs. Sophia Galica
4524 South Laflin Street
Chicago, Illinois

Dear Mrs. Galica:

I am inclosing a check for $5.34, representing funds of your cousin, Staff Sergeant Stanley F. Marek.

No other property belonging to him has been received at the Army Effects Bureau to date.

Our action in transmitting funds does not, of itself, vest title in the recipient. Such property is forwarded for distribution according to the laws of the state of decedent's legal residence.

Money ordinarily is sent from overseas by mail in advance of other effects; therefore, it is probable that additional belongings of decedent will reach this Bureau at a later date. As it is intended to forward any such property to you promptly upon receipt here, I ask that you please notify this Bureau if there is a change in your address within the next few months.

I wish to express my sympathy in the loss of your cousin.

Sincerely,

C. B. QUINN
